

Vita

Tomoya Thomas Ochinero was born on April 27, 1974 in Yokohama, Japan. He graduated from St. Mary's International School in Setagaya, Tokyo in 1992. He enrolled at the University of Rochester in Rochester, New York and completed his Bachelors degree in Mechanical Engineering in 1996. Immediately thereafter he completed his Masters of Science in Material Science in 1997 at the University of Rochester. After completion of his Masters degree, he enrolled at the Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University (Virginia Tech), Department of Engineering Science and Mechanics, in Blacksburg, Virginia in the NASA-Virginia Tech Composites Program. Upon completion of his Ph.D. degree in 2001, he accepted a position with Goldman Sachs & Co. in the Global Convertible Bonds group in Tokyo, Japan.