

MAKING SENSE IN NINETEENTH-CENTURY BRITAIN:
AFFINITIES OF THE PHILOSOPHY OF MIND, c.1820-1860

Thomas William Staley

A dissertation submitted to the faculty of Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University in partial fulfillment of the requirements for the degree of

Doctor of Philosophy

in

Science & Technology Studies

Joseph C. Pitt (chair)
Richard M. Burian
Mordechai Feingold
Ellsworth Fuhrman
Ann F. Laberge

January 20, 2004
Blacksburg, VA

KEYWORDS: History of Philosophy of Mind, History of Psychology, Alexander Bain, Thomas Brown, Sir William Hamilton, James Mill, Associationism, Common Sense Philosophy.

Copyright 2004, Thomas W. Staley