

STACKED GLASS

the glass consists of three different opacity glass blocks which are stacked in random manner. The composition of different opacity of glass block also creates interesting glowing at night.