I would like to thank my advisor Ahmad Safaai-Jazi for serving as my academic advisor, and providing me an interesting topic for my thesis. He has always advised me whenever I need help. My thesis would not be completed without him. I would also like to thank my committee member, Dr. Warren L. Stutzman and Ioannis M. Besieris, for their valuable advice.

Special thanks go to Dr. Bernard E. La Berge for giving me an opportunity to attend at Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University. I am also thankful to the Military Attache of Royal Thai Army, Col. Jerdwut Kraprayoon and his staffs, for suggestions on every concerns.

Appreciation is extended for the financial assistance received by Royal Thai Army Radio and Television Station and Royal Thai Army.

Many thanks to my fellow graduate students, friends, and technicians, particularly Wachira Chongburi, Sathon Vijanwannaluk, Jeong Il Kim, Promjit Jutabha, and Randall Nealy. You have made the pursuit of my degree and my stay at VT most enjoyable.

Finally, I am deeply indebted to my father, mother, and lovely younger sister, Dusadee, for their everlasting encouragement and support throughout my education.
