Acknowledgements

Dr. Al-Noor Ebrahim
Dr. A.L. Hammett
Dr. John Levy
Jennifer Wells
Tony and Brenda Robertson
Jason Robertson
Casey, Daniela and Emily Loose
Kimberly Clift-Jenkins
Shannon Meehan
Susan Fleming
Table of Contents

Chapter One - Introduction 1

Chapter Two - The Small-Scale Forest-Based Enterprise 4
  Characteristics 4
  Gathering and Trading Enterprises 7
  Processing and Manufacturing Enterprises 9
  NTFP Enterprises 11
  Patterns of Growth Affecting SSFBEs 12

Chapter Three - The Importance of SSFBEs to People and Rural Livelihood 15
  Employment Issues 15
  Income Contribution 16
  Role of Gender 18
  Rural Household Food Security 19
  Urban SSFBEs 21

Chapter Four - Poverty Alleviation and Forest Conservation 22

Chapter Five - Problems 28

Chapter Six - Furthering Enterprise Development 32
  Processing at the Local Level 32
  Markets 33
  Tapping Local Knowledge 34
  Lessons Learned from SSFBE Development 35

Chapter Seven - Policy Constraints and Points for Action 37
  Land Control and Access Rights 37
  Market Access 38
  Forest Regulations 40

Chapter Eight - Conclusions 42

References 46

Vita 50
Tables

Table 1: General Composition of SSFBEs in Selected Countries  4
Table 2: Characteristics of SSFBEs in Selected Countries  6
Table 3: Rural Livelihood Connections to the Forest  16
Table 4: How do trees and forests help poor people?  22
Table 5: Trees and Forest: A Source of Livelihood for Many People  23
Table 6: SSFBEs and Rural Livelihoods: Room for Improvement  43