FOREWARD

With the tremendous renewed interest in draft horses and mules, our industry needs a directory of breeders for communication and market development. As an educational service and requested by the newly formed Virginia Draft Horse and Mule Association, the Virginia Cooperative Extension Service compiled and published this initial directory. A word of appreciation is noted for the excellent work that all county and city Extension units and volunteers did in surveying the owners to assemble this list. The list is not a complete one but is an excellent beginning. Changes and additions for future publication should be sent on to the Virginia Draft Horse & Mule Association. One copy of the directory is being sent to each Extension office for file records and one copy of the directory is being sent to all individuals and organizations listed in the directory.
