The image displays a grid of 20 columns and 30 rows. The grid is composed of thin black lines forming a uniform pattern of small squares. There are four vertical lines that act as dividers, creating five distinct vertical sections. The first section on the left is 4 columns wide. The second section is 4 columns wide. The third section is 6 columns wide. The fourth section is 4 columns wide. The fifth section on the right is 6 columns wide. The grid is empty and serves as a template for data entry or calculation.

A sheet of graph paper featuring a grid of 20 rows and 40 columns. Two vertical lines are drawn on each side, creating margins of approximately 3 columns each. The grid lines are thin and black, while the vertical margin lines are slightly thicker. The paper is otherwise blank.
