

VITA
Marvin Harris McGinnis

Born: Bedford City, Virginia

Education: B.A., University of Virginia, Communications and Rhetorical Theory
Charlottesville, Virginia, 1987

Master of Teaching, University of Virginia
Charlottesville, Virginia, 1991

Advance Graduate Studies, Virginia Polytechnic Institute, Educational Leadership
Blacksburg, Virginia, 2001

Endorsements: Elementary School Principal
Middle School Principal
High School Principal
Secondary Social Sciences

License: State of Virginia: Post Graduate Certificate

Experiences: Middle/High School Classroom Teacher
Bedford County, 1991-1994

Elementary School Assistant Principal
Bedford, County, 1994-1998

Middle School Assistant Principal
Franklin County, 1998-2000

Elementary Principal
Bedford County, 2000-present

Professional

Development: Southern Association of Colleges and Schools

Professional

Organization: ASCD

National Association of Elementary School Principals
Virginia Association of Elementary School Principals

Philosophy

of Education: Learning is only as strong as those who implant it. Instructional leadership is the foundation on which learning is built. It is the mission of educators to model leadership to promote effective teaching principles that engage learners in becoming active participants, good citizens, and lifelong learners.