

planning of various activities. The lack of telephone service in many parts of the county also makes it difficult to get certain information to leaders and others. The size of the county makes it difficult to have a large attendance at any countywide event.

The agents plan to meet these problems in various ways in an attempt to solve them. They will make a sincere effort to use their time more efficiently and to train more 4-H and home demonstration leaders in order to secure more time for program planning.

Probably more area meetings will be planned rather than countywide meetings so that attendance at these meetings will be larger. More personal correspondence will be necessary also in relaying information to those people with no telephone service.

These are the most pressing problems at present. It is hoped that with the solution of these, the Extension program can run with more efficiency.

B. Reading Professional Books and Publications

The agents will continue the reading of professional publications, such as the "Journal of Home Economics" and "What's New in Home Economics?" Other publications helpful to the Home Agents work will be read from time to time. This year the agents plan to read several books on the good reading list for home demonstration club members.

C. Membership in Professional Organizations

The agents are members of the Virginia Home Economics Association, the American Home Economics Association and the Home Demonstration Agents Association. They plan to continue in these organizations.

The agents plan to attend the district and possibly the state conventions during the year.

D. Programs and Workshops Planned by other Organizations

The agents will plan to attend any worthwhile program planned by other organizations, such as the Health Fair planned by the County Health Department and other organizations and any educational demonstrations given by the local home economists from the power suppliers.

E. Planned Educational Trips

The Assistant Home Agent has planned a trip to Canada in early summer. It is not certain yet if this will be carried out.

No other educational trips have been planned at the present time.

XII. Problems in Carrying out Extension Program

One of the largest problems encountered by the Home Agents in carrying out the extension program is the lack of time for proper

D. Commercial Interests

Cooperation with business concerns in the area in securing and using materials for demonstrations will be the endeavor of the agents. They will also cooperate with the Chamber of Commerce and Danville Fair Association on certain projects.

E. Other Professional Workers

Any bulletins or other useful information received in the Extension office which may be pertinent to other professional workers in their jobs will be sent to these people from time to time.

The agents will endeavor to understand the program of work of other agencies and to aid this program wherever possible.

IX. Recording Progress and Evaluating Programs

The 1958 Plan of Work will be referred to often during the year to evaluate progress in the over-all Extension program.

From 4-H records completed, from accomplishment sheets turned in by home demonstration club members and other reports by leaders, the progress during the year may be recorded and the programs evaluated.

Interest in follow-up work after programs and demonstrations will also be a determining factor.

X. Professional Improvement

A. Organized Study

The agents do not have any definite plans for any organized study in 1958.

good health.

The Health Department will also participate in the Nutrition Committee meetings and will work with the agents in organizing weight reduction clubs.

The agents will participate in the planning of a "Health Fair" to be held for the county to promote good health practices. This will be sponsored by the Health Department and will be aided by many other agencies.

VIII. Public Relations

A. Co-workers

The agents will endeavor to aid each other in furthering the over-all Extension Program in the county by keeping each other informed of activities and cooperating on projects whenever necessary.

B. General Public

The agents plan to keep the public informed of as many Extension activities as possible through the media of radio and newspapers. The agents will work willingly with anyone requesting Extension help in the county. The agents will also be friendly and responsive to office callers and others.

C. Elected representatives

The agents will keep in contact with the members of the Board of Supervisors and will keep them informed of extension work being carried on in the county. The annual luncheon prepared for these members by the Home Demonstration Clubs will be held again this year.

and written materials from time to time.

E. Young Men and Women's Clubs

There are no plans for organizing and Young Men and Women's Clubs at the present time. It is hoped that these groups will be reached through home demonstration clubs, radio programs and newspaper articles.

VII. Work with other Agencies

A. Tuberculosis Association

The Home Demonstration Clubshave always enjoyed working with the TB Association. This year, they will again adopt TB patients and aid with the X-Ray mobile unit.

B. Schools

The agents will endeavor to maintain cooperative relationships between the school authorities and the Extension Service. Schedules for club meetings will be set up to be convenient with the teachers and principals.

C. Danville Fair

The agents will work toward maintaining their fine relationship with the Fair Association by helping with the revision of the fair catalogues, planning for exhibits, securing judges and in any other ways possible.

D. Health Department

Representatives of the Health Department will work with the agents in January in attending 4-H meetings and informing members of their services. This will tie in with the Self-Improvement project concerning

All types of leaders in the home demonstration program will be trained at times throughout the year to aid in carrying out the 1958 program. The project leaders will be trained by the specialists and agents and they will take the information to their clubs and present it in similar demonstrations and talks.

