Dear Bei Xie :

The IEEE does not require individuals working on a thesis to obtain a formal reuse license, however, you may print out this statement to be used as a permission grant:

Requirements to be followed when using any portion (e.g., figure, graph, table, or textual material) of an IEEE copyrighted paper in a thesis:

1) In the case of textual material (e.g., using short quotes or referring to the work within these papers) users must give full credit to the original source (author, paper, publication) followed by the IEEE copyright line ©© [year of original publication] IEEE.

2) In the case of illustrations or tabular material, we require that the copyright line © [Year of original publication] IEEE appear prominently with each reprinted figure and/or table

Presently for requesters asking to use IEEE copyrighted material in their theses, we're granting permission by email. However, we are directing requesters of IEEE copyrighted material for other purposes to RightsLink, as we are now in partnership with Copyright Clearance Center's RightsLink® service. Very shortly we will also be directing to RightsLink all requesters of IEEE copyrighted material to be used in their theses to RightsLink, so below are simple instructions to follow at RightsLink for your next permission request:

In the future, please go to RightsLink for your requests for IEEE copyrighted material, by following these simple instructions:

1. Please go to <http://ieeexplore.ieee.org/Xplore/guesthome.jsp>
2. Type the title of the first IEEE copyrighted paper into the Search Bar.
3. The IEEE copyrighted paper's title will appear in the Search Results. Click on the underlined title.
5. Next, click on the orange "Request Permissions" link, which can be found under the IEEE paper title.
6. Create a RightsLink account, select the reuse preferences and obtain permission for the IEEE content requested.
7. Continue the process for any material desired from each IEEE copyrighted paper.

If you have any questions or comments about this process, please direct them to pubs-permissions@ieee.org. Thank you.

Sincerely,

Jacqueline Hansson, Coordinator

Dear Mr. Margulies,

My name is Bei Xie. I am a graduate student pursuing Ph.D in Electrical Engineering at Virginia Tech. I am working on my Dissertation. I need permission to include some of the results from the paper that I got accepted by the Wireless Innovation Forum 2011. The following is the list of paper:

Title: Tracking Performance of the MMax Conjugate Gradient Algorithm

Authors: B. Xie and T. Bose

Please let me know if any further information is required. Thank you very much.

Sincerely,

Bei Xie

Dear Bei Xie,

Thank you for your e-mail.

As long as the copyright is followed there is no problem what so ever. Please do not forget to mention where the paper was presented and published.

Best regards,

Bruno Encarnação
