What Is Good Citizenship?

Hello, I'm _____
and I am ready to have some fun and to practice being a good citizen. So let's get started and explore this thing called citizenship!

Did you say, "What's citizenship?"
Citizenship is how we talk and act toward each other. Also, how we think and feel about each other. It is our relationship with other people.

Good citizenship is showing concern for ourselves and others around us. A good citizen treats others as he or she would like to be treated. Ask yourself the following questions:

(Check One)
Yes	No	Sometimes
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	Do I think of safety for myself and others before I do something?
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	Do I consider other people's feelings before I say or do something that may hurt them?
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	Do I accept other people who are different from me and try to make friends with them?

Never A lot

Sometimes

All the time

Here are some things about me I would like to change: _____

When I am feeling blue or sad and lonely I usually

- Go to my room and cry
- Call a friend
- Watch T.V.
- Work on my hobby
- Read a book
- Ask mom or dad if I can help them
- Other

Sometimes there is something about ourselves that we don't like, but we can't change it. Maybe it's our height, or the color of our eyes. We must learn to live with those things we can't change. Do you have something about yourself that you just have to accept?

- Yes No

If so, will you accept it and not be too hard on yourself?

- Yes No

(I hope you answered yes 'cause I like you just the way you are!)

Things To Do

Do one or more of the following

1. Look over the “Things I Like to Do” page. Make the thing that you said you would like to make. Share it with someone else or make another for them.
2. How’s your health? Ask your parents if it’s time for you to go to the doctor or dentist. If so, ask them to help you make an appointment.
3. If you take music lessons, set up a time to practice each day and keep a record of how long you practice.

4. Name one food you don’t like that you ought to. Try to learn to like this food by eating small amounts of it when it’s served.
5. If you own a pet, treat it like a friend. Feed it on time and keep it clean. Do something “extra nice” for it.

Part Two
My Family: The People I Live With

There are _____ people in my family.

Let's meet them!

Most families not only work together but they do some “just for fun” things, too.

Some family fun things are done indoors, some are done outdoors. Some we play ourselves and others we just watch.

Here are some things I have done or watched with members of my family.

Getting Along At Home

I get along with my family

- Very well
- Pretty well
- Not too well
- Not at all

Sometimes we forget that the other members of our family are real people, too. They have feelings which get hurt just like ours.

We need to understand how they feel before we say or do something that will upset them. If we think about this before we speak or act, we'll get along with them much better.

17. I stop teasing family members before they get angry.	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
18. I really try to make our home a happy place.	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

How did you do?
 If you checked “no” or “sometimes” quite often, you may want to improve in those areas where you know you can be the best example of a good citizen in your own home. You can help bring your family even closer together.

Things To Do

Do one or more of the following

- 1. Ask your family to all join in a “camp in” at home! Spend a whole day and/or night together without radio, record player, or other things to distract you. Just play games, sit around and talk, do things you would do at camp, and enjoy each other.
- 2. Make your own birthday card for the members of your family on their birthdays.
- 3. Complete your family tree and frame it. Hang it up in your house so everyone can enjoy it.
- 4. Ask your parents to take you to visit the place where they work.

- 5. Take on a new job around your home that you are willing to be responsible for. Ask your parents for their help in deciding what you’ll do.
- 6. Ask your parents to help you plan a “just for fun” thing for your family. Take a leading part in carrying out your plan.

At home, we develop habits which will help us form warm relationships with others. This will lead to real friendships, and we all need real friends, don’t we? So now, let’s learn about friends.

Part Three

My Friends, The Other People I Like

Friends are people whom you like and trust.

There are about _____ people whom I call friends. (how many) _____ are girls and _____ are boys.

Not all my friends are the same. They are young and old; they are male and female. Here is a list of my different friends.

Names

A younger friend - boy _____

A younger friend - girl _____

A friend my age - boy _____

A friend my age - girl _____

A teen-age friend - boy _____

An elderly friend - woman _____

Not all my friends are people. Some friends of mine that are not people are

1. _____
2. _____
3. _____
4. _____

I like my friends for these reasons:

1. _____
2. _____
3. _____

Here are some things I like to do with my friends:

1. _____
2. _____
3. _____
4. _____
5. _____
6. _____

Many songs have been sung about friends. People like to sing about friendship. Can you think of two songs about friends?

1. _____
2. _____

The most important things I give my friends are

1. _____
2. _____

We all need friends and people who care for us. In this booklet, I have learned about myself, my family, and my friends. Now I'll be able to meet new friends more easily.

In the next unit, I will learn about getting along with others in my neighborhood and school. Being a good citizen means getting along with and accepting other people at home, in my neighborhood and at school.

So let's get out, have fun, meet people, be good to them, and make friends, because...

*“No one is a stranger,
but just a friend you haven't met”*

—Dorothy Emerson

Things to do

Do one or more of the following

1. Make a new friend.
2. Do something nice for an elderly friend.
3. Plan to do something with one or more of your friends.
4. Make up your own song about a friend or friends.
5. Draw a picture of something you like to do best with your friends.

Citizenship In Other 4-H Projects

Citizenship responsibilities in earning and spending, and in many other areas of life, are practiced through 4-H projects. These are a central part of your 4-H experience. Learning to sew or build a birdhouse is not citizenship education in itself, but there are citizenship responsibilities that go along with learning such skills. These skills can be used to help you and others. You can help yourself by:

- Broadening your interests and knowledge.
- Developing self-confidence and self-discipline.
- Developing an awareness of job opportunities.
- Getting pleasure from interesting activities.

At the same time, you can help others by:

- Serving family and friends through project skills
- Helping younger members learn.

Additional Citizenship Units

Good citizenship involves more than understanding and participating in government. Good citizenship is important in relationships with your family, friends, and neighbors. Good citizenship is important to your 4-H Club and other organizations you belong to. It means understanding and appreciating yourself and your heritage, and having the same respect for other people and their heritages.

The citizenship project is made up of a series of seven units. You have probably used some of these units in previous years and you may take the other units in the future.

The citizenship project consists of the following units:

- Unit 1 Me, My Family, and My Friends
- Unit 2 My Neighborhood
- Unit 3 My Clubs and Groups
- Unit 4 My Community
- Unit 5 My Heritage
- Unit 6 My Government
- Unit 7 My World

4-H Pledge

The 4-H Pledge is an outline for the 4-H Citizenship Project. Citizenship education through 4-H should provide three-fold learning – knowing, feeling, acting.

I Pledge

My Head to clearer thinking

Understanding – using our heads for clearer thinking, getting information, and understanding issues.

My Heart to greater loyalty

Attitudes – using our hearts to appreciate our rights and feel our responsibilities.

My Hands to larger service, and

My Health to better living for my club, my community, my country, and my world.

Skills – using our hands and healthy bodies and minds to put into practice what we understand and feel we should do.

4-H Citizenship Pledge

We individually and collectively pledge our efforts from day to day to fight for the ideals of this nation.

We will never allow tyranny and injustice to become enthroned in this, our country, through indifference to our duties as citizens.

We will strive for intellectual honesty and exercise it through our power of franchise.

We will obey the laws of our land and endeavor increasingly to quicken the sense of public duty among our fellowmen.

We will strive for individual improvement and for social betterment.

We will devote our talents to the enrichment of our homes and our communities in relation to their material, social, and spiritual needs.

We will endeavor to transmit to posterity this nation, not merely as we found it, but freer, and more beautiful than it was transmitted to us.