The Federation Program of Work Chairmen will be trained by Dr. Donald Fessler as described earlier in this report.

The Program Development Leaders will be trained by the district agent. They will be able to conduct discussions in their club meetings and help set up the program for next year's work. They will participate in the spring and Fall Planning meetings in doing this.

The Fair leaders will not be trained but they will be responsible for urging club members to make exhibits in the Danville Fair and they will transport these articles to the Fair in the fall.

the agents will go to each club to collect 4-H exhibits and take them to Danville to be exhibited.

7. Schools

At least two schools will be conducted during the year - a first aid school for all 4-H members, and an electricity school for all members carrying the electricity project.

8. Rural Life Sunday

The date for Rural Life Sunday will be announced to all the 4-H Clubs. The meaning of this day will be explained and 4-H Club members will be urged to participate in some special way in their local church service. They will be asked to give an account of their activities to the agents.

D. Young Men and Young Women's Work

Although there is no young men and women's organization in the county the agents plan to reach this age group through individual assistance and by encouraging all home demonstration clubs to enroll more young homemakers. Many radio programs by the agents will be made to interest young married couples in many phase of Extension work.

The young men and women will be informed of the opportunities provided to attend the State Young Men and Young Women's Camp at Camp Farrar and encouraged to go. If enough young men and women become interested through the efforts of the agents, a Young Men and Young Women's group will be organized.

If Leslie Giles' application to become an IFYE is approved, the agents plan to work through the young men and women of the county to will plan a program to recognize outstanding 4-H Club members and those who have done good project work. Leaders, school personnel and others will also be recognized for their contributions to making the 4-H program successful.

4. Community Activities

The three community 4-H Clubs will be encouraged to continue their activities of community improvement and the agents plan to start at least one more community club.

The Greenfield and Concord Community Clubs will be encouraged to participate in the Community Improvement Clubs which are being organized in their communities.

All three clubs will have socials, charity projects and be encouraged in their individual project work.

5. Contests

County contests for girls over 14 taking homemaking projects will be conducted in the early Spring, and the winners will be given the opportunity to participate in the district contests.

The three clubs accomplishing the most in the way of improvement will be selected to compete in the WELS Club Improvement Contest.

6. Fairs

All 4-H Club members will be encouraged to participate in the Danville Fair by exhibiting their project work. The agents plan to make announcements concerning the fair and encouraging participation several times during the year. On the day before the fair

C. 4-H Club Activities

1. Camps

a. District Camp

Camp plans will be discussed with 4-H Club members at two regular meetings in the Spring. The opportunities offered at camp will be explained and attendance will be encouraged.

Completion of their school project will be a requirement before club members will be eligible to attend camp.

The agents will be assisted at camp by junior and adult leaders. They will serve as counselors in the cabins, assistant instructors in the classes, and aid in athletic activities.

b. Conservation Camp

Boys and girls who have proven to be responsible Junior Leaders will be chosen to attend the State Conservation Camp at Camp Farrar.

2. Short Course

Older 4-H Club members who are fourteen years old or more will be informed of the State Short Course held annually at V.F.I. Those who have done good project work and shown some leadership ability will be chosen delegates from the county to attend this event. Those who will be competing in state contests will also attend.

3. Achievement Day

The Achievement Day Program to be held in the winter will be a responsibility of the County Honor Club. Members of this group Senior Club members will be given instruction in Unit II of the project. The main objective of this project is to help 4-H Club members understand how to wire a house properly, the meaning of electrical terms, and to tabulate the cost of electricity. These members will also be asked to give demonstrations and talks in training the younger members during the special training meetings.

To climax this project the agents plan to conduct a 4-H Electric School for all members taking the project. Members will then demonstrate what they have learned, take tours, and study more about electricity.

4. The 4-H Gardening Project will be emphasized in each club as a means to encourage more families to have home gardens and to train the 4-H members in gardening techniques. To climax this project the gardens will be judged and members having the best garden will be selected to participate in the Sears-Roebuck Garden Contest.

5. Other individual projects will be offered and the club members will be encouraged to take and complete the ones they select. Individual instruction on these projects will be in the form of written materials provided with each record. Home visits to as many of the club members as possible will be made and parents will be encouraged to help with the projects.

B. 4-H Project Work

1. The Personal Improvement project is the countywide 4-H Club project which was set up by the 4-H Club Council. It is a combination of the Health project and the looking your best project and will include such things as personal and group health, sportsmanship, social courtesies, and good grooming. The agents and club members will give demonstrations in the club meetings on various phases of the project. Members of the County Health Department will also talk in each club on health needs in the home and communities and services offered by the County Health Department.

