Acknowledgements

I owe a very large debt of gratitude to Dr. John Browder, who always believed in my potential as researcher. I am very grateful for his encouragement and support throughout the program, the Rondônia research project, and the writing of this paper.

I would like to thank Dr. Alnoor Ebrahim, who first inspired my interest in civil society and participation, and whose thoughtful comments on draft versions greatly benefited this paper.

I would also like to thank Dr. Earthea Bujanje-Nance for providing many constructive suggestions to improve this paper, and for empowering me to address complex questions related to civil society and participation.

I am would like to thank especially my husband Boris for his great patience and love. I am very grateful for the numerous hours (no matter what time it was) he spent listening to my ideas about this topic, and for his providing very valuable feedback.
