Stakeholders own and operate the commercial uses of the community and manage the open-space.
Empower stakeholders and encourage their participation in decision making
Walking and hiking are provided and encouraged throughout the community.
Provide bicycle and walking trails to encourage pedestrian travel
Recycling is encouraged; on site collection is available for community residents.
Promote recycling and resource conservation
Volunteers from the National Park Service are encouraged to have "talks" within the community. These talks will make communits residents more aware of the GSMNP and the surrounding landscape. The Community Association would also become a member and contributior to the FRIENDS of the SMOKIES organization
Revealing life support systems through design provides an educational opportunity for renewable energy, the Farm and community gardens, and the biological treatment of waste.
Encourage volunteers and organizations to become active in education activities
Encourage attachment to place by providing everyday experiences with natural processes
Provide opportunities to educate through interpretative design
Increase awareness of the local environment through educational progams and projects
Not Applicable
Provide access to public transportation
Lifestyle
Social
Top of the World Estates