Bartlett Ashford Bickel

Bart Bickel was born on March 10, 1967 in Washington, DC. Descended from West Virginians on both sides of his family, he experienced sojourns into the Appalachians from an early age. After graduating from Vassar College in 1989, where he studied anthropology, literature, art, geography and history, he lived in San Francisco, California for nearly six years. In 1996 he came 'back east' to pursue studies in landscape architecture at VPI. Graduate study has included a five month stay in Yokohama, Japan as a guest of the Japanese government and further studies in urbanism and preservation at the Washington-Alexandria Architecture Consortium. He has worked as a self-employed landscape designer since 1997. He is currently a landscape architect and land planner with Macris, Hendricks and Glascock, PA in Montgomery Village, Maryland.

Master of Landscape Architecture, Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University, 2006

Bachelor of Arts, Africana Studies and geography, Vassar College, 1989
