

a search, a house

by

Hjördis Sigurgisladóttir

Thesis submitted to the faculty of the Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University in partial fulfillment of the requirement for the degree of

Master of Architecture

approved

Olivio Ferrari
Chairman

Hans Rott

Donna Dunay

David McGill

Ellen Braaten

March 1986 Blacksburg, Virginia, U.S.A.

Only a compound can be beautiful, never anything devoid of parts; and only a whole; the several parts will have beauty, not in themselves, but only as working together to give a comely total. Yet beauty in an aggregate demands beauty in details: it cannot be constructed out of ugliness; its law must run throughout.

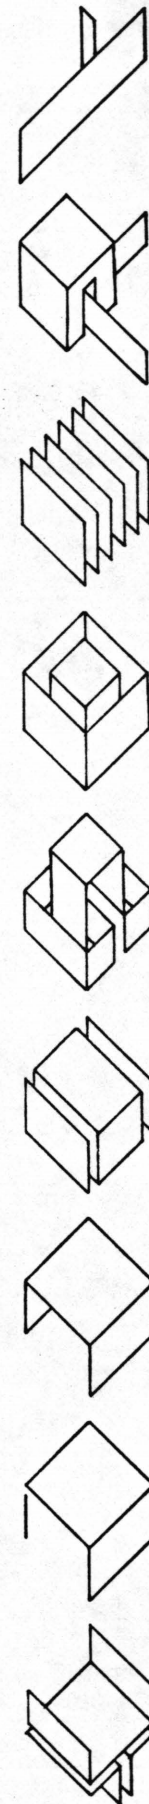

a search, a house

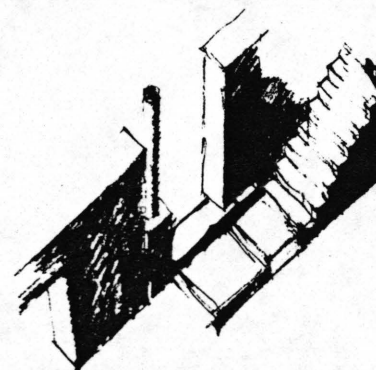

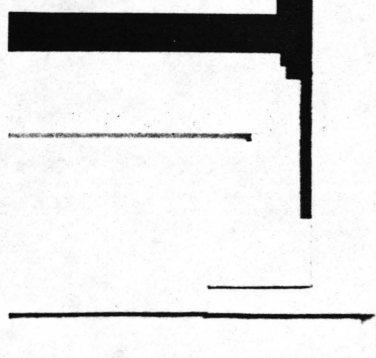

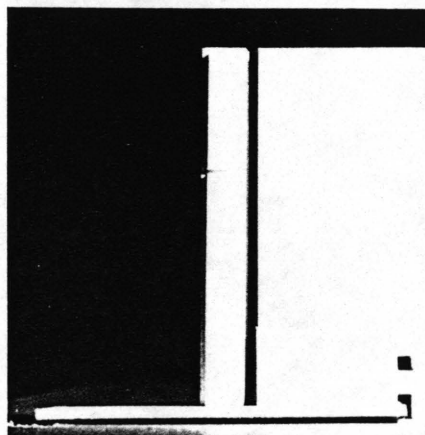

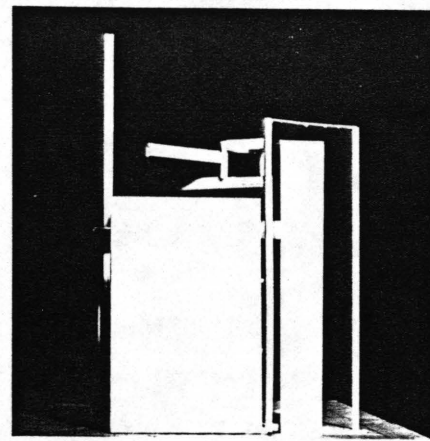

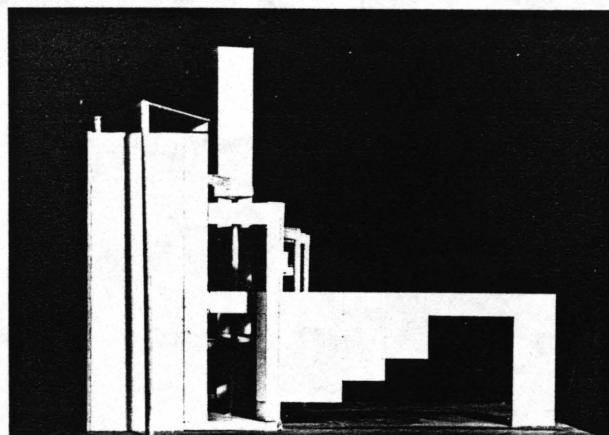

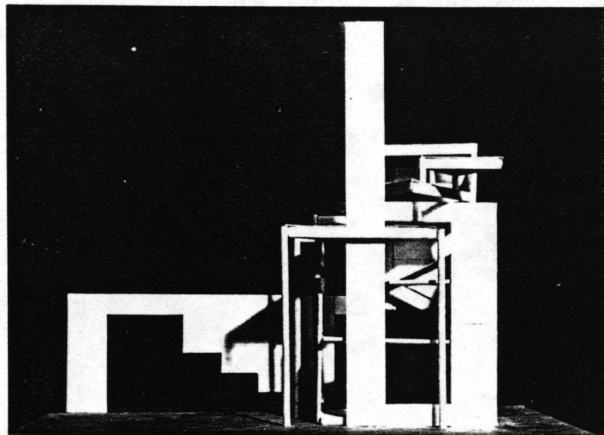

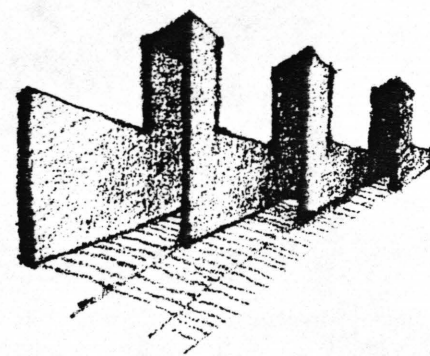

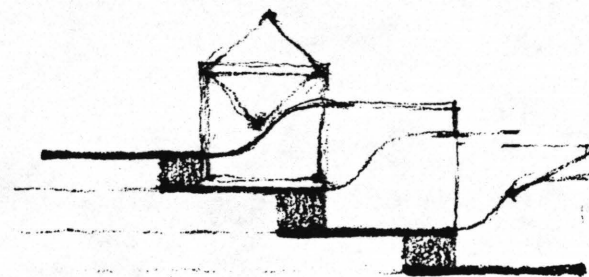

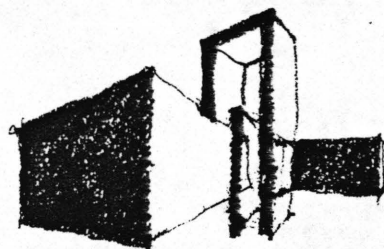

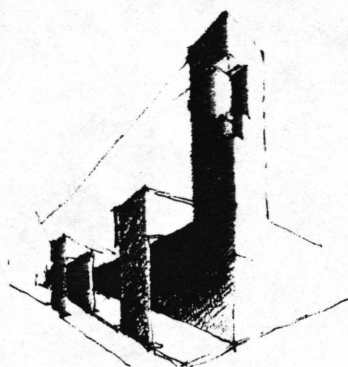

