and of course

Acknowledgements

I would like to take this opportunity to express my deepest appreciation and gratitude to my advisor, Dr. Thomas C. Ward, a.k.a. “The Boss”, for all of his support throughout my career here at Virginia Tech. He has allowed me the freedom to grow academically and spiritually to become a more independent thinker. The education and fond memories that I have received while being a member of his research group will always be carried with me. I owe a special thanks to Dr. A. R. Schultz and to my committee, Prof. G. L. Wilkes, Prof. J. P. Wightman, Prof. R. G. Kander, and Prof. H. Marand for their guidance and support throughout my graduate career. The concepts learned from their teachings were very helpful to me, and I hope to one day follow their examples and give something back to the academic community, just as they have.

I acknowledge all of the secretaries in the NSF center, Mrs. Joyce Moser, Mrs. Esther Brann, Mrs. Mille, and Mrs. Laurie Good. Without their help, life would have been a lot more difficult. I would also sincerely like to thank the Center for Adhesive and Sealant Science (CASS) and the Adhesive and Sealant Council (ASC) for all of their financial support. More importantly, I would like to give a special thanks to the members of the “Glue Crew”- Mrs. Linda Haney, Mrs. Katy Hatfield, Mrs. Kim Mills, Mrs. Tammy Joe Hiner, and of course, the CASS director, Dr. John G. Dillard. I always appreciated the interest that he showed in everyone’s work and the nice letters that I received from him after each and every seminar.

I would like to thank Dr. Sukhtej Dhingra for all of his help and discussions regarding my research. I wish to thank Brett Kite for helping me with the molecular simulations, and Dr. Medhi for the super critical solutions work.

I wish to express my thanks and joy to the PolyPkem group – Saikat, Parko, Vrana, Tony, Dan, Dave, Muggli, Ojin, Rob, Jian Li, Amy, Jen, and Sandra - for all of their friendship. We have really had some great times together in the lab, at conferences, at happy hours, and of course, cookouts and tailgates. I don’t think that I could have ever imagined a more perfect working environment for myself. In addition to being coworkers, you have truly shown yourselves to be friends.

I would also like to thank my roommates and other friends from Virginia Tech, Volker, Scott, Violeta (and her lovely sisters), Lars, Anders, Mike, Thierry, Dilip, Batsi, Virginie, Watson, JT, Line, Len, and Aaron, for a great time I had in Blacksburg.

Last and most important, I would like to thank the ones who are closest to my heart. I greatly appreciate my parents, Richard and Shirley, for all of their inspiration and undying support and for sacrificing to give me the opportunities that they were not able to have. My wonderful brother and sisters, Randy, Miki, and Gigi, whose love and constant encouragement over the years was always there, especially when I needed it the most. A special thank you goes to “BP” whose unconditional love and support have made me the luckiest man on the face of the planet.
