I am grateful for the support and encouragement offered by the faculty and staff of Virginia Tech Center for Public Administration and Policy. There were times I wanted to quit, but words of encouragement and support kept me focused and mindful of how far I had already come. When I started the doctoral program, I struggled to find my voice. Careful mentoring and wise leadership helped me do just that. I enjoyed every aspect of this experience because it allowed me to grow as a government employee and apply the lessons I learned through classroom discussions and interaction with other CPAP students and faculty.

I am most thankful for my diverse committee. My Committee Chair, Dr. James F. Wolf, was extremely patient as he diligently helped me frame my ideas into a coherent work. Dr. Susan T. Gooden provided a reasoned approach and helped me voice my passion for the subject without the unnecessary emotion. She held me accountable for my words and helped me clarify my position, and stayed on my committee after leaving Virginia Tech. Dr. Joseph V. Rees carefully watched me mature and provided reassurance when I began to doubt that I had something worthwhile to say. Dr. Orion F. White did not have to stay on my committee after he retired, but honored his commitment to me. Thank you, Orion. My prayer is that I will live up to the standard of excellence each of you exhibits in your work. Thanks for your wise counsel, careful mentorship, and instilling in me an increased love for public service.

Mr. Michael D. Collins and the staff and employees at the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation made the work for this degree possible. I appreciated your willingness to let me come into your work place and hear your thoughts. I am grateful to each of the individuals listed: Ms. Shirley Martinez, Deputy Assistant Secretary for Equal Opportunity (Manpower & Reserve Affairs), Department of the Air Force; Ms. Allison Johnson, President & Founder, The Lee Johnson Group; Mr. Roger Able, Mobilization Officer, Department of the Army; Ms. Carole Lieber, Chief, Equal Employment Opportunity and Cultural Diversity, Defense Information Systems Agency (DISA); CH(COL) James W. Daniels, Director, Plans, Policy Development and Training, Office of the Chief of Chaplains, Department of the Army. .

To my wonderful children, Anthony and Rachel, I love you. I could not have done this work without your support and love. I know you are proud of me, I see it in your eyes and I feel it in your hugs. I love you both so much.

To my best friend, Dr. Shirley Wilbert, you have mentored and encouraged me for more than twenty years, had faith in my ability, and held my hand when times were hard. Thanks Shirl.
