ADVISORY BOARD

This Advisory Board is composed of two or more members from each community or community club, and meets at the call of its president twice a year, spring and fall, or as often as necessary. committees are appointed to up exhibitors, help put up and look after exhibits and visitors at the County Fair, County Farmers' Conference and Community Fairs.

The County Teachers' Association, Ladies' Aid Society, Sunday School Association and Ministerial and Deacons' Union are cooperating and helping to spreading extension work over the county. It means a whole lot to have the ministers interested in the work. Last summer the agent was at a church on Sunday and after the services were over the minister ask her if she wanted to explain any of her work, she spoke of three phases of the work and sat down, The minister made favorable comments and advised the people to take advantage of the opportunity when something good and uplifting was offered them, The was ^{result} a community club was organized before we left the church.

COUNTY FAIR

The colored people exhibited at the County Fair, which was held at Shipman, Va., October 19th, 20th 21st, and 22nd, 1926. Mr. Asa Sims, Florist of Hampton Institute gave a demonstration on ornamental planting of lawns - flowers, shrubbery and trees.

The club women and girls put on an exhibit of dresses, kimono's, underwear, luncheon sets, bed sets, dyed dresses and rag rugs. Took up a collection of $6.00 for the Piedmont Sanitorium. Club girls sold refreshments on the grounds and cleared $15.

The sewing machine agent is doing good buisness in the county.

FOOD PREPARATION

14 girls enrolled in food preparation and 14 completed. 9 meals were served at the clubs and 5 meals served to the public. Receipts used at home 10 times, served as at the club. The mothers are very proud of their girls being able to prepare and serve meals properly. They always make the club welcome in their homes and have every thing clean and shining. The mother soon begins to imitate setting her table like the club girls. 3 table cloths and napkins have been bought to have every thing ready when the club is invited to those homes. On one occasion the agent carried a table cloth made of a meal sack and napkins made of sugar sacks, ¹² save the mothers damask ones. The next time the club was invited to that home the mother had made herself a table and napkins from meal sacks and had them washed and nicely ironed ready for use. This preparing and serving meals ^{is} a great help to the girls who have to go out to work in the summer.

SUGGESTIONS RELATIVE TO THE PREPARATION OF THE COUNTY EXTENSION AGENT'S ANNUAL REPORT.

The annual report should be a review, analysis, interpretation, and presentation to the people of the county, the State, and the Nation of the sum total of the extension activities in each county for the year and the results obtained by the county extension agent assisted by the subject-matter specialists. The making of such a report is of great value to the county extension agent and the people of the county in showing the progress made during the year as a basis for future plans. It is of vital concern also to the State and Nation as a measure of rural progress and a basis for intelligent legislation and financial support.

Separate statistical and narrative reports are desired from each county extension agent in charge of a line of work, such as county agent, home demonstration agent, boys' and girls' club agent, and negro agent. Where an assistant agent has been employed a part or all of the year, a report on his or her work should be included with the report of the leader in charge of that line of work. Where an agent in charge of a line of work has quit the service during the year, the information contained in his or her report should be incorporated in the annual report of the agent on duty at the close of the report year, and the latter report so marked. Where two or more extension agents are employed in a county, each in charge of a line of work, care should be exercised to avoid including the same data in the statistical report of more than one agent.

At least four copies of the annual report should be made: One copy for the county officials, one copy for the agent's files, one copy for the State extension office, and one copy for the Extension Service, United States Department of Agriculture. The report to the Washington office should be sent through the State extension office.

NARRATIVE SUMMARY.

The narrative report should be a statement in orderly fashion and arranged under appropriate subheadings, of the work done, methods used, and results obtained under each project, as well as of the general work accomplished. Every statement should be clear-cut, concise, forceful, and, where possible, reinforced with ample data from the statistical summary. In the preparation of the part of the report relative to each project, the results reported in the statistical summary for the project should be analyzed, conclusions drawn, and recommendations made. The report may well be illustrated with photographs, maps, diagrams, blue prints, or copies of charts and other forms used in demonstration work. Full credit should be given to all cooperating agencies. The lines should be single-spaced, with double space between the paragraphs, and reasonably good margins left. The pages should be numbered in consecutive order.

The following outline is suggestive of how the narrative report may be clearly and systematically presented:

STATISTICAL SUMMARY.

To supplement the narrative part of the report, and in order that comparable State and National summaries may be made, it is necessary to include a statistical summary of the work in each county. The following form has been prepared to insure uniformity of reporting. In addition to the questions asked under each subdivision of the report, space is provided to add further data if desired. The statistical summary will grow naturally out of the field and office records.
