Dear Mr. Krystek,

I am completing a Master’s Thesis at Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University entitled "The City of Aetheria." I would like your permission to reprint in my thesis the following image of Atlantis from your web site:

The requested permission extends to any future revisions and editions of my thesis, including non-exclusive world rights in all languages, and to the prospective publication of my thesis by UMI Company. These rights will in no way restrict republication of the material in any other form by you or by others authorized by you. Your signing of this letter will also confirm that you own [or your company owns] the copyright to the above-described material. If these arrangements meet with your approval, please sign this letter where indicated below and return it to me.

Thank you very much.

Sincerely,

Dear Martin,

Permission is hereby granted for this use as detailed in your request. No rights fees shall be attendant to this usage due to the educational nature of the publication. Please note, however, in the event that any additional uses of the Le Corbusier work are planned (such as any web use, any cover use, any reproductions in excess of the requested Virginia Tech electronic thesis submission, etc...), additional permission must be obtained in advance from ARS.

Also please include the following copyright credit line:

This authorization includes the non-exclusive worldwide right to reproduce the work(s) in the context of the publication in print and electronic editions and through the following third-party services: EBSCOHost, JSTOR, Project MUSE. Any use outside of what is specified above will require additional permission and may require fees.

Any other uses (including, but not limited to advertisements, web display, brochures, etc) are subject to the review and approval of ARS and may be subject to licensing fees.

Please note: One gratis copy of the publication is required by ARS. Please send the gratis copy as well as copy of this letter of permissions to my attention at the address listed below.

If you have any further questions, feel free to contact me.

Subject: RE: Copyright permission for Le Corbusier drawings

Hannah,

Virginia Tech now uses an electronic submission for thesis submission in lieu of print. Attached is the research portion with the proposed images on page 39 and 40 of this draft copy with citations for images in Appendix A. Please note that I have not yet submitted the file so any changes you request can be easily accommodated. Le Corbusier is one of my favorite architects and I hope that permission will be granted to use these images, however I can also remove them if directed.

Your assistance with this matter is greatly appreciated.

Sincerely,

Martin K. Huck, RA
