Newport News Public Schools
Attendance Policy
Student Attendance Policy

The Newport News Public School division is committed to the academic success of all students and to the belief that all students can learn. Consistent with the school division’s mission to provide students with the opportunity to achieve full development of their potential through the acquisition of values, attitudes, knowledge, and skills essential to becoming productive adults, the school division requires that students attend school daily so that they will receive the maximum benefit from the instructional program and develop habits of punctuality, self-discipline, and responsibility.

All parties involved in the educational process will work cooperatively to keep absences and tardies to a minimum. Student attendance at school is the responsibility of students and parents. In order for parents to fulfill their responsibility, the school will keep parents informed of student absences and parents will keep the school informed when their child is absent.

Within one calendar month of the opening of school, the principal of each school will send to the parents or guardian of each student enrolled in the school a copy of the compulsory school attendance requirements of law and the enforcement procedures and policies established by the School Board.

Students are expected to:
- attend school every day and to be punctual
- demonstrate responsible behaviors
- participate in classroom activities

Parents/Guardians are expected to:
- keep records of their child’s attendance
- notify the school of student absences
- contact the school and request make-up work during the student’s absences
- attend all scheduled parent/principal/teacher meetings
- assist the school in enforcing the standards of student attendance

Administrators and Teachers are expected to:
- provide a relevant, up-to-date curriculum and create a positive learning environment
- keep accurate attendance records
- provide make-up work to students
- maintain positive home/school relations by contacting parents/guardian
- distribute copies of the attendance policy and procedures to all students
- explain the attendance policy and procedures to all students

Attendance

Attendance on a daily basis is a mandatory requirement of all students. The Code of Virginia, Section 22.1-254, requires that all children who have reached their fifth birthday on or before September 30 and who have not yet reached their 18th birthday must attend school. This requirement does not apply to any child who has obtained a high school diploma, its equivalent, or a certificate of completion or who is exempted pursuant to the provisions of the law. Division attendance personnel are authorized to initiate petitions to begin judicial proceedings when a child is absent in violation of the compulsory school attendance law.

In accord with the Code of Virginia, which states that “Every teacher in every school in the Commonwealth shall keep an accurate daily record of attendance of all children,” the teacher’s class record is the official record of student attendance.

Field trips, athletic events, student government activities, and other functions sanctioned by the school are normal school activities and students are considered to be present when attending these events.

Absences

Students are expected to be in school every day. If a student must be absent, on the first day of such absence, the parent or guardian is responsible for contacting the school by phone, note or other means in order to explain the absence. For any absence, the parent/guardian, within two days of the student’s return to school, must send a note providing dates of and reasons for the absences. This note will be maintained until the end of the school year for the purposes of documentation. A parent does not need to contact the school when absences have been prearranged.

Middle and high school students may fail or may not be promoted depending on the number of absences accrued or whether or not they successfully complete a redemptive option. A redemptive option is an opportunity for the student to make up the time he/she has missed from school and, thus, avoid the sanctions.

ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

When a student accumulates more than five (5) absences in an academic year for reasons other than those which exempt the student from the sanctions of the attendance policy and all school interventions have been unsuccessful, the student and parent(s) may be referred to the Juvenile and Domestic Relations Court.

MIDDLE SCHOOL

Middle school students who have more than five (5) absences in a marking period due to reasons other than those which exempt the student from the sanctions of the attendance policy will fail for the marking period.

A middle school student who has more than eighteen (18) absences in an academic year due to reasons other than those which exempt the student from the sanctions of the attendance policy will not be promoted to the next grade.

A middle school student who is absent more than eighteen (18) days during the academic year for any reason will be subject to an administrative review to determine a need for support services. A referral to the Juvenile and Domestic Relations Court may occur when attendance problems/concerns arise.

There will be in each middle school a redemptive option for students who face sanctions for excessive absences. This redemptive option will provide an opportunity for students to address attendance deficiencies that have caused them to be subject to the sanctions of the attendance policy. A student will have no more than 10 administrative working days beyond the end of the marking period or year (whichever is applicable) to fulfill a redemptive option. After the close of a marking period or year, the maximum number of days that can be redeemed to avoid a sanction will be two days.

HIGH SCHOOL

High school students who have more than five (5) absences in a marking period from any class due to reasons other than those which exempt the student from the sanctions of the attendance policy will fail the class for the marking period.

A high school student who has more than nine (9) absences in any class in a semester due to reasons other than those which exempt the student from the sanctions of the attendance policy will fail the class for the semester.

A high school student who has more than nine (9) absences in a semester for any reason will be subject to an administrative review to determine a need for support services. A referral to the Juvenile and Domestic Relations Court may occur when attendance problems/concerns arise.

There will be in each high school a redemptive option for students who face sanctions for excessive absences. This redemptive option will provide an opportunity for students to address attendance deficiencies that have caused them to be subject to the sanctions of the attendance policy. A student will have no more than 10 administrative working days beyond the end of the marking period or semester (whichever is applicable) to fulfill a redemptive option. After the close of a marking period or semester, the maximum number of days that can be redeemed to avoid a sanction will be two days.