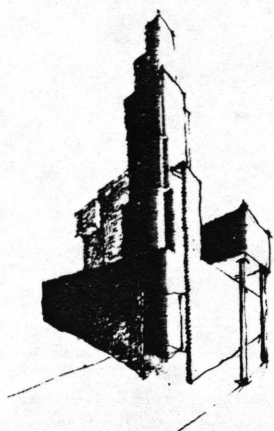

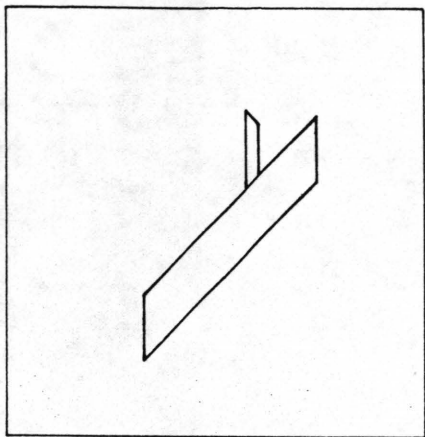

contents

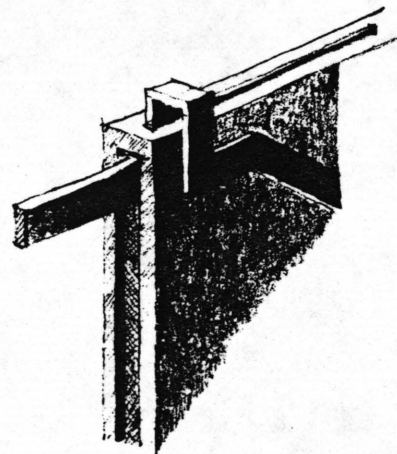

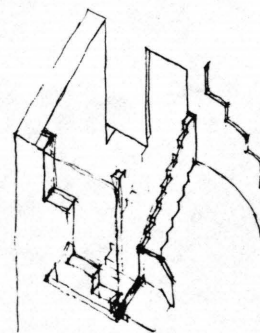

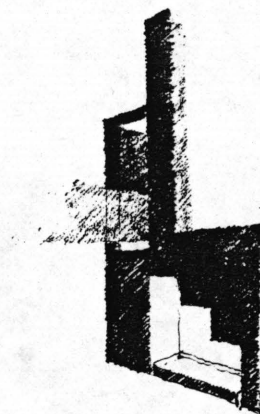

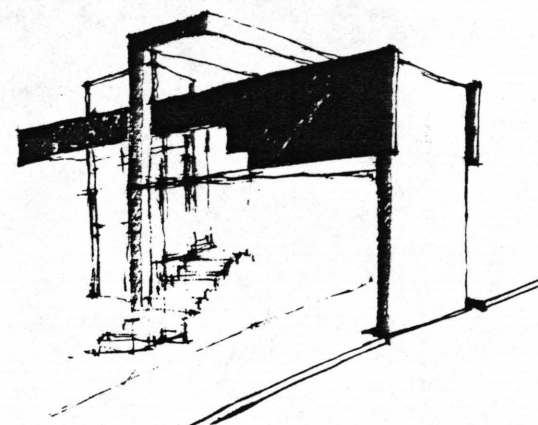

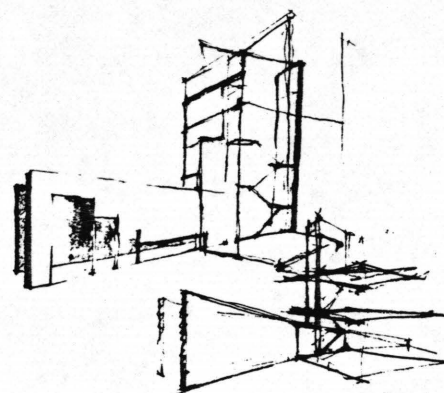

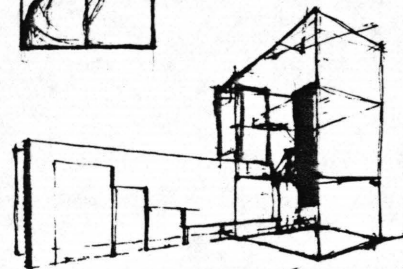

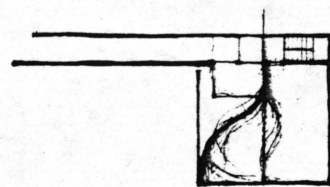

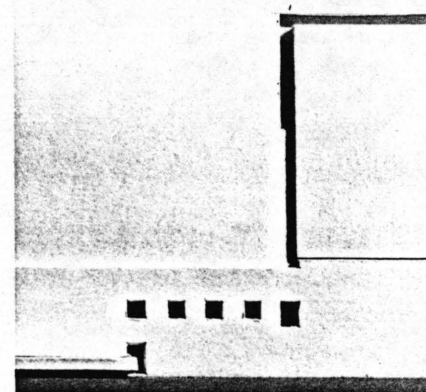

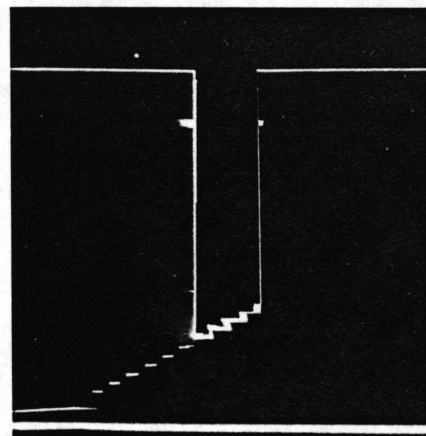

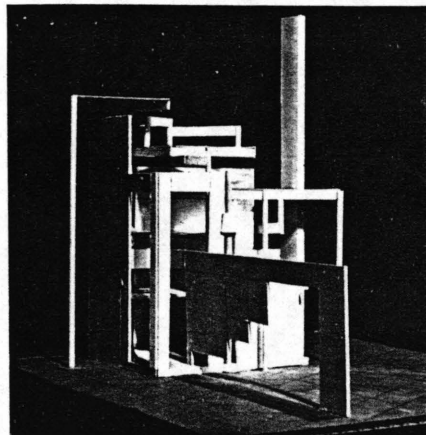

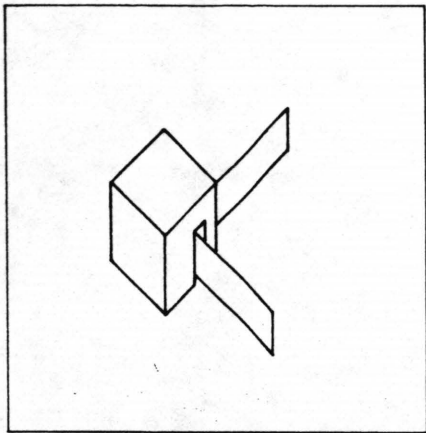

nine thoughts

