Classrooms

The classrooms are places to share ideas. They are places in which small groups of people gather to exchange ideas. The classrooms are located overlooking Duke Street. The large windows in the classrooms provide a glimpse of the evening activities for passers-by outside. The classrooms each have built-in coat pegs, storage areas and white boards to accommodate the various classes that are held in each room.

Plan of a typical classroom.

Interior Perspective of a classroom.

Section through courtyard.