

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS:

I thank my advisor, Dr. Jeff Walters, and my committee members for helping to get me through this project.

I thank my parents, my mother for instilling in me respect for all living things and my father for instilling or trying to instill in me some common sense. I also thank Apostolos for the hours and hours of torture he endured listening to the results of my never-ending analyses and for teaching me to use MATLAB. I thank Sergio for our weekly lunches, his insight and encouragement.

I thank Marcia Wilson for giving me the opportunity of a lifetime, to study the vocal behavior of the Puerto Rican Parrot, and Hernan Abreu for teaching me the ways of the parrots. I thank Ricardo Valentin for being a good friend and for keeping me focused. I also thank Morris Ford for showing me the best recording techniques and Keith and Michelle Pardieck and Angela Arendt for all their encouragement.

Lastly, many thanks to everyone who walked the trails with me.