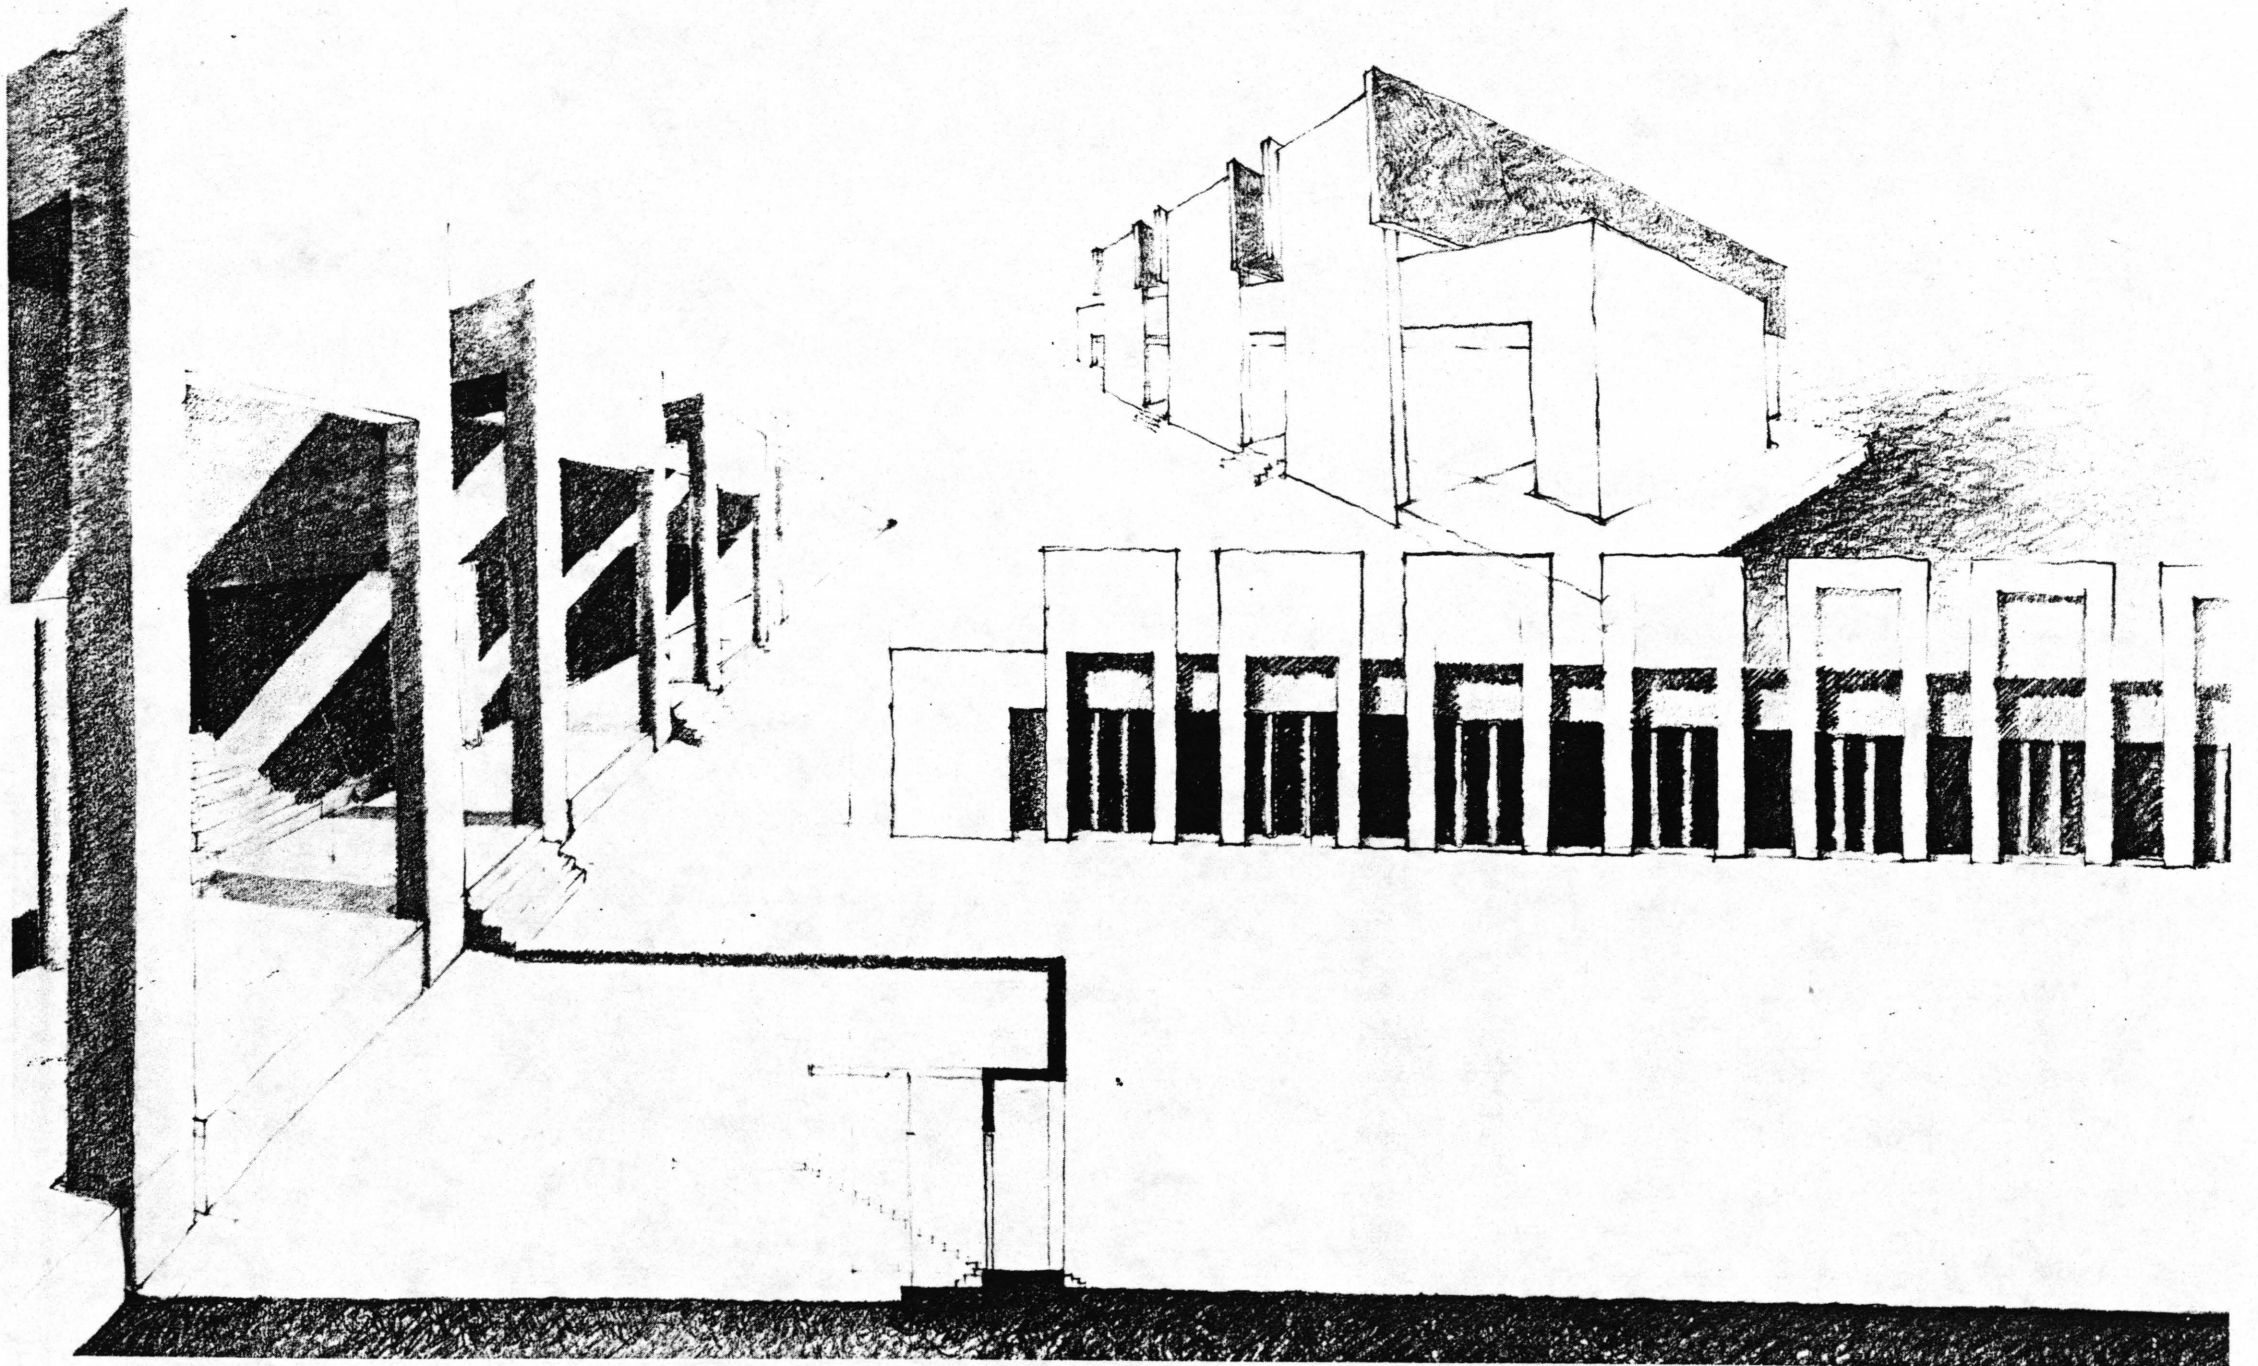

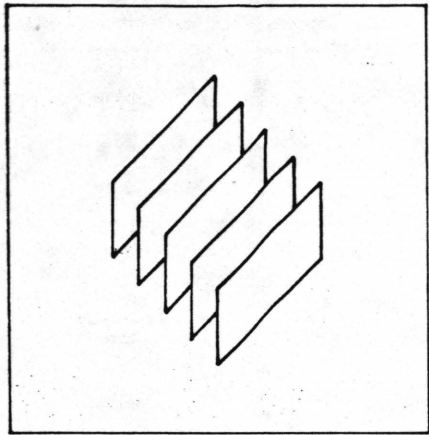

a project, a house

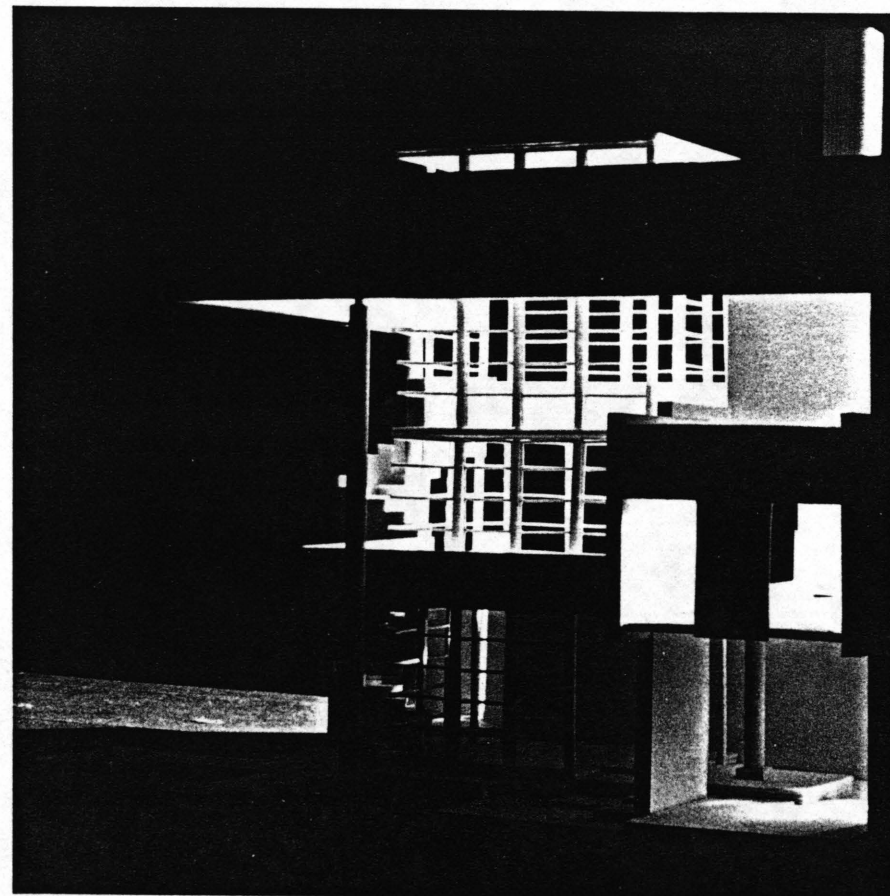

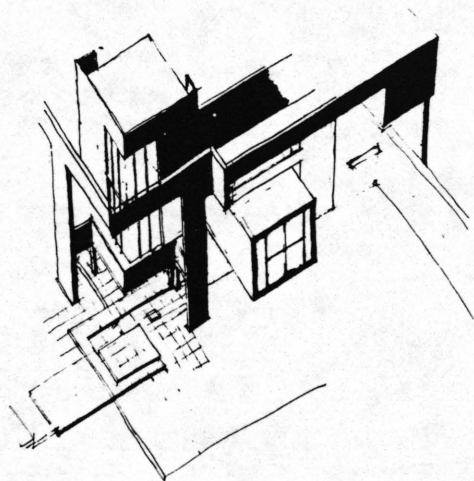

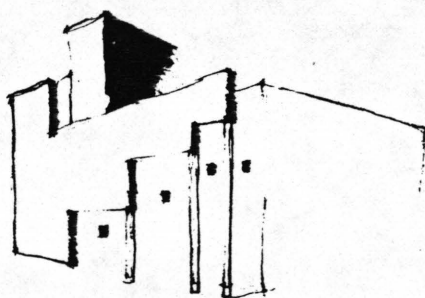

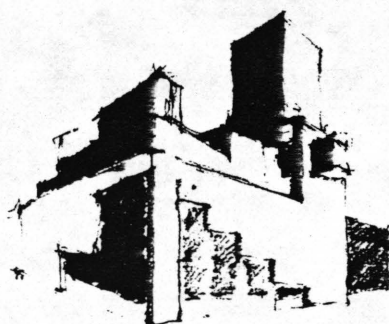

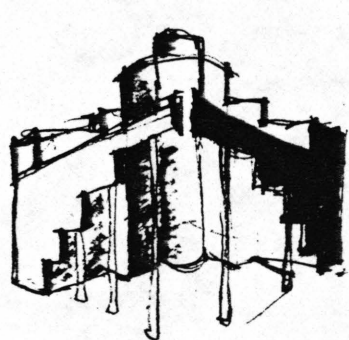

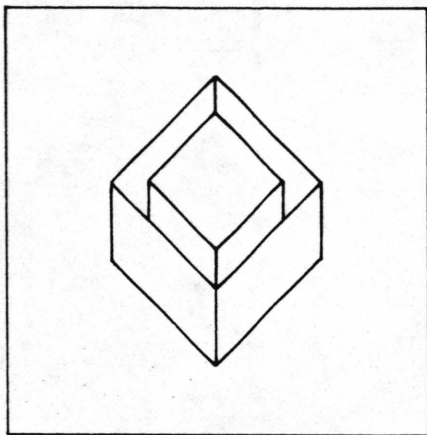

vita

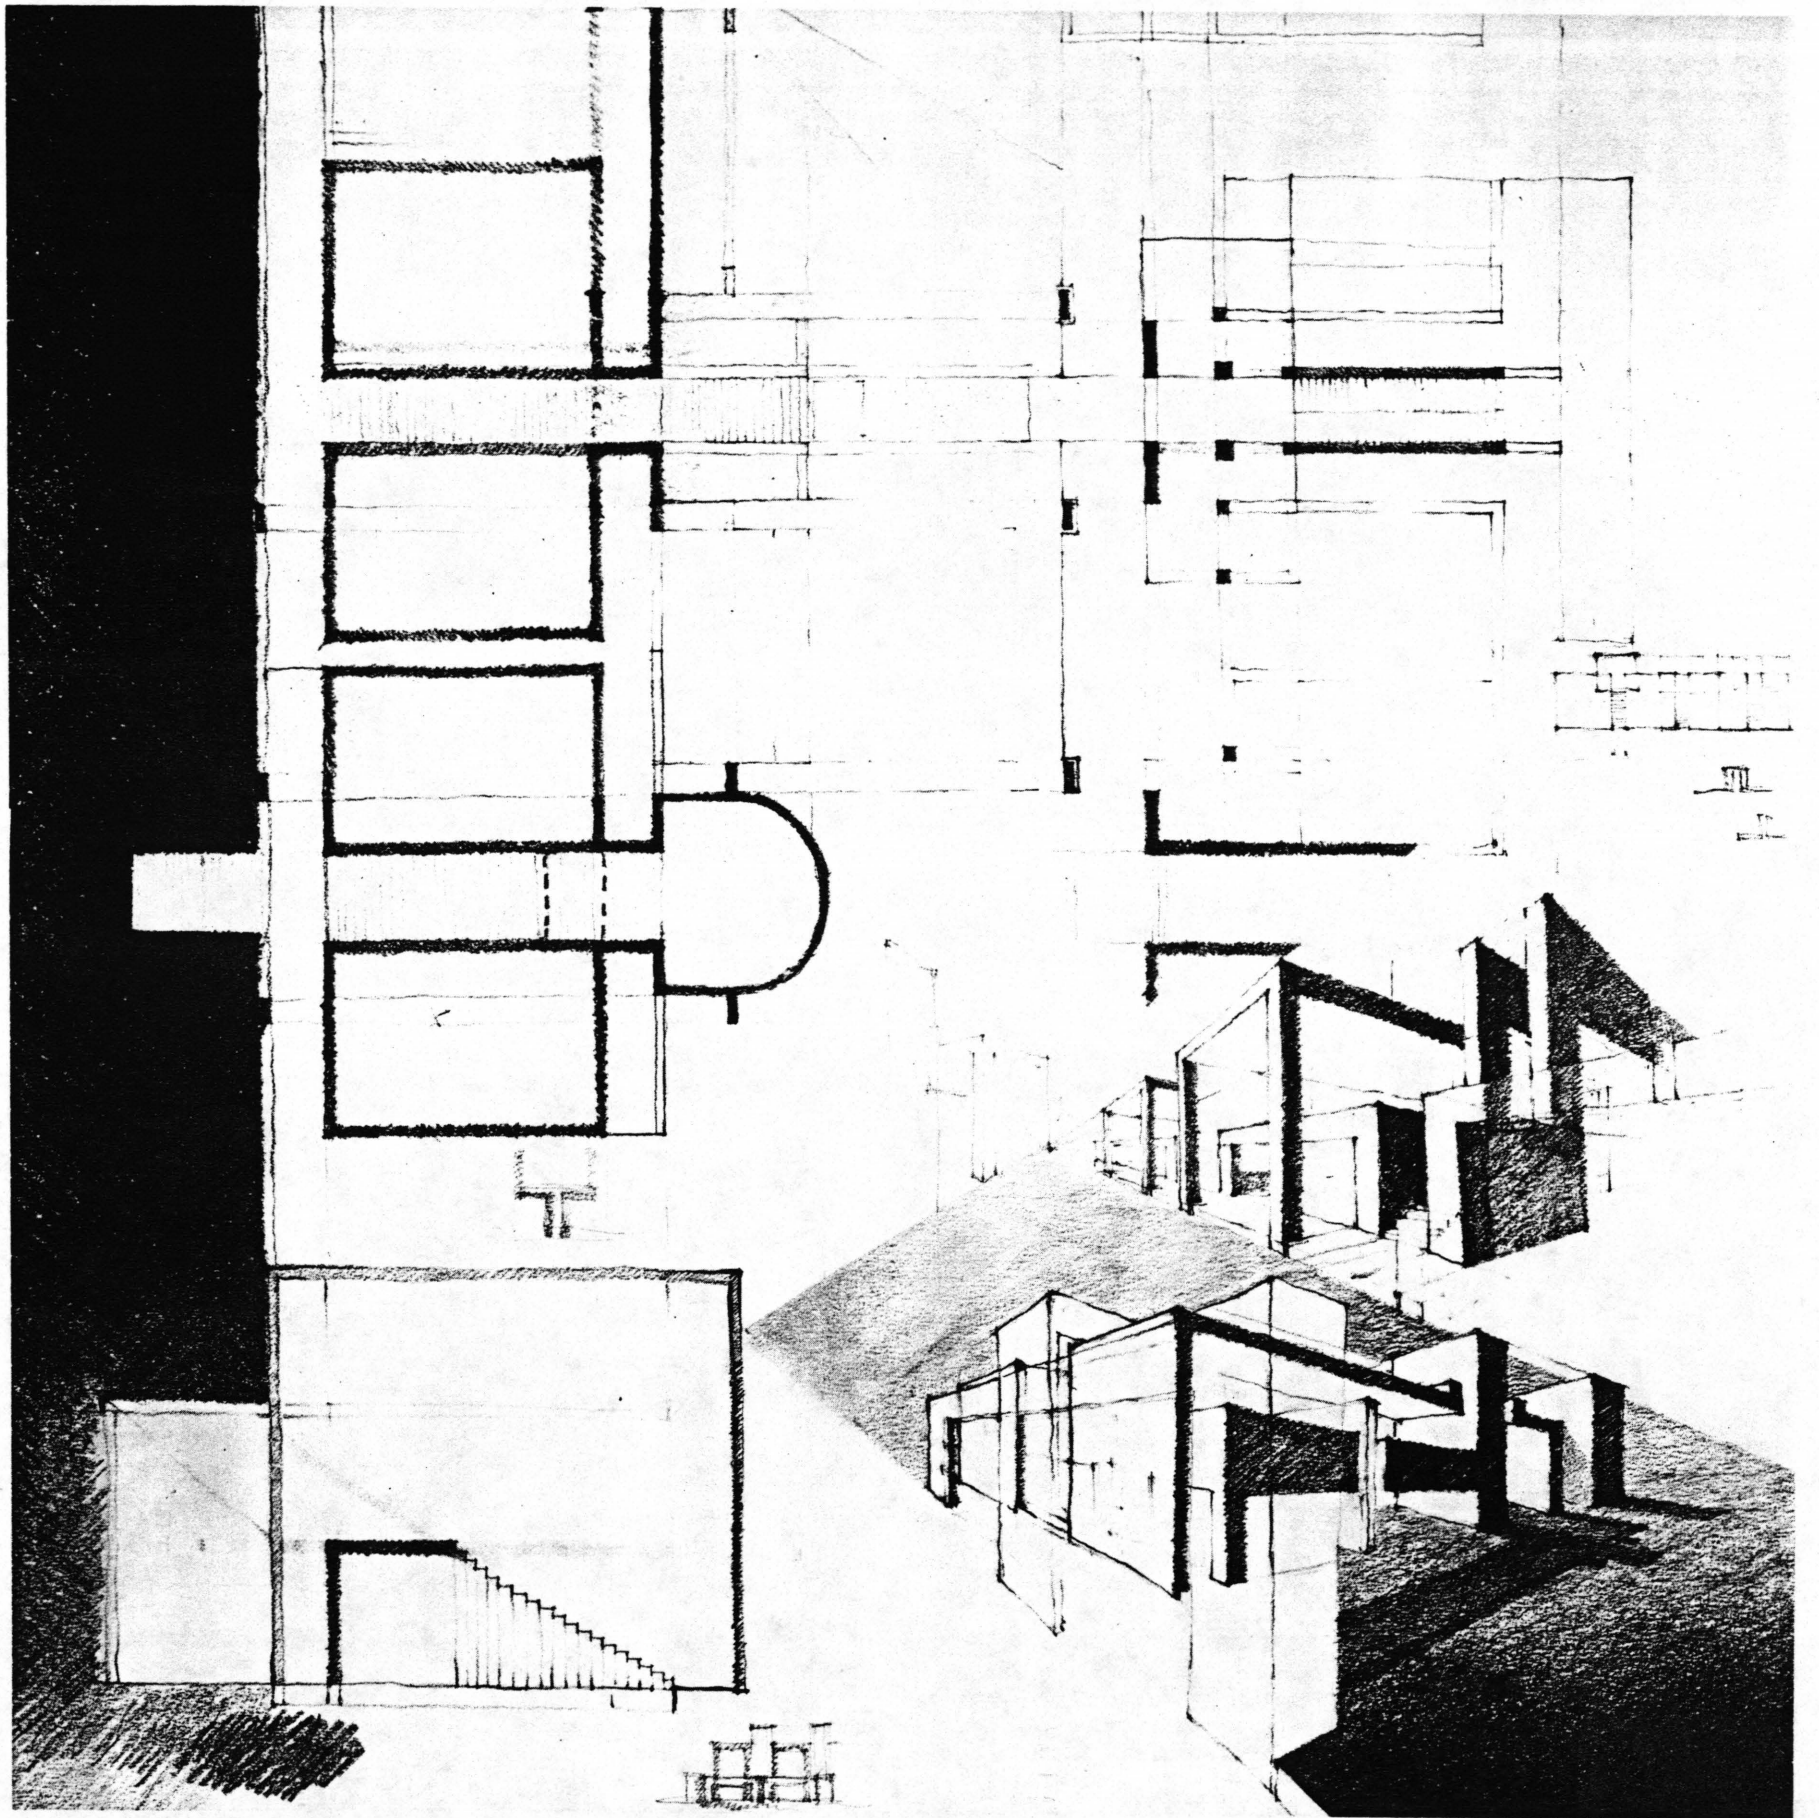

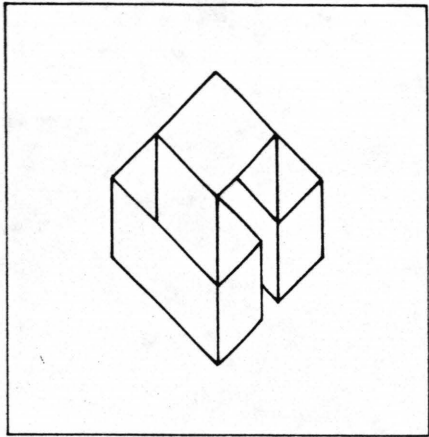

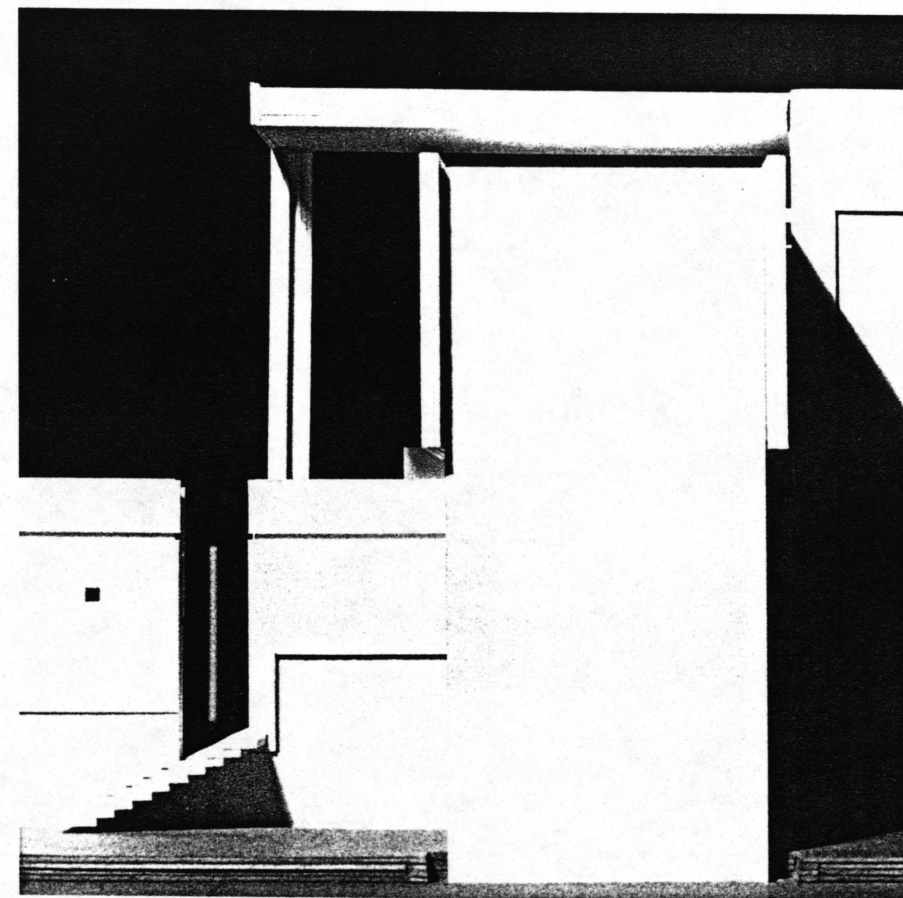

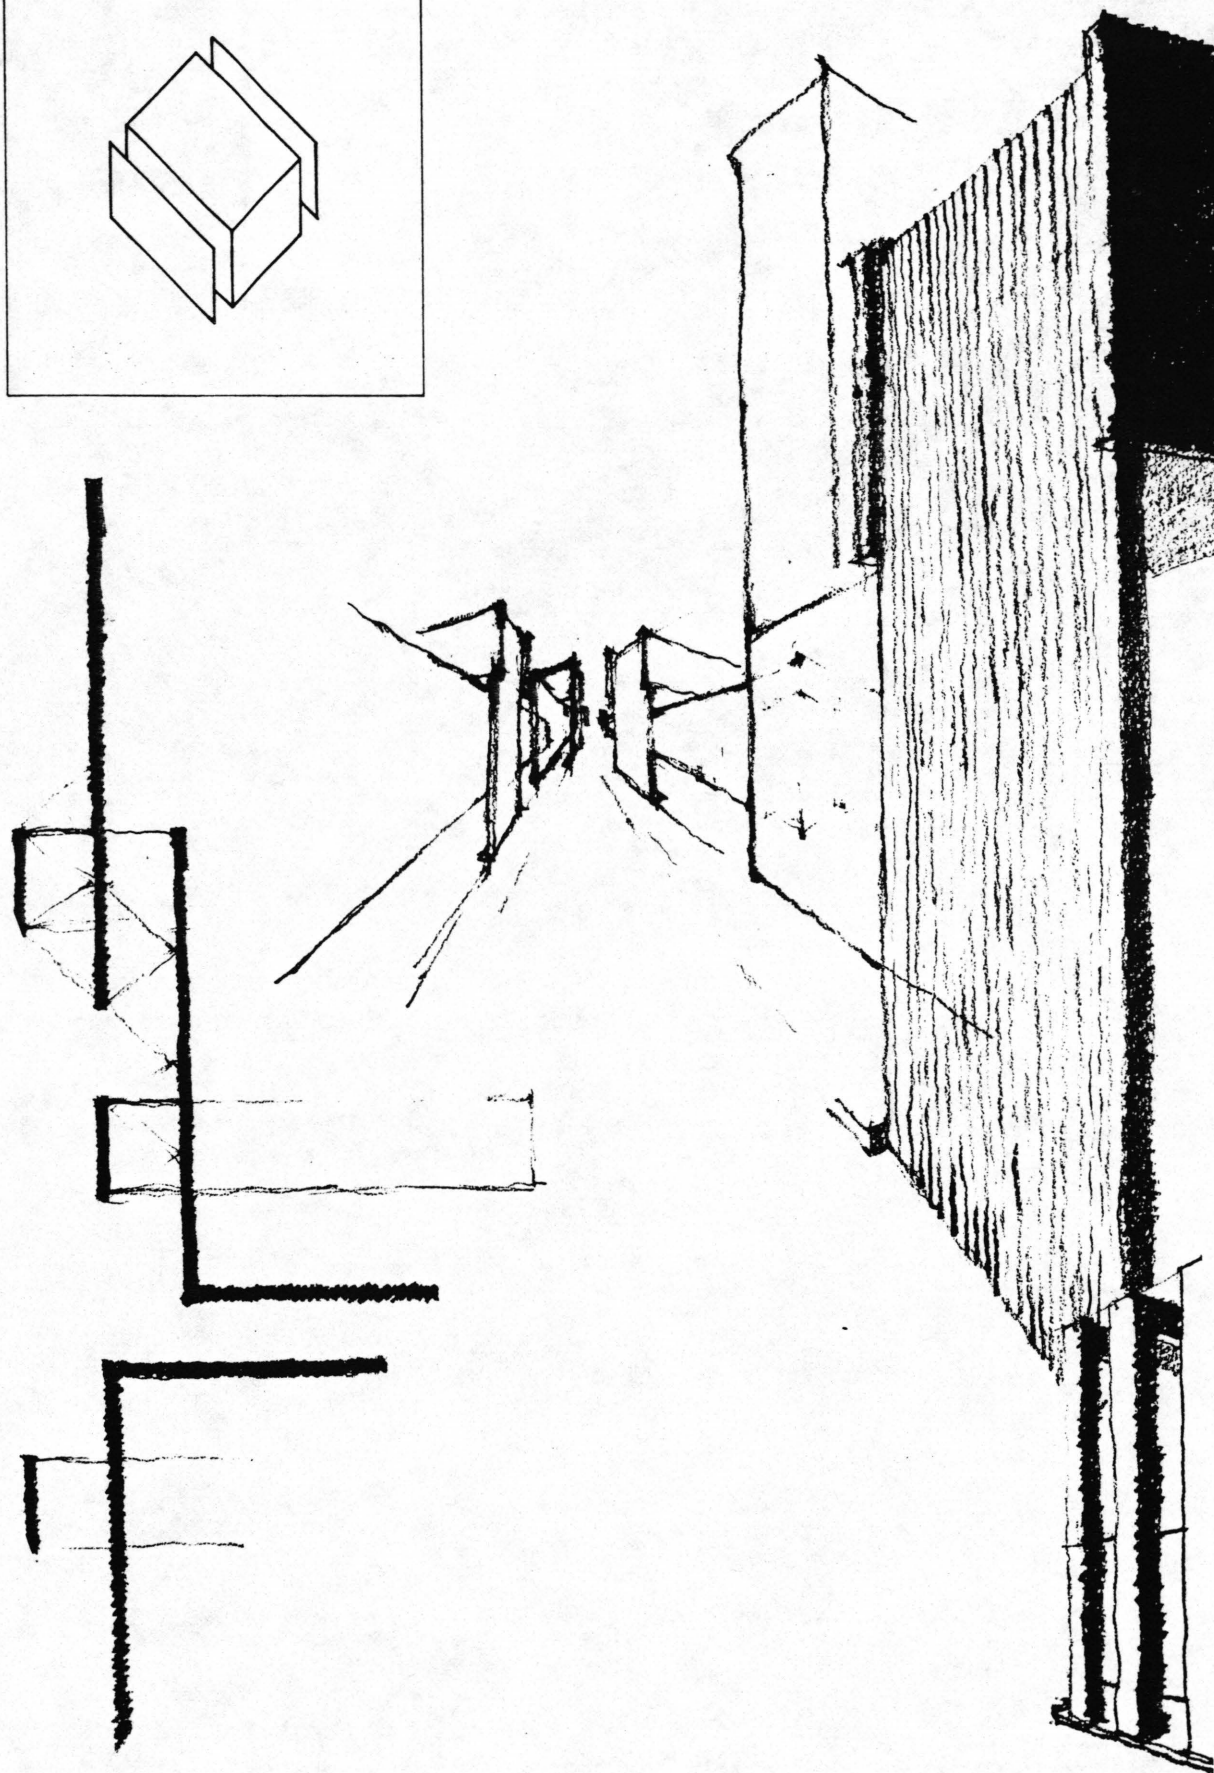

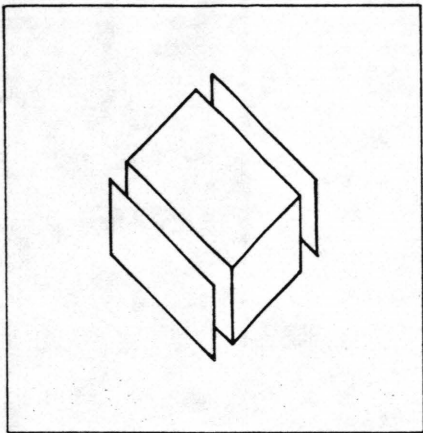