Next summer a First Aid School will be conducted for those who wish to participate.

2. The 4-H Project was designed by the agents to explain the 4-H Club to 4th grade members and includes learning the motto, pledge and colors, and becoming familiar with the 4-H Creed, emblem, keeping a 4-H Memory book, and filling out a 4-H project book. This project will be offered for all 4th grade members.

3. The Electricity Project will be offered to all 4-H Club members along with supplementary explanatory material. The primary objective is to instruct club members in simple electrical repairs, the use and replacement of fuses and the meaning of simple electrical terms. During the year the agents plan to work with representatives of local power suppliers to conduct approximately 4 special training meetings, workshops and show films for the interested club members.

activity which will be suggested to the All Stars is to conduct a banquet with the Honor Club Members honoring new All Stars and new Honor Club members. They will also be asked to continue services to 4-H Club work in the capacities of Junior and Adult Leaders, and as leaders for camp programs, achievement day, Honor Club meetings and other county activities.

5. Honor Club

The 4-H Honor Club which is composed of outstanding 4-H Club members and potential All Stars will meet quarterly to attain the goals which they will set up. Among their goals will be putting up 4-H road signs which they have purchased, helping with an Honor Club-All Star Banquet, a "Share the Fun" talent show, and others.

6. Project Planning Committee

There is no committee serving in this capacity since the 4-H Council plans the projects.

7. Other

The agents plan to organize a 4-H adult leader organization. Each 4-H Club will be encouraged to select a 4-H adult leader and each home demonstration club asked to elect one. This organization will meet at least once to discuss ways of assisting with the 4-H program and the leaders will be encouraged to attend the regular 4-H Club meetings and any State meetings planned for 4-H leaders.

time goals. Requests for food planning have already been made of the agent. House planning will also be carried out with a few families.

As each family makes improvements or changes in their living, these will be mentioned in the newsletters sent quarterly to the families in the farm and home development areas.

IV. County Extension Program - Youth

A. Organization

1. County Youth Council

There is no county youth council since the Honor Club and 4-H Club Council represent the majority of the youth in the county.

2. County Youth Committees

The agents hope to organize a county youth committee in the future.

3. County 4-H Council

The county 4-H Club Council will be composed of 4-H Club officers and the club sponsors. The purpose of the council meeting will be to plan the 4-H project work and methods of carrying out these projects. The council will meet twice - once to plan the county wide project and make suggestions for requirement for completion, and once to evaluate the progress and make further suggestions for project activities.

4. All Stars

The All Stars will be organized into a county All Star Chapter this year and will set up some county objectives and goals. An

7. Community Improvement Organizations

Since Dr. Donald Fessler, sociologist of V.P.I., has already met with leaders from three communities in the county and discussed the value of Community Improvement Clubs and the organization of these, work will be continued on these. It is hoped that the organization will be accomplished early in 1958 and much worthwhile improvement work will be done in each community.

8. Publicity

The agents plan to make more use of the publicity facilities available in the county by weekly news articles, radio programs and special programs. The agents plan to have publicity coverage of most of the home demonstration and 4-H activities and any other special features.

III. Farm and Home Development

The committee working with the Farm and Home Development phase of the program will probably not function this year unless to make some recommendation concerning the work. This committee selected two areas for farm and home development work and since that time another area has been established. In this area there are approximately 52 families. At this time, although all the families have been contacted, work is being done with approximately eight. The Home Agent plans to increase this number working intensively with the families most interested.

Most of these families are interested in re-upholstering and there will either be a clinic for this or individual help given by the agent. Planning will be done with many of these families on long time goals and on short

It is hoped that much will be done on a county basis to inform the public of the value of home demonstration work.

4. Achievement Program

An annual achievement program will be held toward the end of the year for several purposes: to review the accomplishments of clubs and club members over the year, to give recognition for outstanding work done and encouragement for better work in the future, and to acquaint the public of home demonstration activities and achievements.

A committee will work out details for this program and the agents will assist, if necessary.

5. Work in Unorganized Communities

Much of this type work will be in connection with the Farm and Home Development phase and with work done by the Nutrition Committee.

The agents will answer any requests promptly from any persons or families in unorganized communities.

6. Judging by Local Leaders

It is hoped that several home demonstration club members will be able to attend a judging training school if one is conducted in this area. If so, these members will be called upon to judge in any 4-H or home demonstration contests and possibly at the Danville Fair.

4. Each club keep before the public evidences of accomplishments in the Expansion program through:

- a. newspaper
- b. radio, TV
- c. exhibits
- d. special programs

5. Each member take steps to improve family life.

2. County or Community Projects

The point contest, designed to improve the quality of work in each home demonstration club, will be continued and the county trophy will be presented to the club having achieved the most points at the end of the year.

