

Dedication

To J. Paul Zimmer, whom I first met many years ago at Cornell University, for introducing me to the field of immunology, and to the thousands of mice who have given their lives in the pursuit of knowledge.