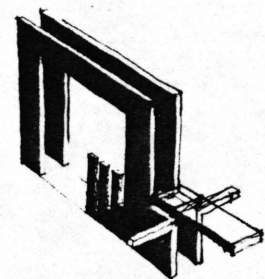

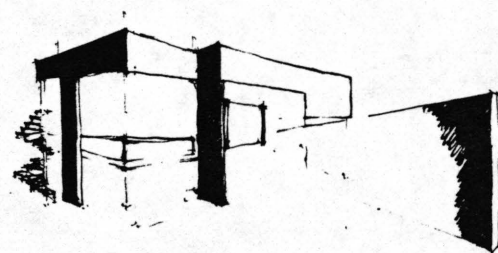

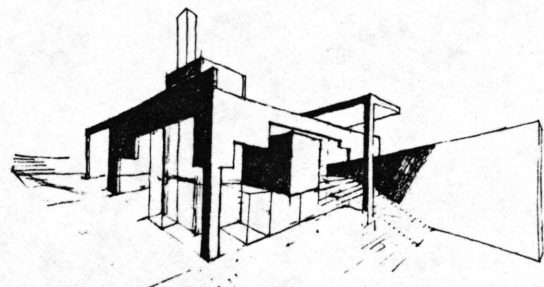

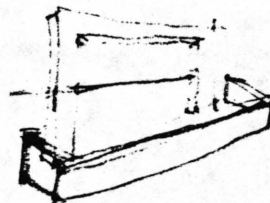

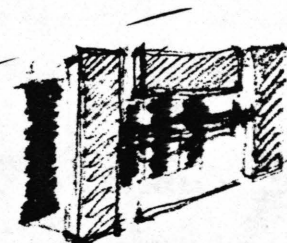

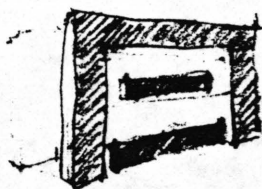

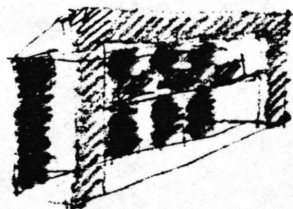

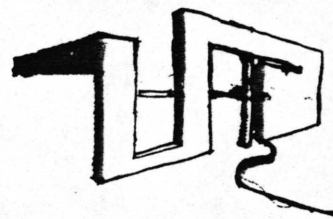

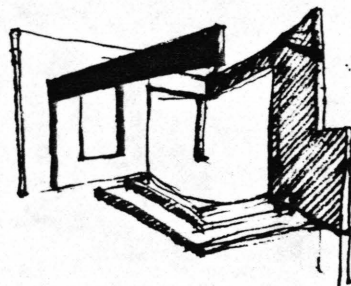

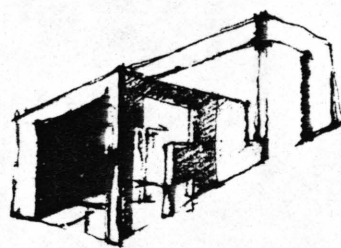

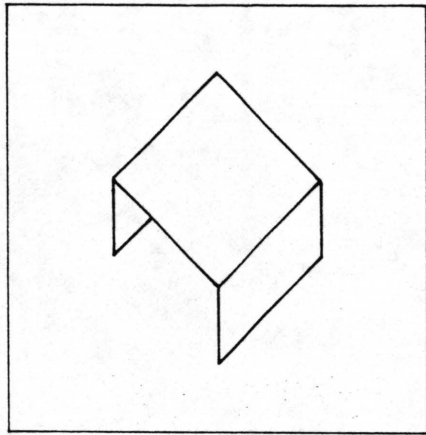

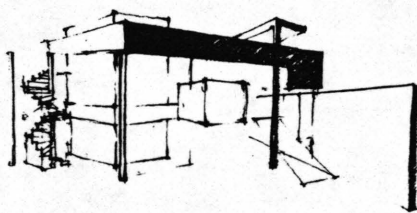

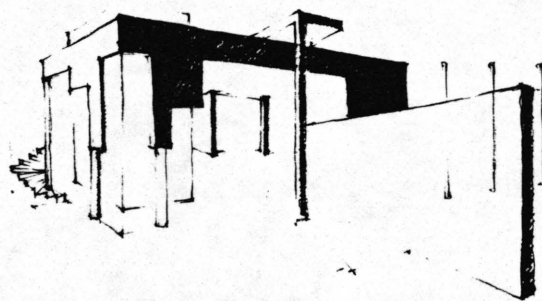

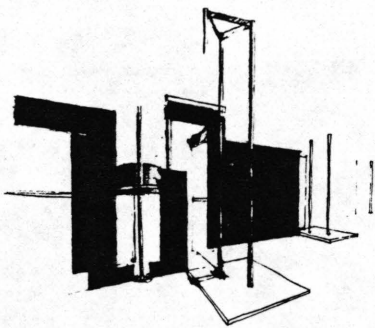

