Alabama Baitfish and Sportfish

Alabama producers spend an estimated $184,000 year on regulatory compliance.

This breaks down to an average cost of $30,716/farm, or $455/acre.

On average Alabama producers are faced with 4 permit and license renewals per year. Some report in excess of 10 annual renewals.

Regulations account for about 7% of farm costs.

Permits and licenses account for 5% of regulatory costs. 95% of costs are indirect costs of compliance.