

1/10/2021

Copyright Release

This document has been requested by the Signature Approval System hosted by the Virginia Tech Graduate School (<https://ess.graduateschool.vt.edu/>) and is submitted along with a PDF copy of my Thesis, "Characterization of Internal Formaldehyde Production within The Pandora Spectrometer Instrument", in partial fulfillment of the requirements for the degree of Master of Science in Electrical Engineering.

I, Nash Kocur, claim copyright protection for my master's Thesis, "Characterization of Internal Formaldehyde Production within The Pandora Spectrometer Instrument" (2020). In accordance with VT Graduate School requirements, I hereby grant to Virginia Tech and its agents the nonexclusive license to archive and make accessible, immediately, my thesis or dissertation in whole in all forms of media, now or hereafter known. I retain all ownership rights to the copyright of the thesis or dissertation. I also retain the right to use in future works (such as articles or books) all or part of this thesis or dissertation.