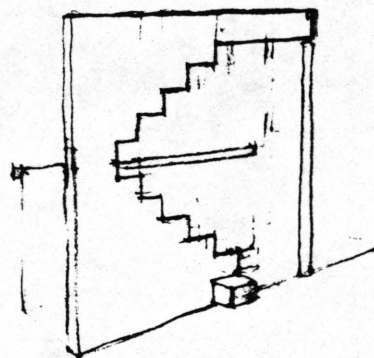

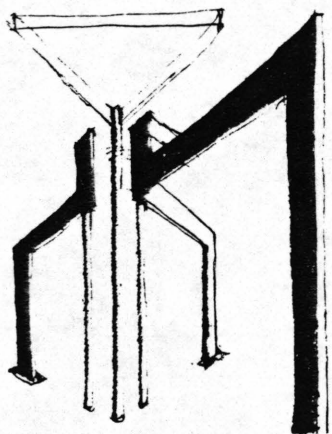

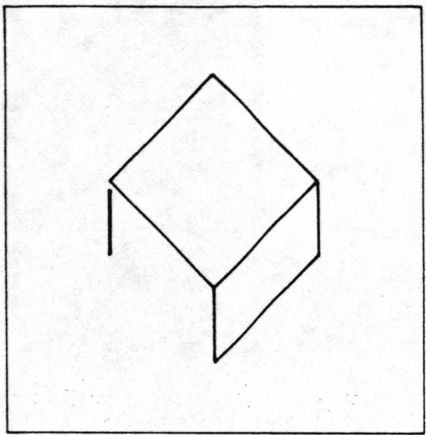

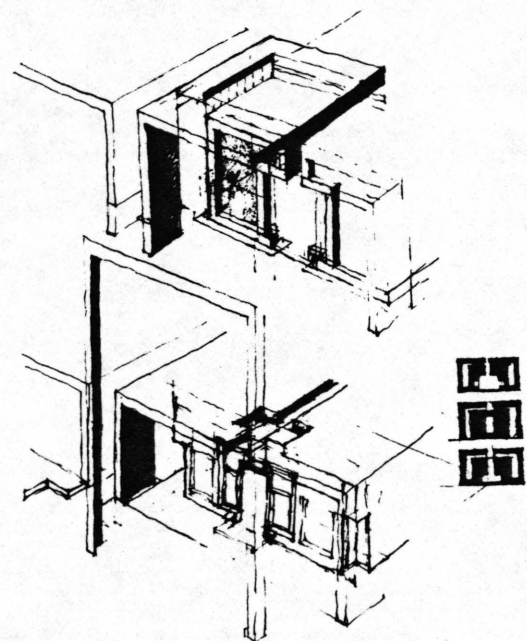

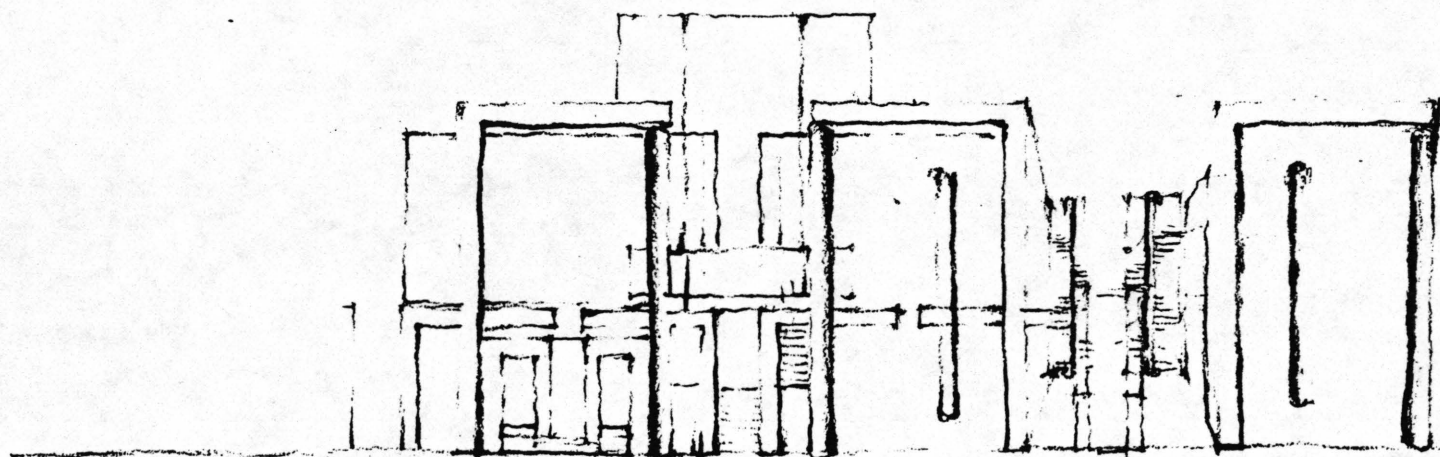

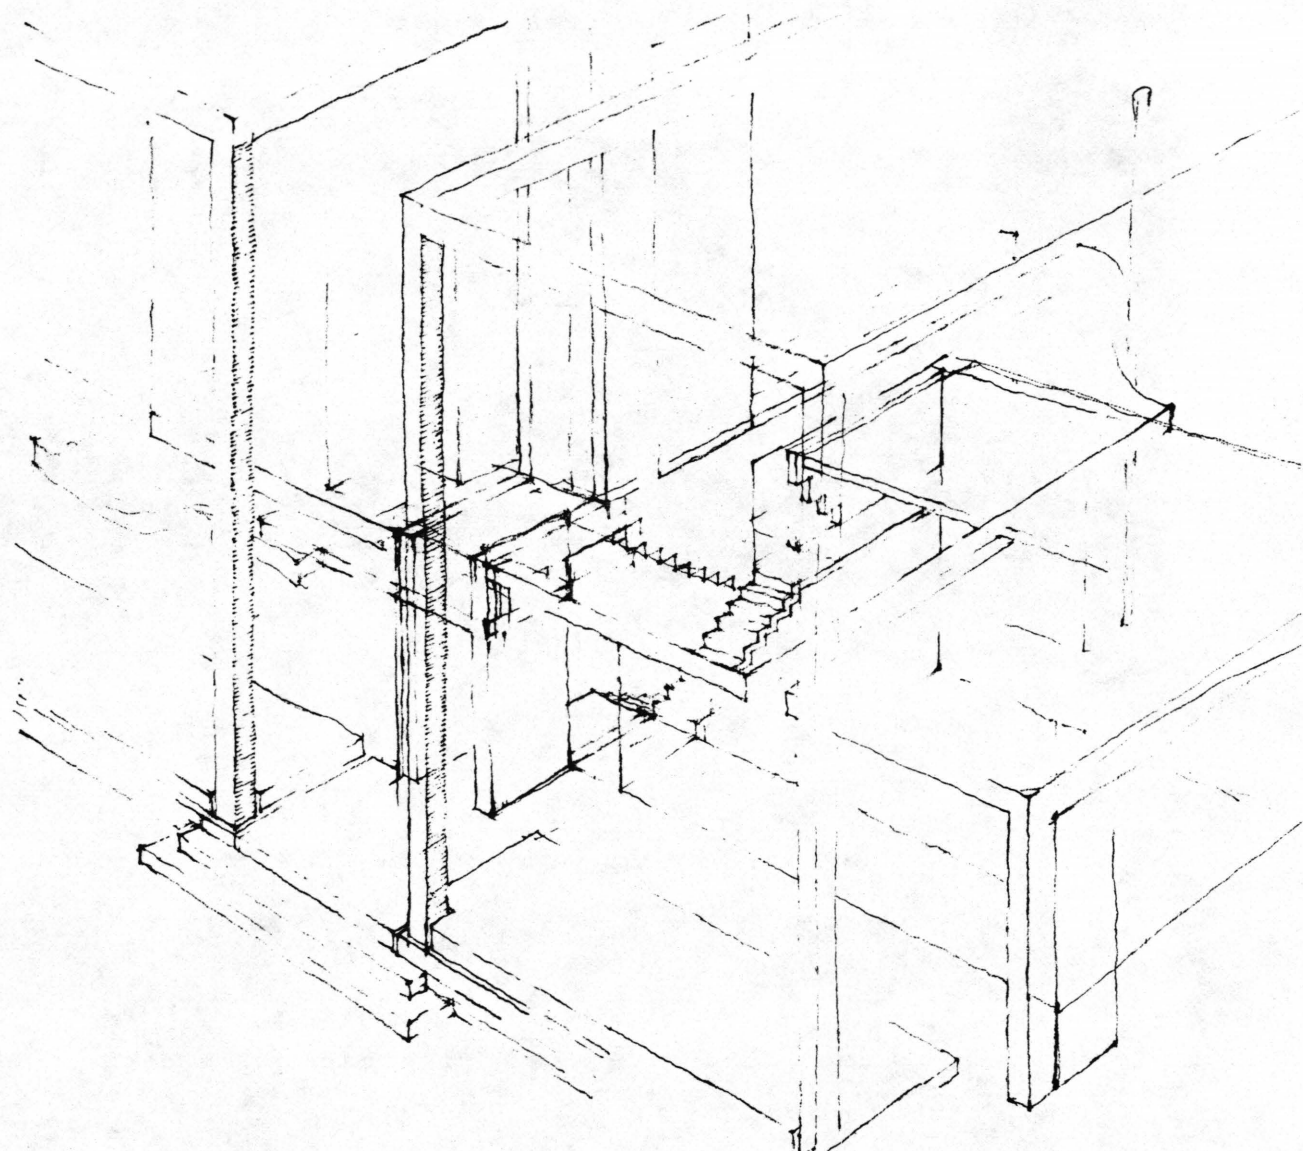

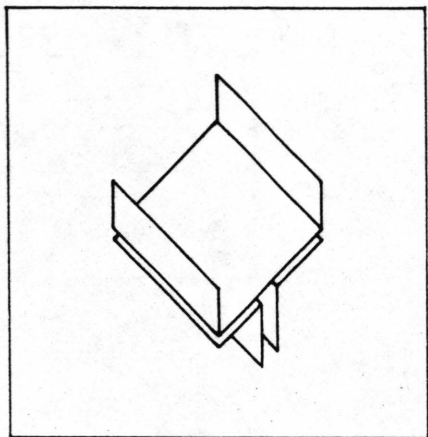

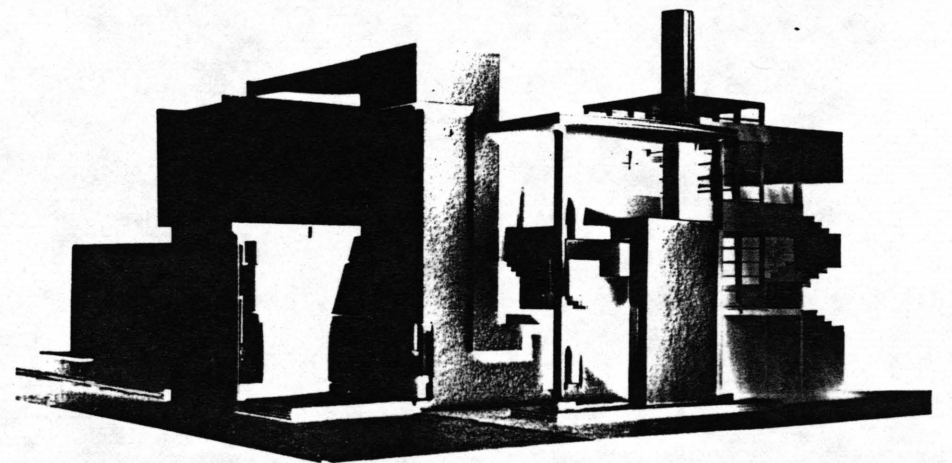

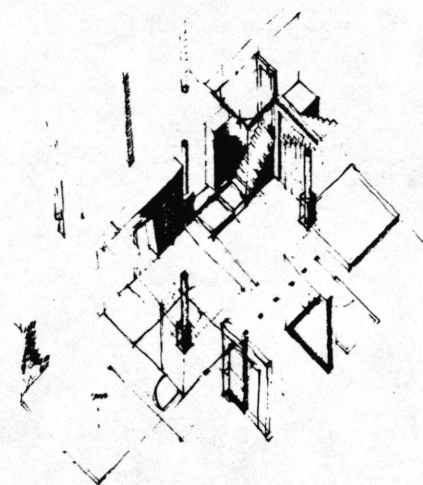

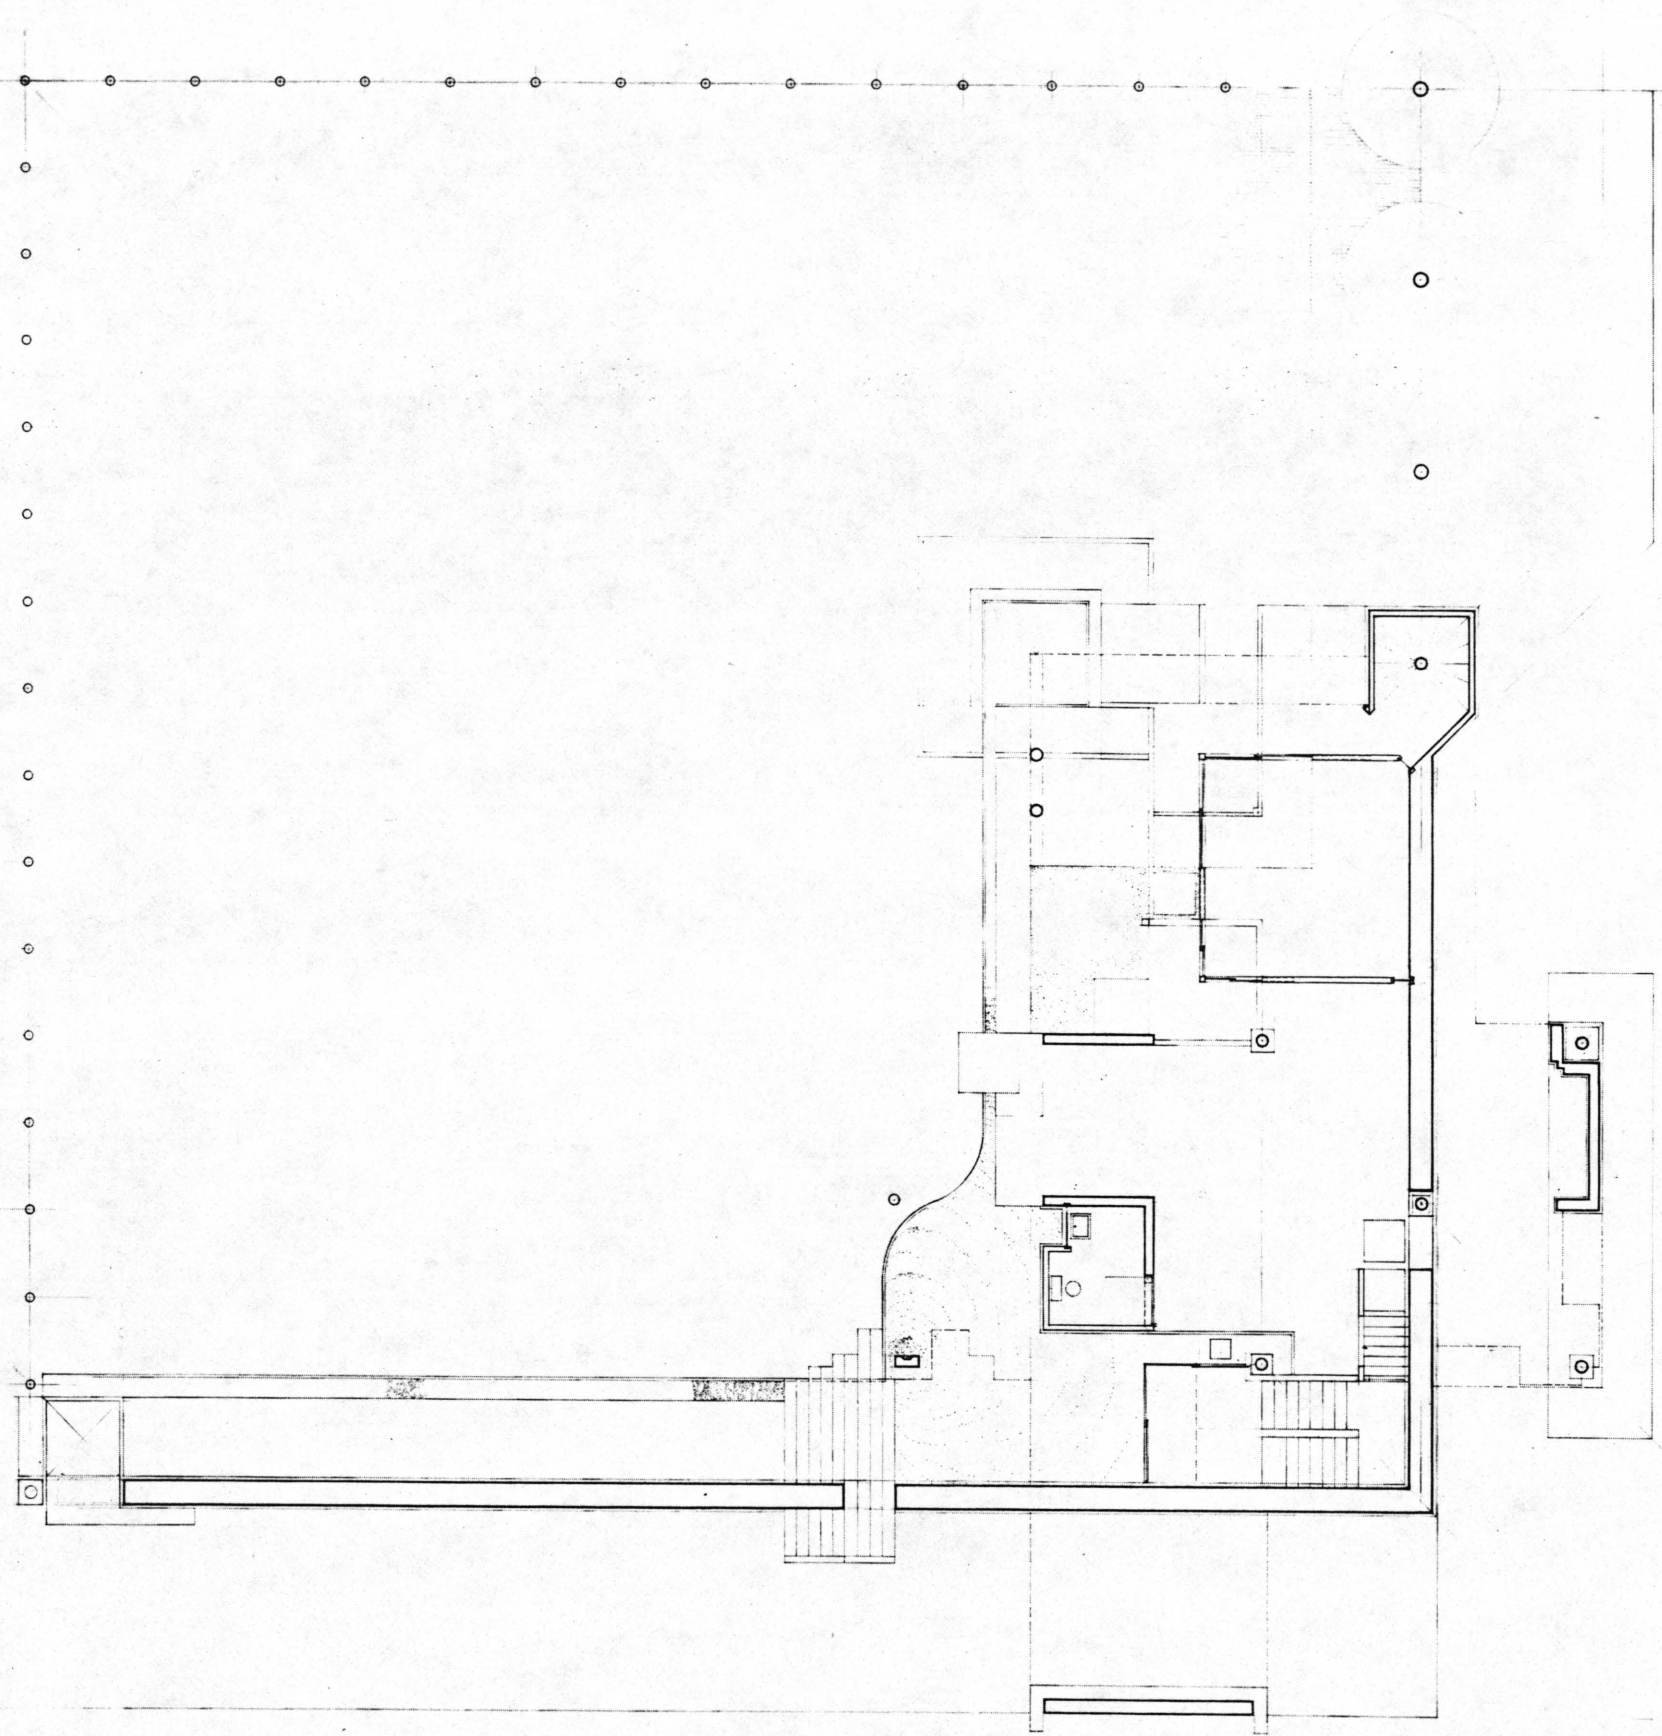

a project

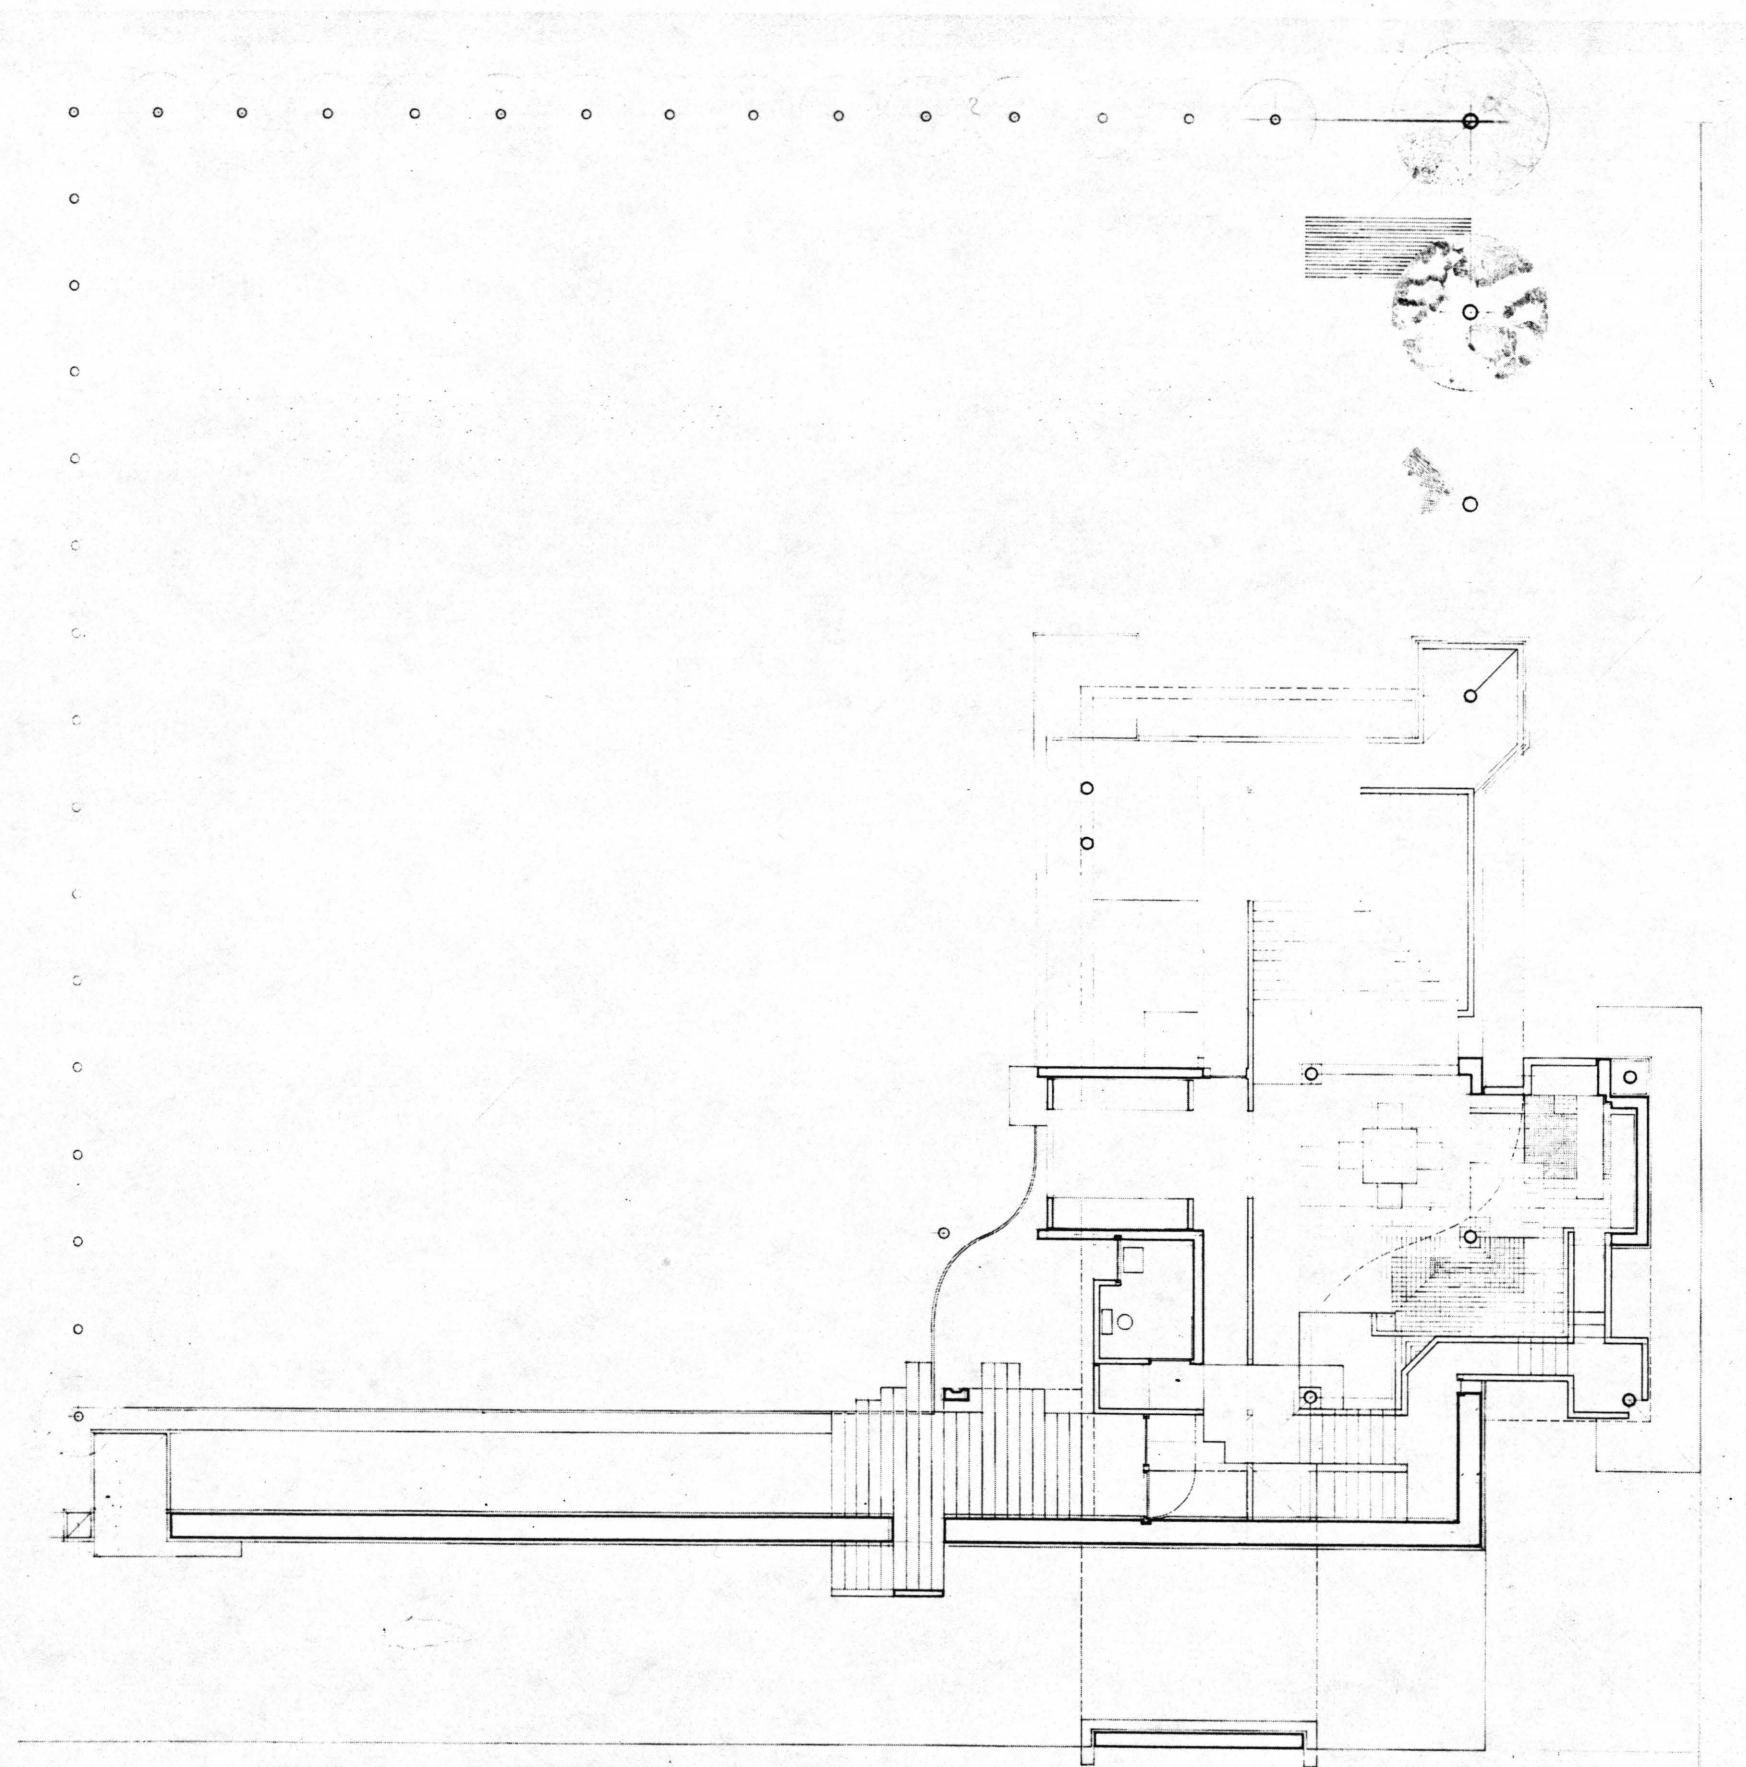

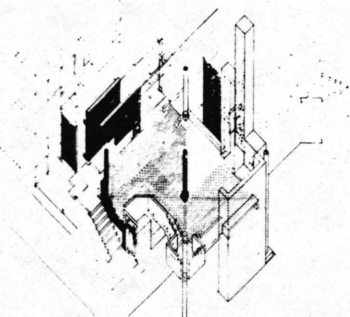

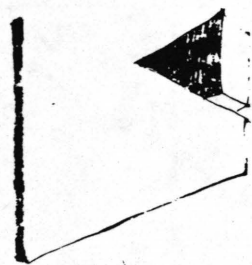

a house at a corner

