

Vita

Balazs Gergely Zombori was born in Budapest, Hungary in May 21st. 1970. He graduated from the High School of Piarist in Budapest, Hungary in 1988. He received his Bachelor of Science in Wood Technology in 1994 from the University of Forestry and Wood Science, Sopron, Hungary. He pursued a Master of Science in Timber Engineering degree at the Buckinghamshire College, High Wycombe, England and defended successfully in 1995. He enrolled to the Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University in the Fall of 1996 to earn a Doctor of Philosophy in Wood Science and Forest Products degree and completed in May 2001. He specialized in the area of wood-based composite development, with an emphasis on the modeling and optimization of the production process to improve the final properties of the finished boards.