Dear Michael,

Unless your thesis is going to be published or otherwise publicly distributed, you do not need the photographer's permission. The image should nonetheless be credited to Robert Benson Photography, either alongside the photograph or within a credit list. If, at some point in the future, you have an opportunity to publish the thesis, please contact Robert Benson for permission at rbenson@robertbensonphoto.com or 860-951-3004.

I've attached a high-res JPEG that will look better in print than the file you pulled from our website.

Best,

Emma

Subject: Permission to use copyright photo in thesis

Please see the attached photograph of the Ferguson Center for the Arts. With your permission, I would like to use this image in my thesis book. If I need permission from the photographer, can you please send me their contact info as is it not displayed on your website.

Image was copied from link: <http://www.pcf-p.com/a/p/9609/1.html>

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Thank you,