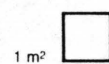

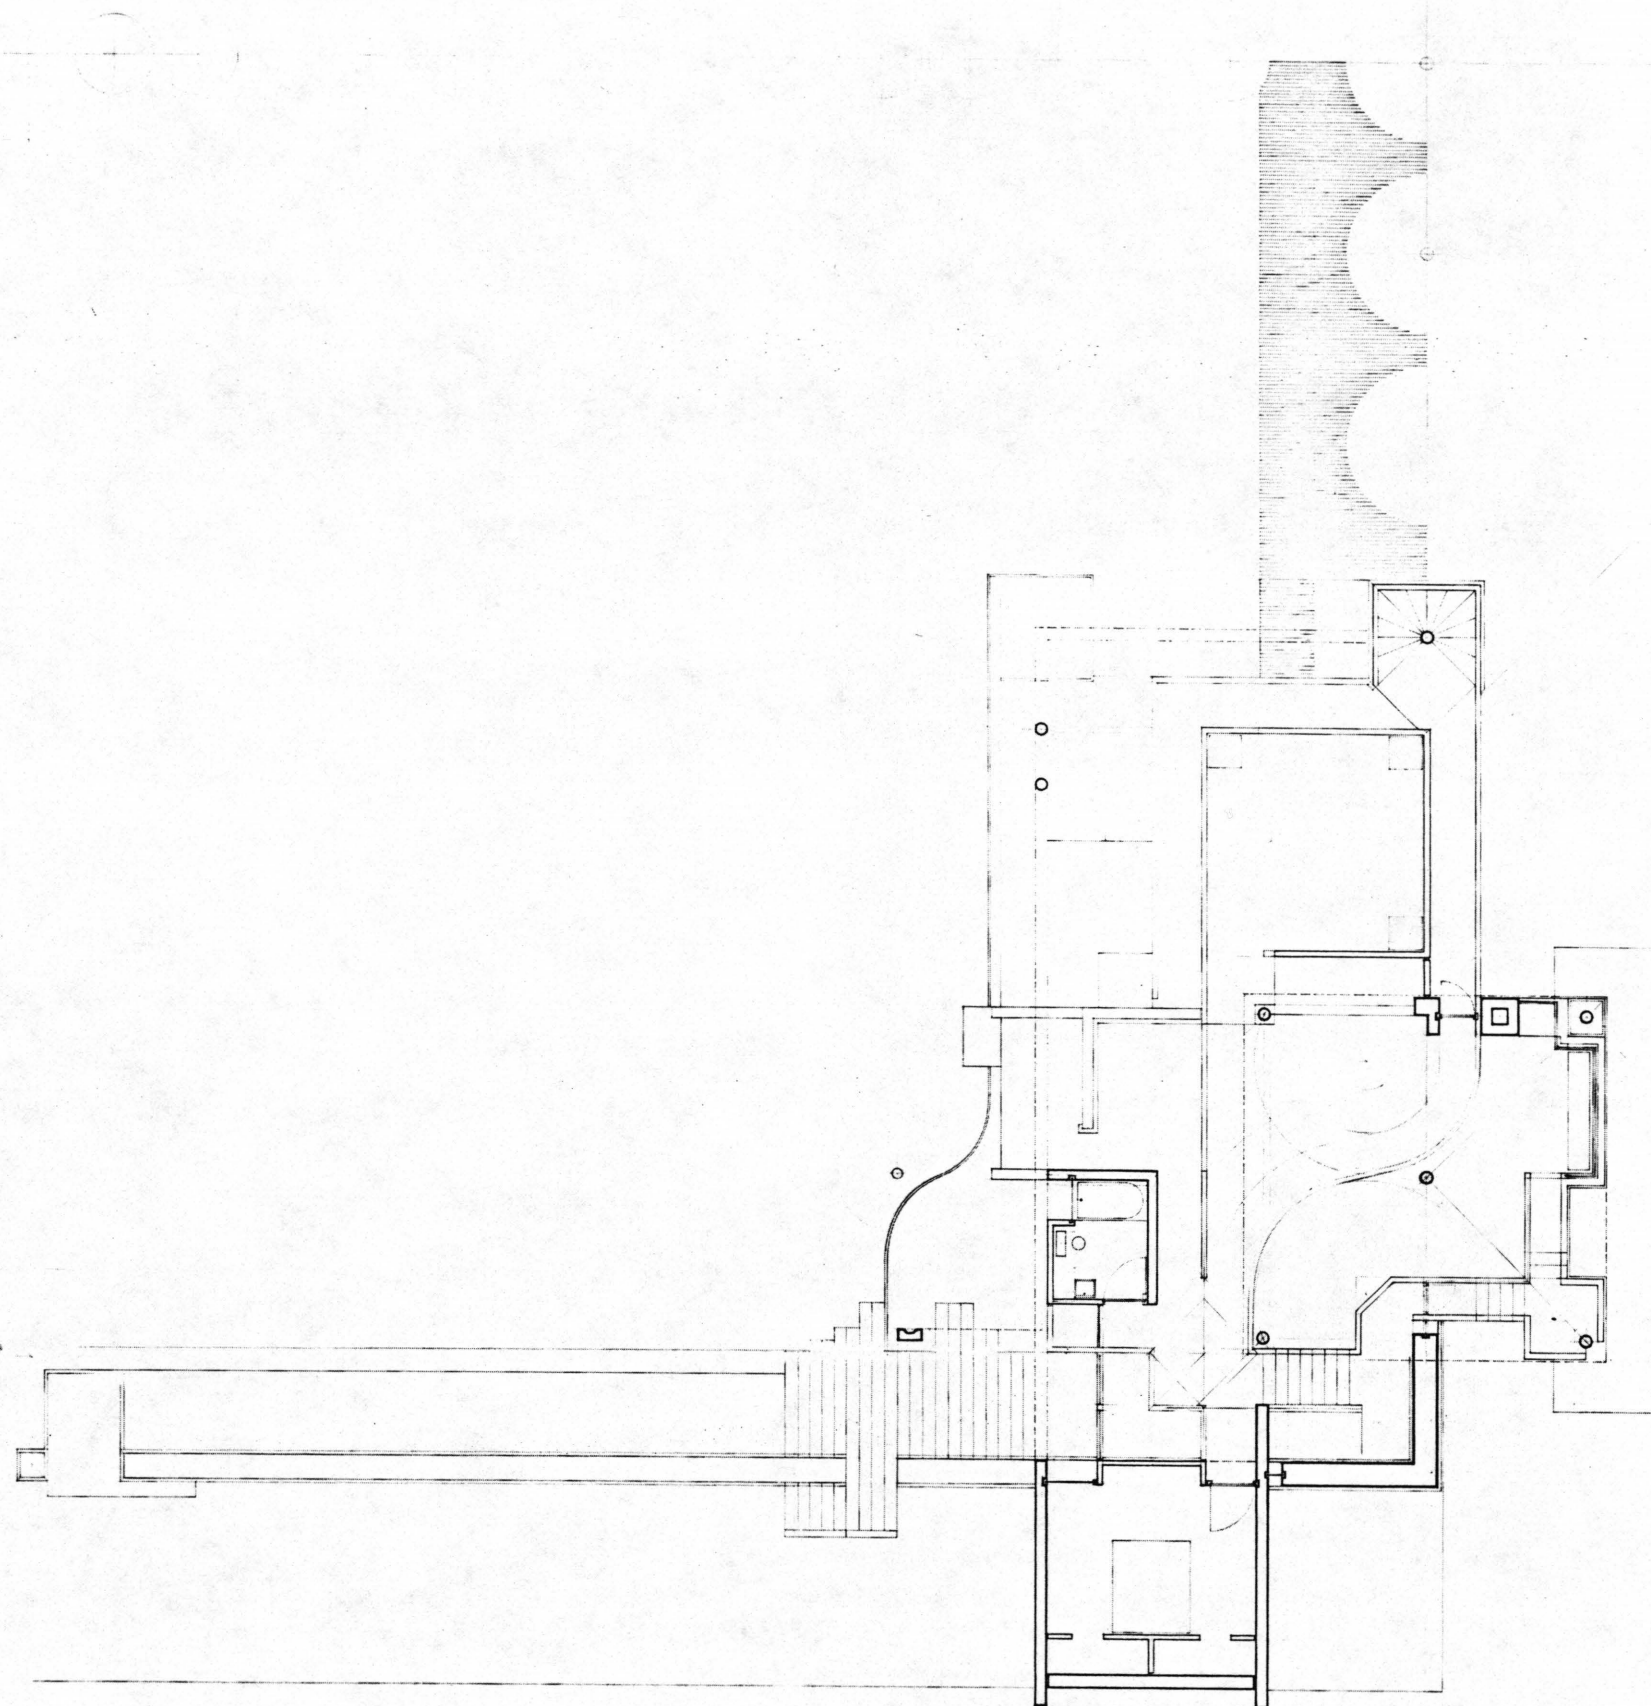

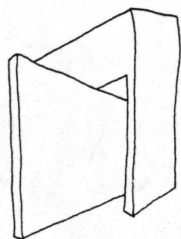

first floor plan

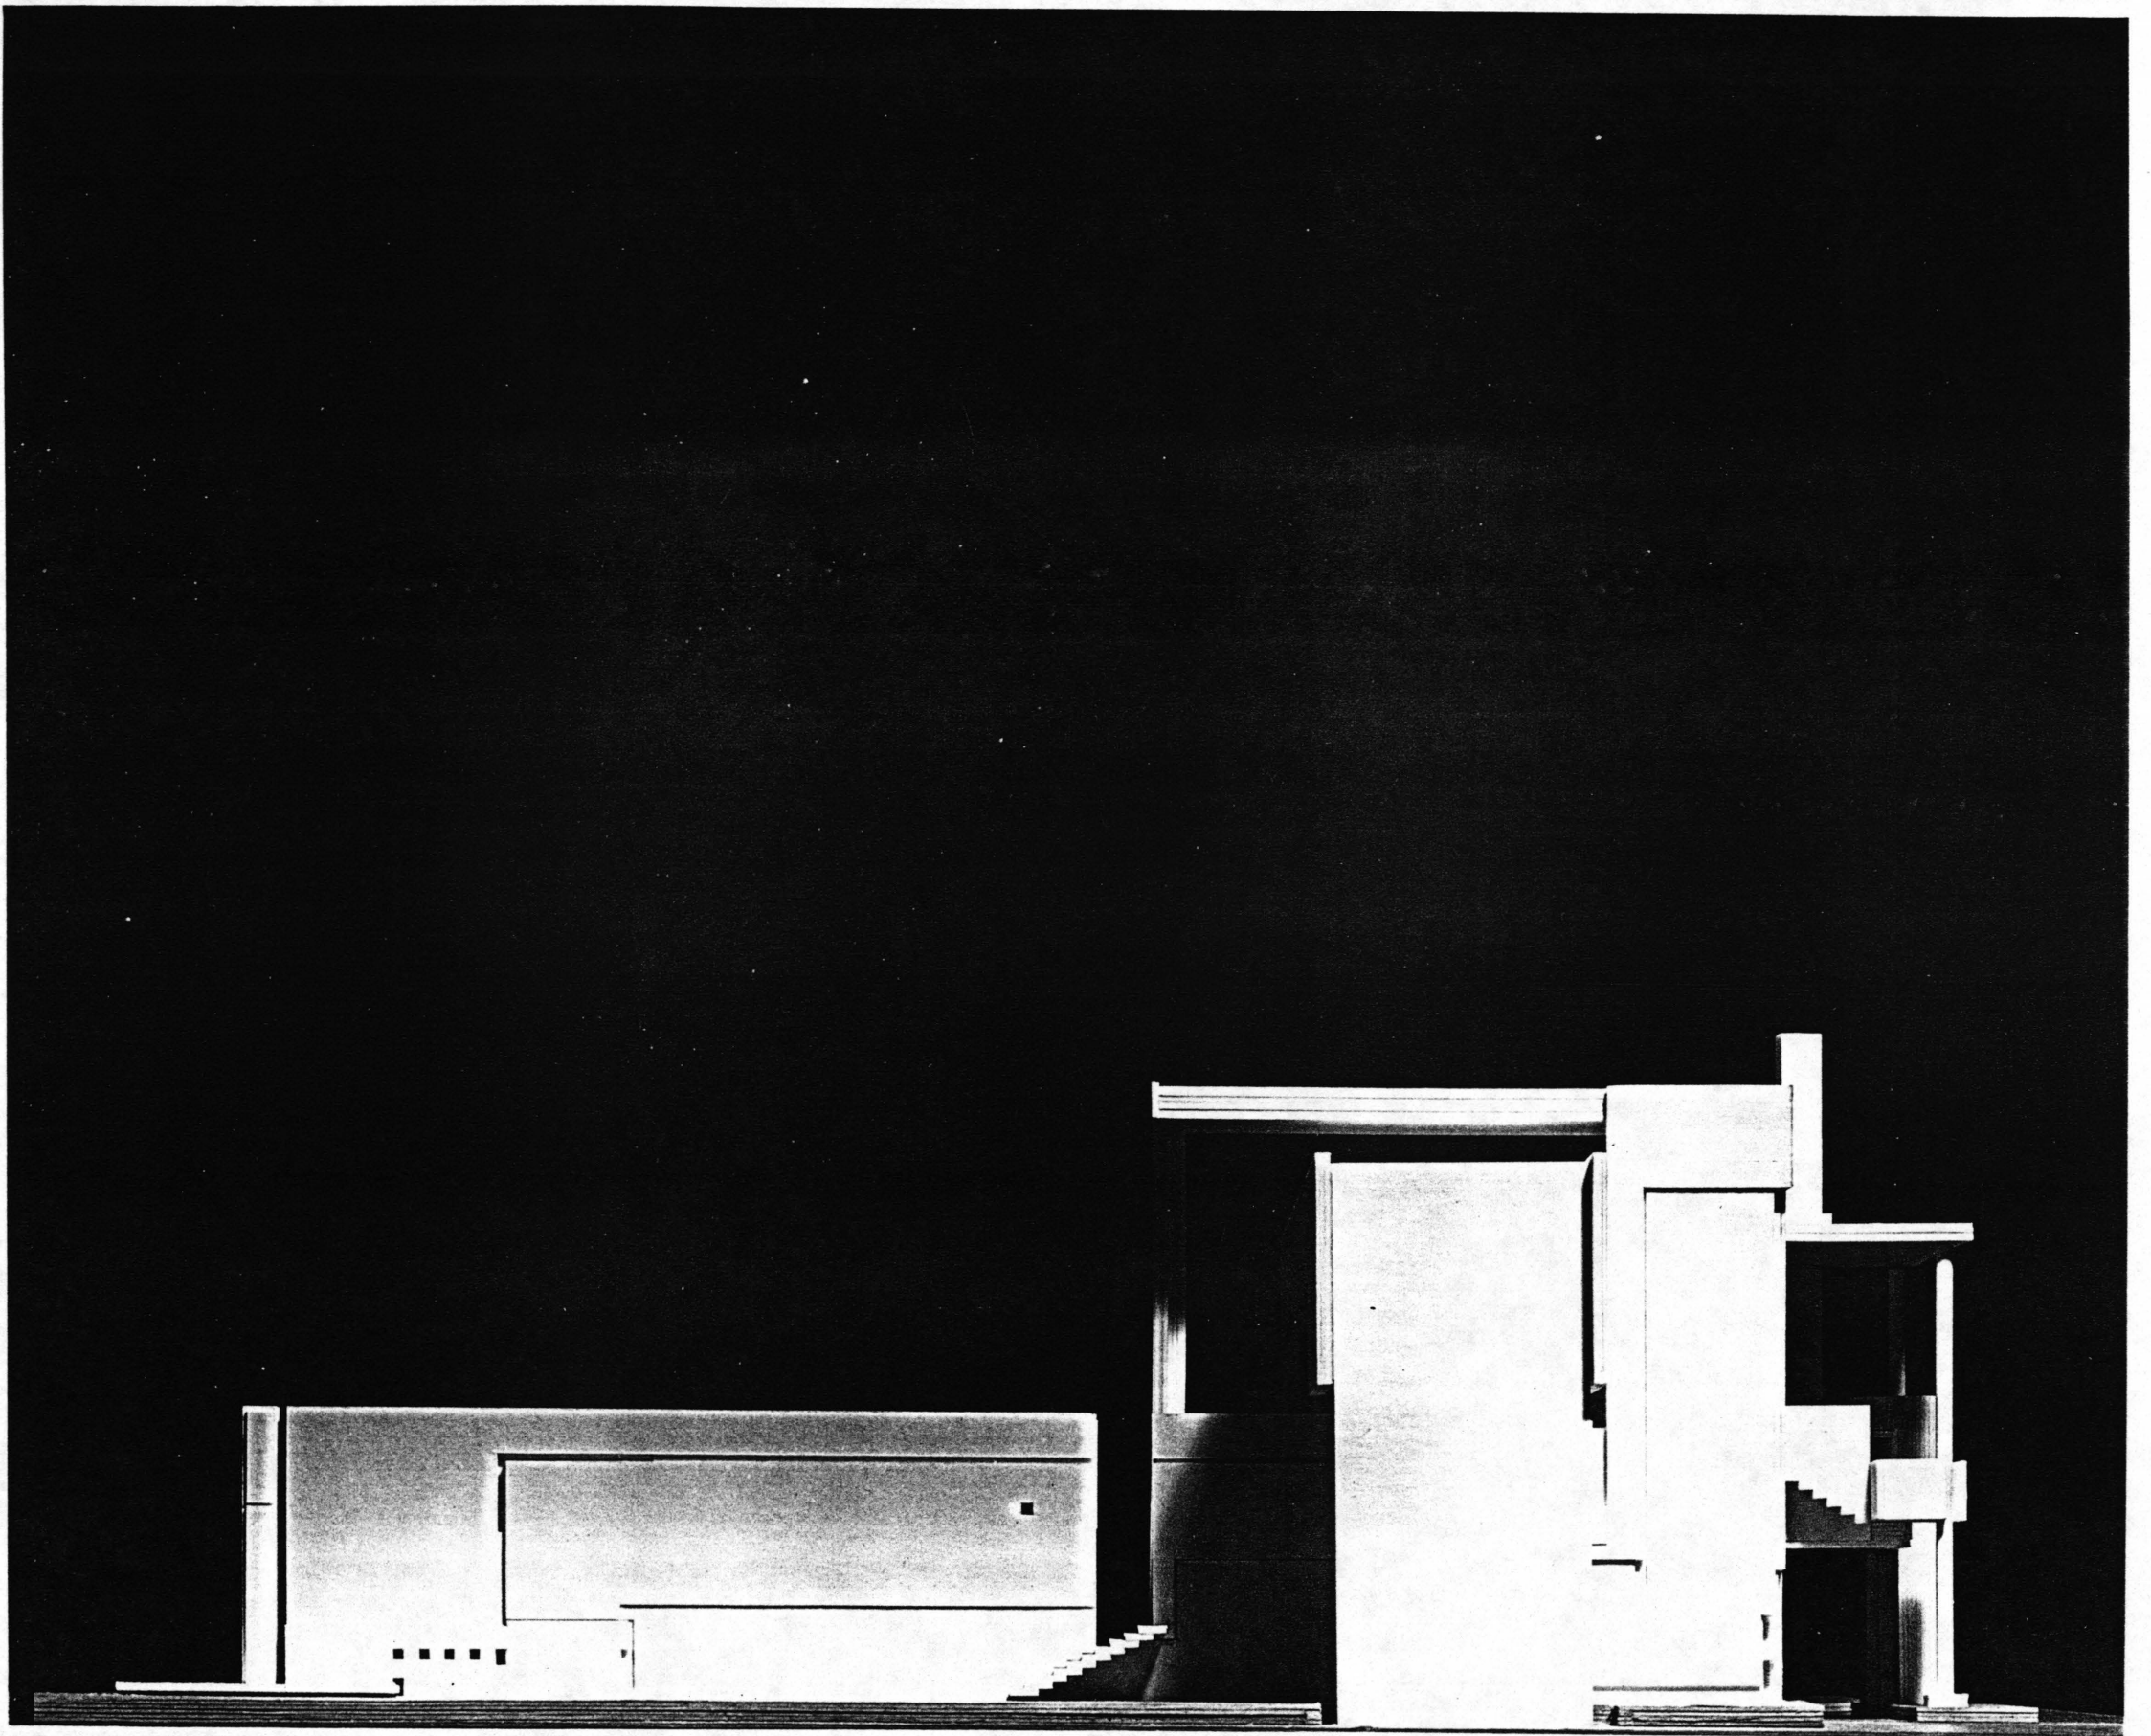

second floor plan

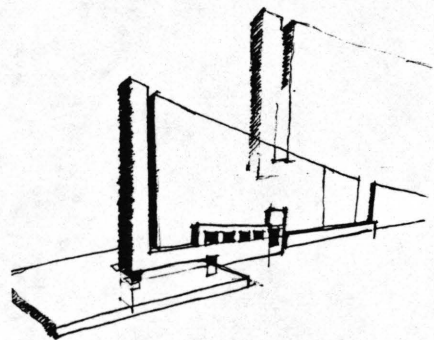

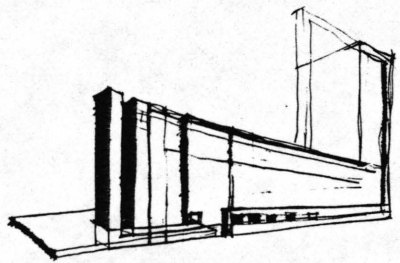

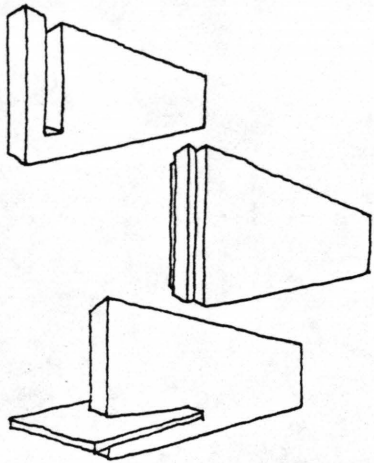

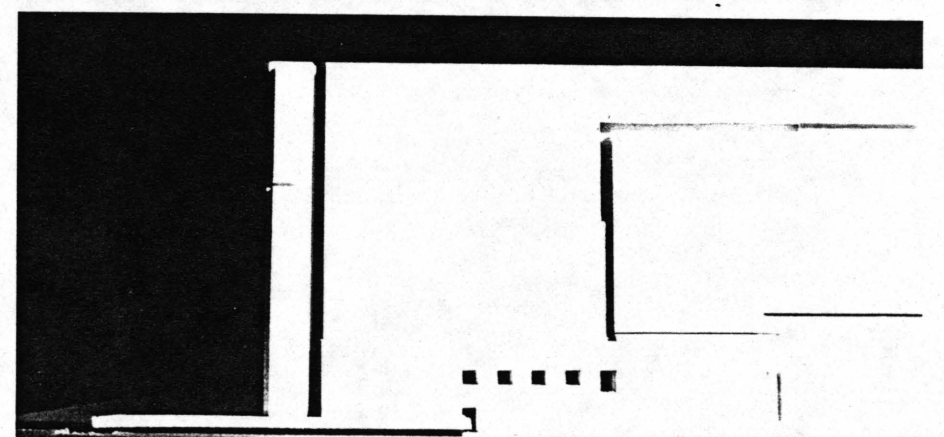

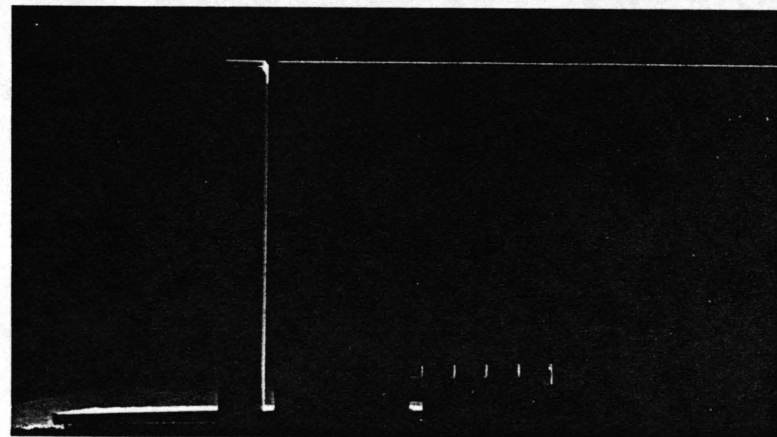

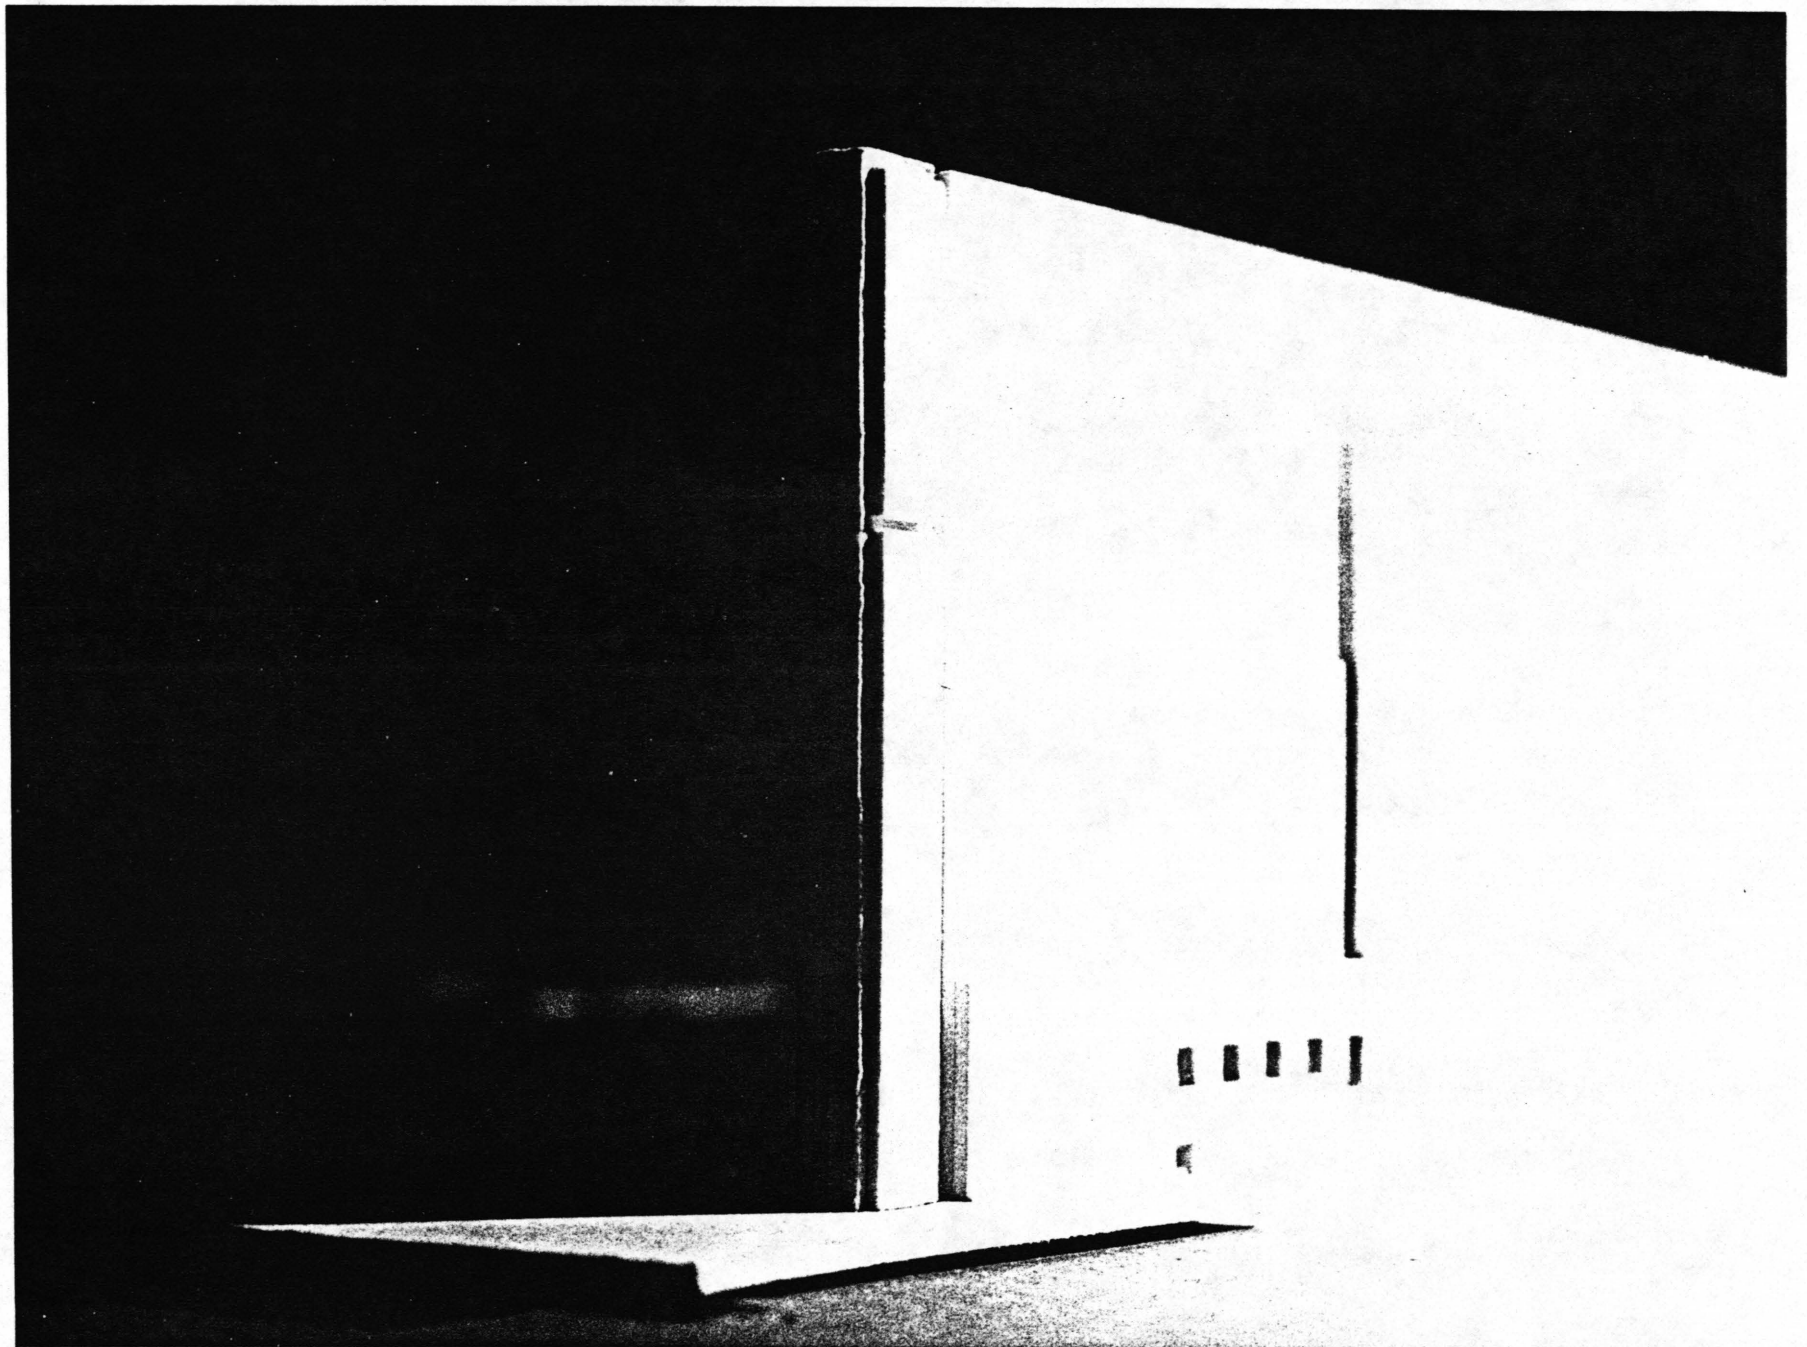

third floor plan

a wall, a beginning, an end a wall, an opening, a stair a wall, a corner

a wall, a column

