If you need some kind of official permissions document, I can provide one, just let me know. Otherwise, know that we are fine with your reproducing the chart with appropriate source documentation, especially author credit.

Regards,
Esther

To whom it may concern,

I am writing my dissertation and need to ask permission to include a chart in my document. I looked on the CALICO site and did not see a link or information for permission request. Would you be able to provide me with information regarding this issue?