Absences Exempt from the Sanctions of the Policy

The following conditions provide the only acceptable reasons for a student's absence from school. Absences for these reasons would cause the student to be exempt from the sanctions of the attendance policy.

Student Illness - When a student is unable to attend school due to an illness, a note written by the parent or a physician documenting the illness will provide evidence of the illness for the school records.

Chronic/Extended Illness - For students who are absent because of chronic illnesses, a disability, or because of a need for homebound services, the parent must complete a chronic/extended illness notification form with the principal at the beginning of the enrollment of the student in school or upon onset of the student condition that affects regular attendance. Documentation from a physician will be required. For students who are absent more than ten days in a month and/or who exhibit defined patterns of absences, the parent will be required to complete a chronic/extended illness notification form. Documentation from a physician will be required. If the parent does not the principal will review the child's attendance for needed services and/or applicable sanctions of the attendance policy, i.e., the child may fail the course(s) or not be promoted.

Prearranged Appointments - For appointments with the court, social services, or other state agencies and appointments with health care providers, official documentation must be presented to the school.

Family Death or Emergency - For absences because of a death in the family or an emergency beyond the family's control, the parent must notify the school and provide documentation for the absence.

Religious Observances - Absences as a result of observances of religious holidays should be prearranged by the parent, who is responsible for notifying the child's school of the religious holidays to be observed. The request for exemption must be received no later than the second day after the child returns to school from the absence occasioned by the religious observance.

Exclusions/Suspensions - For absences because of an exclusion or suspension, the parent will be notified of the suspension/exclusion and the date when the student will be expected to return to school. The student must return on the indicated date.

Exceptional Circumstances - The principal may approve prearranged absences for situations in which an exemption from attendance appears to be in the best interests of the student and his/her family. In documented, extenuating circumstances, the principal may approve an absence after-the-fact as exempt from the sanctions of the attendance policy. No more than five (5) days may be approved by the principal for exceptional circumstances during a school year. For requests of more than five (5) days, the request must be endorsed by the principal and approved by the superintendent/designee.

Perfect Attendance

For purposes of determining perfect attendance, the student must be in attendance for at least 50% of the day to be counted as present for the school day. Pre-arranged absences for religious observances will not count against perfect attendance.

Tardies

Tardiness to school or to class is addressed as a discipline issue in the Rights and Responsibilities Handbook.

Make-Up Work

When students are absent, an opportunity to make up work will be provided. Make-up work is encouraged so that students will profit from future instruction. In middle and high school, it is the student's responsibility to ask the teacher for the make-up work. Work (including tests) missed due to an absence may be made up and credit given for such work. Upon the student's return to school, he/she must make up the work within five school days. Additional time may be granted by the principal due to extenuating circumstances. A student will not be penalized for a teacher's absence.

Students are encouraged to get make-up work assignments before returning to school. They may do this by:

Absence of one or two days: Contact a friend in class to obtain information on work missed.

Absence of three or more days: Call the school office requesting assignments remembering that teachers need 24 hours to prepare assignments.

Schools will provide interventions and alternative educational options for students who fail to make academic progress as a result of attendance problems.

An Appeal Process will be available to parents/guardians when a student has failed a subject or failed to be promoted due to lack of attendance.

The Superintendent will develop procedures that will enforce the Attendance Policy of the Newport News School Board and the provisions of the Code of Virginia 22.1-258.

Three ratings will be used to identify if the statements have an association to the attendance policy, are clear, and appropriate to gather information on the attendance policy and program. The first rating will tell the researcher how strongly you feel the statement is associated with the attendance policy and program (SRS).

Association Rating Scale
3 - strong
2 - somewhat strong
1 – weak

The second rating will indicate the clarity of the statement.

Clarity Rating Scale
3 - strong
2 - somewhat strong
1 - weak

The third will indicate the appropriateness of the statement to the attendance policy and program.

 Appropriateness Rating Scale
Yes - appropriate
No - not appropriate

Please read the statements that follow and check the category that you think best fit.

Thank you for your time and assistance.

Abstract:

The purpose of this quantitative study is to determine the effect of the attendance policy and attendance program after one year of implementation in an urban Eastern Virginia school division with total high school population of approximately 5,820 students.

Methodology/Findings/Significance. This multi-faceted study will examined the impact of this new policy by conducting statistical analyses of attendance data, programmatic data, and surveys of students, parents, and teachers. This will allow for the examination of the question, for example, whether there is a differential impact of the policy among the grades (9, 10, 11) during the 1996-1997 school year with respect to high school attendance after adjusting for initial differences on the 1995-1996 high school attendance through the use of an analysis of covariance. Additionally, the perceptions of students, parents, and teachers regarding the new attendance policy will be examined along with the degree to which a specially-designed program, Saturday Redemptive School, will effect the academic pass rate of participants. Findings will show whether or not policy and attendance programs may have benefited student attendance. The results of this study will provide valuable data to assist in the formulation of attendance policies for inner-city district level and school-based administrators locally and across the country regarding the effectiveness of school attendance policies and attendance programs.
