Subject: Permission to use an image for academic work

To whom it may concern,

I preparing a dissertation proposal for work on Clostridium difficile infections. I have found a 2006 article named "Clostridium difficile-associated disease: New challenges from an established pathogen" by Sunenshine and McDonald. I was wondering if it would be ok to obtain permission to use Figure 3 for my proposal as part of the literature review. This will only be used for proposal purposes and will not be used for any other reasons.

I appreciate your help,

Jose Jimenez
