

Vita

R. Craig Watson, Jr.

Craig Watson was born October 16, 1972 in Toms River, New Jersey. He graduated from Lacey Township High School in Lanoka Harbor, NJ in June of 1991 and entered Drew University in the fall of the same year. He completed an undergraduate research thesis titled “Capillary Electrophoresis for the Analysis of Toothpastes” with Dr. James Miller while studying at Drew. After graduating with a B.A. in chemistry in 1995, he entered Virginia Tech and began research on time-of-flight mass spectrometry with Dr. Brian M. Tissue to earn a Master of Science degree.