Many clubs expect to begin work on their community centers in 1958. This will be encouraged and aided by the agents wherever possible.

Two clubs have sponsored First-Aid courses in their communities and one of these courses is continuing into 1958. A representative from the Danville Life-Saving Crew is the teacher of this course.

3. National Home Demonstration Week

The observance of this week will be greatly encouraged by the agents. A committee composed of members from several of the home demonstration clubs will be appointed by the county chairman and will work up a list of suggestions for activities during the week.

Beautification will be continued, the new topic, Family Life will be emphasized:

The objectives for Family Life goal are as follows:

1. Emphasize recreational needs of children
2. Emphasize community centers
3. Emphasize understanding between youth and adults
4. Emphasize family council as a method of decision-making.

To carry out these objectives, the County Federation Program of Work Chairman has sent to each club chairman, list of suggestions for each month's program. Written materials have also been supplied to aid each club chairman in leading discussions of these different phases of family living.

Dr. Donald Fessler, sociologist from V.P.I., will conduct a leader training meeting for these Federation Program of Work Chairmen to inform them of methods or procedures of establishing community centers in their various localities.

D. Other Activities

1. County objectives

The home demonstration clubs of the county planned the following objectives to strengthen their program of work in 1958:

1. Each club encourage 4-H Club Activity.
2. Each club participate in some special beautification project.
3. Have clubs continue progress on community improvement.
  - a. Mail boxes
  - b. Signs
  - c. Club house

c. Construction and Fitting of Slip Covers

This will also be a one-day meeting held in February for interested club members and others.

The agents will conduct this, exhibiting materials used in the construction of slip covers, such as zippers, cording, etc. Steps in the procedure will be shown, such as correct measuring, cutting and fitting. Slides illustrating these points will also be shown.

5. Result Demonstrations

a. Weight Reduction Club

Plans for a weight reduction club were begun in 1957 and it is hoped that the organization of at least one such club will be completed in 1958. It will serve a two-fold purpose - it will be a follow-up for the January demonstration, "Better Balanced Meals (including weight reduction)" and it is a result of a recommendation made by the Nutrition Committee for such a club.

The agents will work with the Health Department, local doctors and home economists from electric powers on this. The objective of this club will be to inform members of the health hazards of obesity and to aid them in losing weight safely.

C. Federation Program of Work

While work on the 1957 Federation Program of Work, Home and Community

c. Decorating Cakes and Cookies for the Holiday Season will be presented in November in preparation for the holiday seasons.

Mrs. Mary Thompson, food specialist of V.P.I. will conduct a leader training meeting for this. She will demonstrate new ideas which will be useful to the homemaker in preparing decorative food.

4. Special Interest Meetings

a. Beginners Sewing

There will be five meetings for the women who know very little about sewing. These meetings will be open to club members from over the entire county. This was planned as a follow-up for the November, 1957 demonstration on the work dress. As it was impossible to get it into the 1957 program, it will be conducted by the agents early in 1958.

Such basic principles of sewing as the technique of using a pattern, different seams and hems will be taught. A simple garment, probably a house dress will be constructed by each member attending the meetings.

b. Drapery Construction

There will be a one-day meeting in January to teach the construction of draperies. This will be opened to all club members and perhaps other interested persons. The agents will conduct this meeting, demonstrating the correct drapery yardage, materials used and correct procedure in the construction of draperies. The actual steps in the procedure will be shown.

e. Home Lighting is an important part of home furnishings and this demonstration will illustrate just what is proper lighting.

The agents will work with the power suppliers in presenting this. The correct height for reading lamps, correct shades and proper kitchen lighting will be illustrated. A tour of at least one demonstration home will be conducted to point out the advantages of proper lighting.

3. Foods

a. Better Balanced Meals (including weight control) will be the first of three foods demonstrations. The club members requested this in their program to aid them in learning the proper planning of nutritious meals for better health.

The agents will present this demonstration using a chart showing the basic seven foods and demonstrating means of working these foods into the daily menus. The importance and value of this type meal planning will be discussed. The need for weight control for good health will be tied into the same demonstration.

b. Quick Breads will be the second of the foods demonstrations.

A leader training meeting will be conducted by Miss Janet Cameron, food specialist of V.P.I. The food value of bread will be shown. The quick method of making different types of bread will also be illustrated. Recipes for breakfast breads will be given and demonstrated.

ones know that some furniture pieces do have to be replaced from time to time. Help will be given in aiding club members to make decisions in spending the house furnishing dollar.

