Dear Robin,

It was nice talking to you as well, and good to hear of your interest in Crow Island School. It's one of my favorites.

In reference to your email below, I am happy to grant permission for one-time use of the eight photographs from my book, with citations as specified.

Good luck with your thesis, and let me know if you need anything else.

Best regards,

Tom

Subject: Figure Permission

Dear Mr. Hille,

Thank you for speaking with me today. I understand from Wiley Global Permissions that their rights to the photographs used in your book, Modern Schools: A Century of Design for Education, have been terminated and that I need to obtain permission from you in order to reproduce Figures 8-14, 8-15, 8-16, 8-18, 8-19, 8-23, 8-30 and 8-35 in my thesis. Please confirm receipt of this email and let me know that I have your permission. As we discussed, I will add your name, copyright and "all rights reserved" to each of the photos and cite your book in my bibliography.

Thank you,

Robin Z. Puttock, AIA
