

fourth floor plan
an intermediate space for the archives
and film restoration

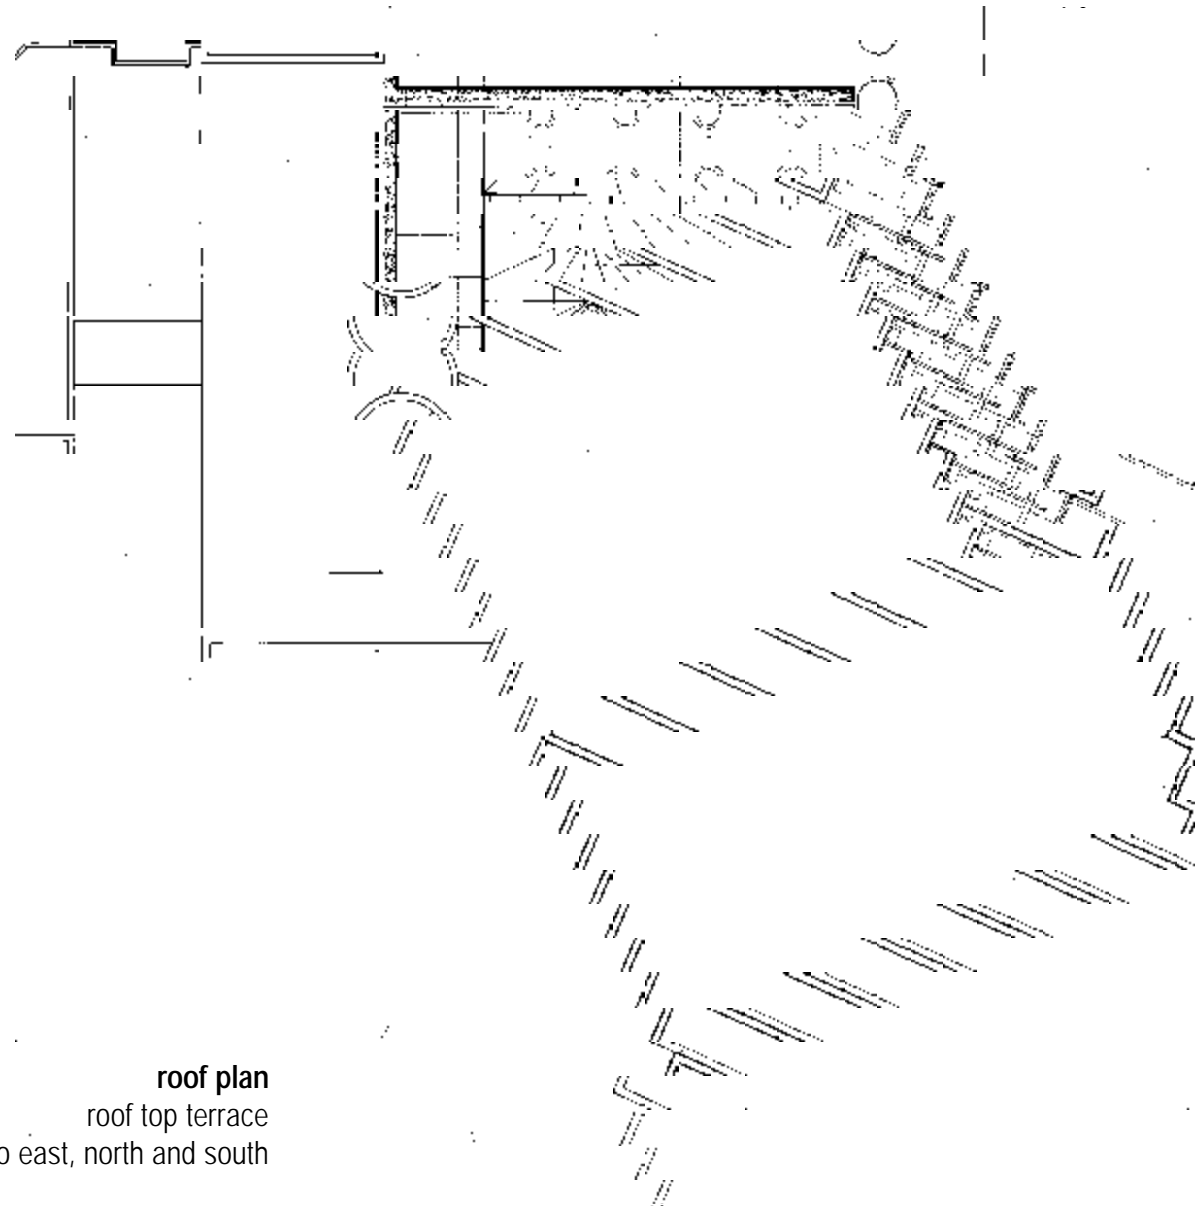

cylinder forms:

roof element is designed to allow light for opening night.
The pivot or core of the structure rises through the roof.
The structure is located on the north, allowing natural light to flow through the foundation spaces below.

section: roof trellis

roof plan

roof top terrace
captures views to east, north and south