References

1-Garber .N.J and Hoel L.A.,'Traffic and Highway Engineering', Brooks /Cole Publishing Co. , 2nd Edition 1999,p133.

2-Traffic safety facts 1998, DOT HS 808956, National Highway Traffic Safety Administration NHTSA .

3- Symposium on Effective Highway Accidents Countermeasures, U.S. DOT, FHWA and NHTSA, Washington, D.C., August 1990.

4- Safety Management system, U.S. Department of Transportation, FHWA-HI-95-012, February 1995.

5- Traffic safety facts 1998 – State Traffic Data, DOT HS 808 962, National Highway Traffic Safety Administration NHTSA.

6- Rural Areas Traffic safety facts 1996, National Highway Traffic Safety Administration NHTSA, www.nhtsa.dot.gov/people/ncsa/FactPrev/Rural96.html

7- Rural and Urban Crashes: A comparative Analysis, NHTSA, DOT HS 808 450, August 1996.

8- McKeever B.B., Working Paper:Estimating the Potential Safety Benefits of Intelligent Transportation Systems, Mitretek Systems ,November 1998.

9- Blincoe L. J., The Economic Cost of Motor Vehicle Crashes 1994, NHTSA, www.nhtsa.dot.gov/people/economic/ecomvc1994.html

10- "ITS enhance Safety", ITS Electronic Document Library (EDL) – Document Catalog, document # 12003 www.itsdocs/fhwa.dot.gov/ipodocs/briefing/99f01!.pdf

11- Kahane Charles J., Evaluation of FMVSS 214 - Side Impact Protection: Dynamic Performance Requirement, NHTSA Report Number DOT HS 809 004, October 1999.

12- Weiland Richard J.,Purser Lara, "Intelligent Transportation Systems", A5009 committee on Intelligent Transportation Systems, TRB,1999.

13- McKeever Benjamin B., "Working Paper: Estimating the Potential Safety Benefits of Intelligent Transportation Systems" Mitretek Systems,November 1998.

14- "Rural ITS, TechBreif", FHWA-RD-99- 102, April 1999.

15- Advanced Rural Transportation Systems (ARTS), ITS Electronic Document Library (EDL)- Document Catalogue, Document # 2683, Jan 1997, www.itsdocs.fhwa.gov/jpodocs/briefing/22j01!.pdf

16- "Rural ITS User Need", Science Applications International Corp., prepared for the FHWA, June 1999

17- "Advanced Rural Transportation Systems (ARTS): Strategic Plan, U.S. DOT, August 1997

18- ITS Toolbox For Rural and Small Urban Areas, N.Y. DOT, Castle Rock and Black&Veatch, December 1998.

19- Review of ITS Benefits: Emerging Successes, Mitretek Systems, prepared for the FHWA, September 1996.

20- AHS Precursor Analyses, Activity Area A, Urban and Rural AHS Analysis, Battelle, BRW, and Transportation Research Center, 1994.

21- Recht, P., NHTSA, Presentation at the ITS America Sixth Annual Meeting, April 1996.

22- Evanco, W., "Reducing Accident Fatalities With Rural Mayday Systems", Miterek Systems, Inc., WN96WO000048, April 1996.

23- Review Of The National Automated Highway System Research Program, Special Report 253, TRB, National Research Council, 1998.

24- Najm W.G. et al., " Comparative Assessment Of Crash Causal Factors And IVHS Countermeasures", IVHS AMERICA 4th Annual Meeting, Atlanta, Georgia, April 1994.

25- Collision Countermeasures Systems Task-Phase 1 Summary Report, ITS Electronic Document Library (EDL), Document # 2448, http://ahs.volpe.dot.gov/avcsdoc/ccsphas1.html

26- P. Fancher, L. Kostyniuk, D. Massie, R. Ervin, K. Gilbert, M. Reiley, C. Mink, S. Bogard, and P. Zoratti. Potential Safety Applications Of Advanced Technology, Federal Highway Administration, U. S. DOT, Report No. FHWA-RD-93-080, January, 1994.

27- Idaho Storm Warning System (Idaho SWS), FHWA, ITS operational Test Program, February 1996.

28- Leasure, W., and Burgett, A., "NHTSA'S IVHS Collision Avoidance Research Program: Strategic Plan and Status Update", ITS America and NHTSA Workshop Proceedings, Reston Virginia, March 1994.

29- Examination of Reduced Visibility Crashes and Potential IVHS Countermeasures, NHTSA,DOT HS 808 201, 1995.

30- Allen, R.W., "The driver's role in Collision Avoidance Systems", ITS America and NHTSA Workshop Proceedings, Reston Virginia, March 1994.

31- Advanced Vehicle Collision Safety Systems, NHTSA, ITS Electronic Document Library (EDL), Document # 2683. Jan 1997, www.itsdocs.fhwa.gov/jpodocs/briefing/22j01!.pdf

32- "Collision Countermeasures & Related Systems", NHTSA, Office of Crash Avoidance, www-nrd.nhtsa.dot.gov/crash-avoidance/research_areas.htm , February 2000.

33- IVHS Countermeasures for Rear-End Collisions, Task 1Volume I: Summary, NHTSA, DOT HS 808 561, February1994.

34- Spectrum Requirement for Dedicated Short Range Communications: Public Safety and Commercial applications, Turner-Fairbank Research Center for FHWA, July 1996.

35- A Preliminary Assessment of Algorithms for Drowsy and Inattentive Driver Detection on the Road, National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, DOT HS 808 (TBD), March 1999.

36- Examination of Reduced Visibility Crashes and Potential Visibility Crashes and Potential, John A. Volpe National Transportation Systems Center, for NHTSA, DOT HS 808 201, January 1995.

37- Aggressive Driving and The Law Symposium, Summary report, FHWA & NHTSA, May 1999.

38- Shiekh, L., "Citizens Against Speeding and Aggressive Driving", Aggressive Driving and The Law Symposium, Summary report, FHWA & NHTSA, May 1999.

39- "Findings and Recommendations", Aggressive Driving and The Law Symposium, Summary report, FHWA & NHTSA, May 1999.

40- Turner,S., and Polk, A., "Overview of Automated Enforcement in Transportation", prepared for ITE journal ,June 1998.

41- Red Light Camera Technology, Stop Red Light Running program website, FHWA, www.fhwa.dot.gov/////////stoprlr/camr/camrtech.htm

42- Rodney E. Slater U.S. Transportation Secretary, Press release, DOT, office of public affairs, www.fhwa.dot.gov////////pressroom/fhwa0009.htm

43- Red Light Camera Effectiveness, Stop Red Light Running program website, FHWA, www.fhwa.dot.gov/////////stoprlr/camr/camreffc.htm

44- Fleck J. L., and Smith B.," Can We Make Red Light Runners Stop? : Red Light Photo Enforcement in San Francisco", California, March 1999.

45- Popolizio, Rudolph E. 1995. "New York City's Red Light Camera Demonstration." *1995 Compendium of Technical Paper*s. Washington, DC: Institute of Transportation Engineers.