Auditorium

The auditorium is a place to meet. The auditorium is located between the courtyard and Holland Lane on the first floor. The stage of the auditorium is expressed as a convex form on the outside façade of the building. The shape helps with the acoustics inside the room. Symbolically the shape tells those outside the building that something special takes place behind that shape. The bulge symbolically expresses all the people meeting inside the mostly square volume. Two columns and a wall provide the structural support within the space and define the seating area as well.
