Apply to the Early Identification Program

The Early Identification

Program provides intensive medical school preparation during two summer sessions at the Virginia Tech Carilion School of Medicine in Roanoke, Virginia, each year the Early Identification Program accepts two underrepresented or underserved students in Medicine into the program.

Therefore, at this time, I wanted to ensure that the each of the Cultural and Community Centers and other diverse academic programs were aware of this tremendously advantageous opportunity that students may not be aware.

Additionally, I have added our Health Professions Advising (HPA) team within the Career and Professional Development office to ensure the accuracy of technical or medical related questions that students may have going forward.

Scholarships

Apply now!

AMS Minority Scholarship

- The AMS Minority Scholarships will award funding to minority students who have been traditionally underrepresented in the sciences, especially Hispanic, Native American, and Black/African American students. Funding for the scholarships is provided by donations made by members of the AMS Giving Program. The two-year scholarship is distributed once per year during freshman and sophomore years (second-year funding depends on successful completion of the first academic year).
- $6000 award
- Deadline: February 8th, 2020