The agents have also been trained for this demonstration by Miss Ruth Jamison. A kit will also be used for this to illustrate principles involved in selecting furniture and means of stretching the house furnishings dollar. Pictures illustrating these points will also be shown.

c. Furniture Selection (including bedding) will be a demonstration which will be of interest not only to the younger homemakers who have not completely furnished their homes but also to the older members who will be selecting pieces to go well in design, etc. with the furniture they have.

A leader training meeting for this will be conducted by Miss Ruth Jamison, House Furnishings Specialist of V.P.I. The importance of the correct selection of such household items as springs and mattresses will be discussed and also the advisability of buying suites of furniture.

d. A Coordinated Color Plan for the Whole House is another demonstration to round out the house furnishing study for the year.

There will be a leader training meeting ~~for~~ this and perhaps help from a commercial paint company will be secured to teach club members what colors blend or coordinate nicely. Planning for the painting jobs inside the home will be discussed, color charts shown and perhaps slides, if available.

parents and do more for their youth if they understood the reasons for much of their behavior. Another reason this demonstration was requested was to help all the teen-agers in the various communities.

Dr. Donald Fessler will conduct a leader training meeting for this demonstration and for the demonstration on Family Councils to be given in September. At this meeting Dr. Fessler will give the leaders a philosophy or framework for family living that pulls together many of the objectives of the Federation Program of Work and ties them into these two demonstrations. This will cover such specifics as cooperation, responsibilities, guidance, etc.

2. House Furnishings

A. What is Beauty in the Home?

This is the first demonstration in the House Furnishings field. It will aid homemakers to learn some basic principles of interior decoration and what are suitable accessories for their type of home.

The agents have been trained by Miss Ruth Jamison, House Furnishings Specialist of V.P.I. for this demonstration. A kit will be used to illustrate good and poor designs in furniture, curtains and accessories.

B. Developing a Long Time Home Furnishing Plan Based on Family

Needs is another demonstration in the Home Furnishings line requested because the older club members as well as the younger poor eating habits. This committee will meet again in February to review any more information obtained and to set up long time goals.

If another committee is recommended by the Agricultural Extension Service Board, the organization of it will be similar to the Nutrition Committee.

5. County Home Demonstration Club Committee

This committee, composed of the Home Demonstration Club presidents and the program development chairmen will function similar to the way they functioned in 1957. They will participate in the Spring and Fall Planning Meetings to aid in setting up the Program of Work for the home demonstration clubs.

The program development leaders will be trained to conduct discussions in their club meetings to attain suggestions for a worthwhile program of work.

This group will work out plans for the various business matters which arise concerning the home demonstration clubs.

B. Project Work

Family Life and The House and its Furnishings are to be emphasized this year both in demonstrations and the Federation Program of Work. The following demonstrations will be given in relation to these matters:

1. Family Life

- a. How to Understand the Different Age Groups Within the Family is designed to improve family living through better understanding. The club members felt they could be better will meet early in the year 1958, perhaps in late January. A review of 1957 activities and other information about situations in the county will be given by the extension workers at this meeting. The group will then be asked to make suggestions and help plan the program of work for 1958. Acting upon these suggestions, the extension personnel will work out details of the year's program.

2. Home Economics Council

The presidents of all Home Demonstration Clubs, women selected by the home economics teachers and others compose this council. This group was not organized and did not function in 1957. It is hoped that such a group can be organized to promote certain home economic projects in the county in 1958 as they arise. Cooperation between the home economics teachers and the agents will be continued.

3. General Interest Committees

There are no immediate plans for a general interest committee at this time. However, there is a possibility that a lighting committee of this type will be formed to promote proper lighting in the county.

4. County Home Economics Committees

A Nutrition Committee, composed of nine persons representing the schools, Health Department, youth and those interested in the welfare of the county, was organized late in 1957. It was decided that work should be begun on weight reduction clubs, the improvement of family gardens and the improvement of the school children's

Pittsylvania
County

I. County Situation

Pittsylvania County is located in southside Virginia, bordering North Carolina on the southern side and Halifax, Henry and Campbell Counties on the other sides. It is the largest county in Virginia, covering an area of one thousand square miles. The population is approximately sixty-five thousand.

Tobacco is the main cash crop and almost every farm family in the county has some tobacco allotment. Due to the reduction of acreage in 1957, interests have turned to supplemental means of income, such as livestock and poultry.

Many homemakers are working outside the home and this limits the amount of participation in social and community activities. This fact along with the fact that the county is so large and transportation is still a problem with some families, means that the opportunity for county-wide activities is limited. Most extension work must be carried on in different areas rather than any central point.