a wall, a column a column, a curve a wall, a stair, an end a wall, a walkway, a stair

a wall, a column
a wall, an entrance

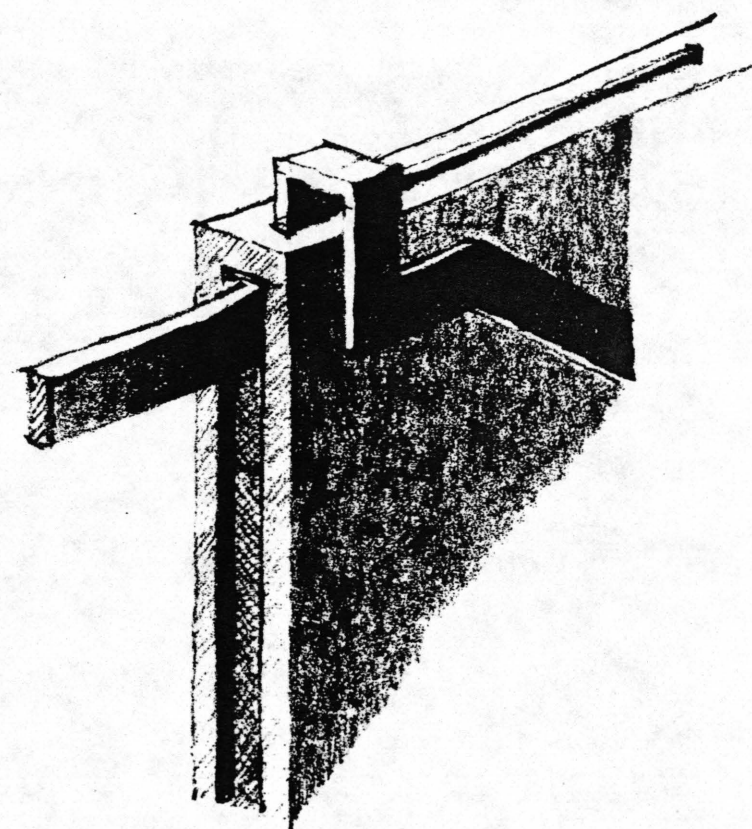

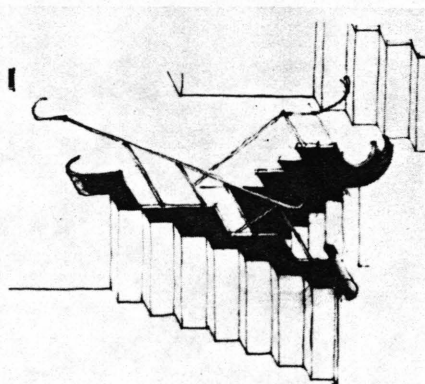

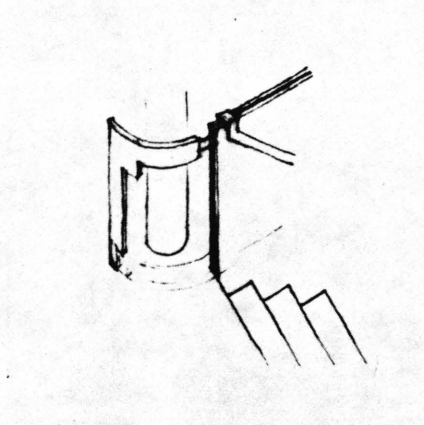

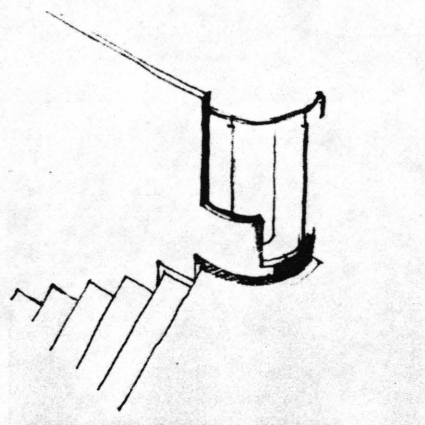

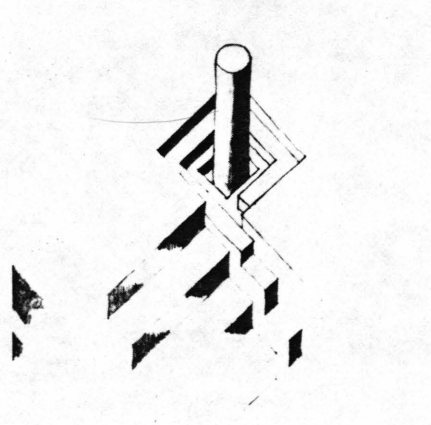

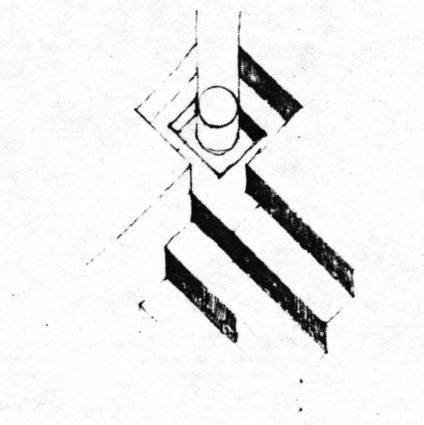

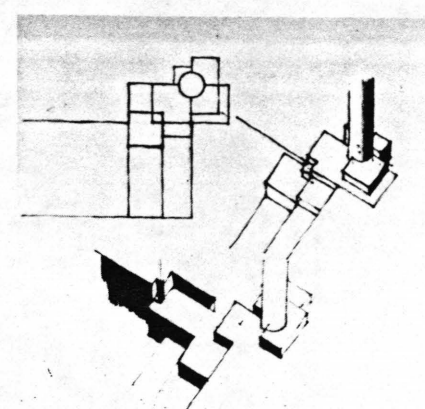

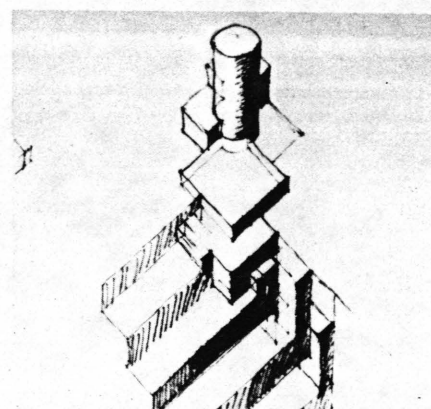

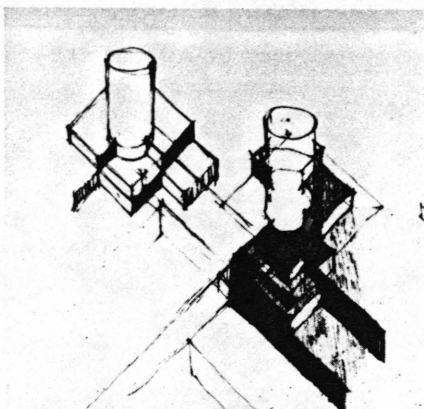

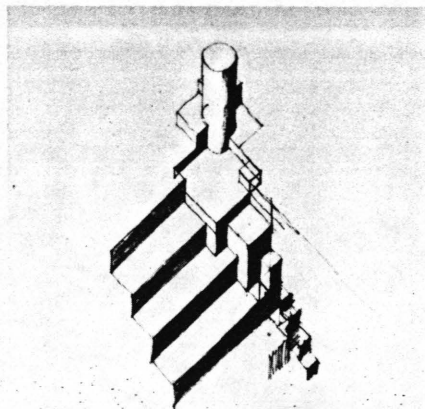

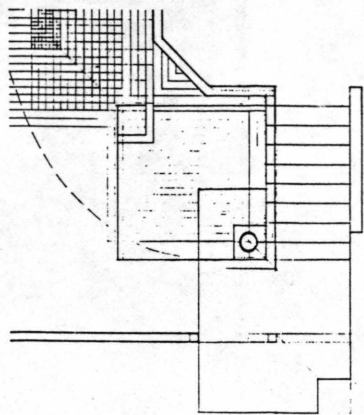

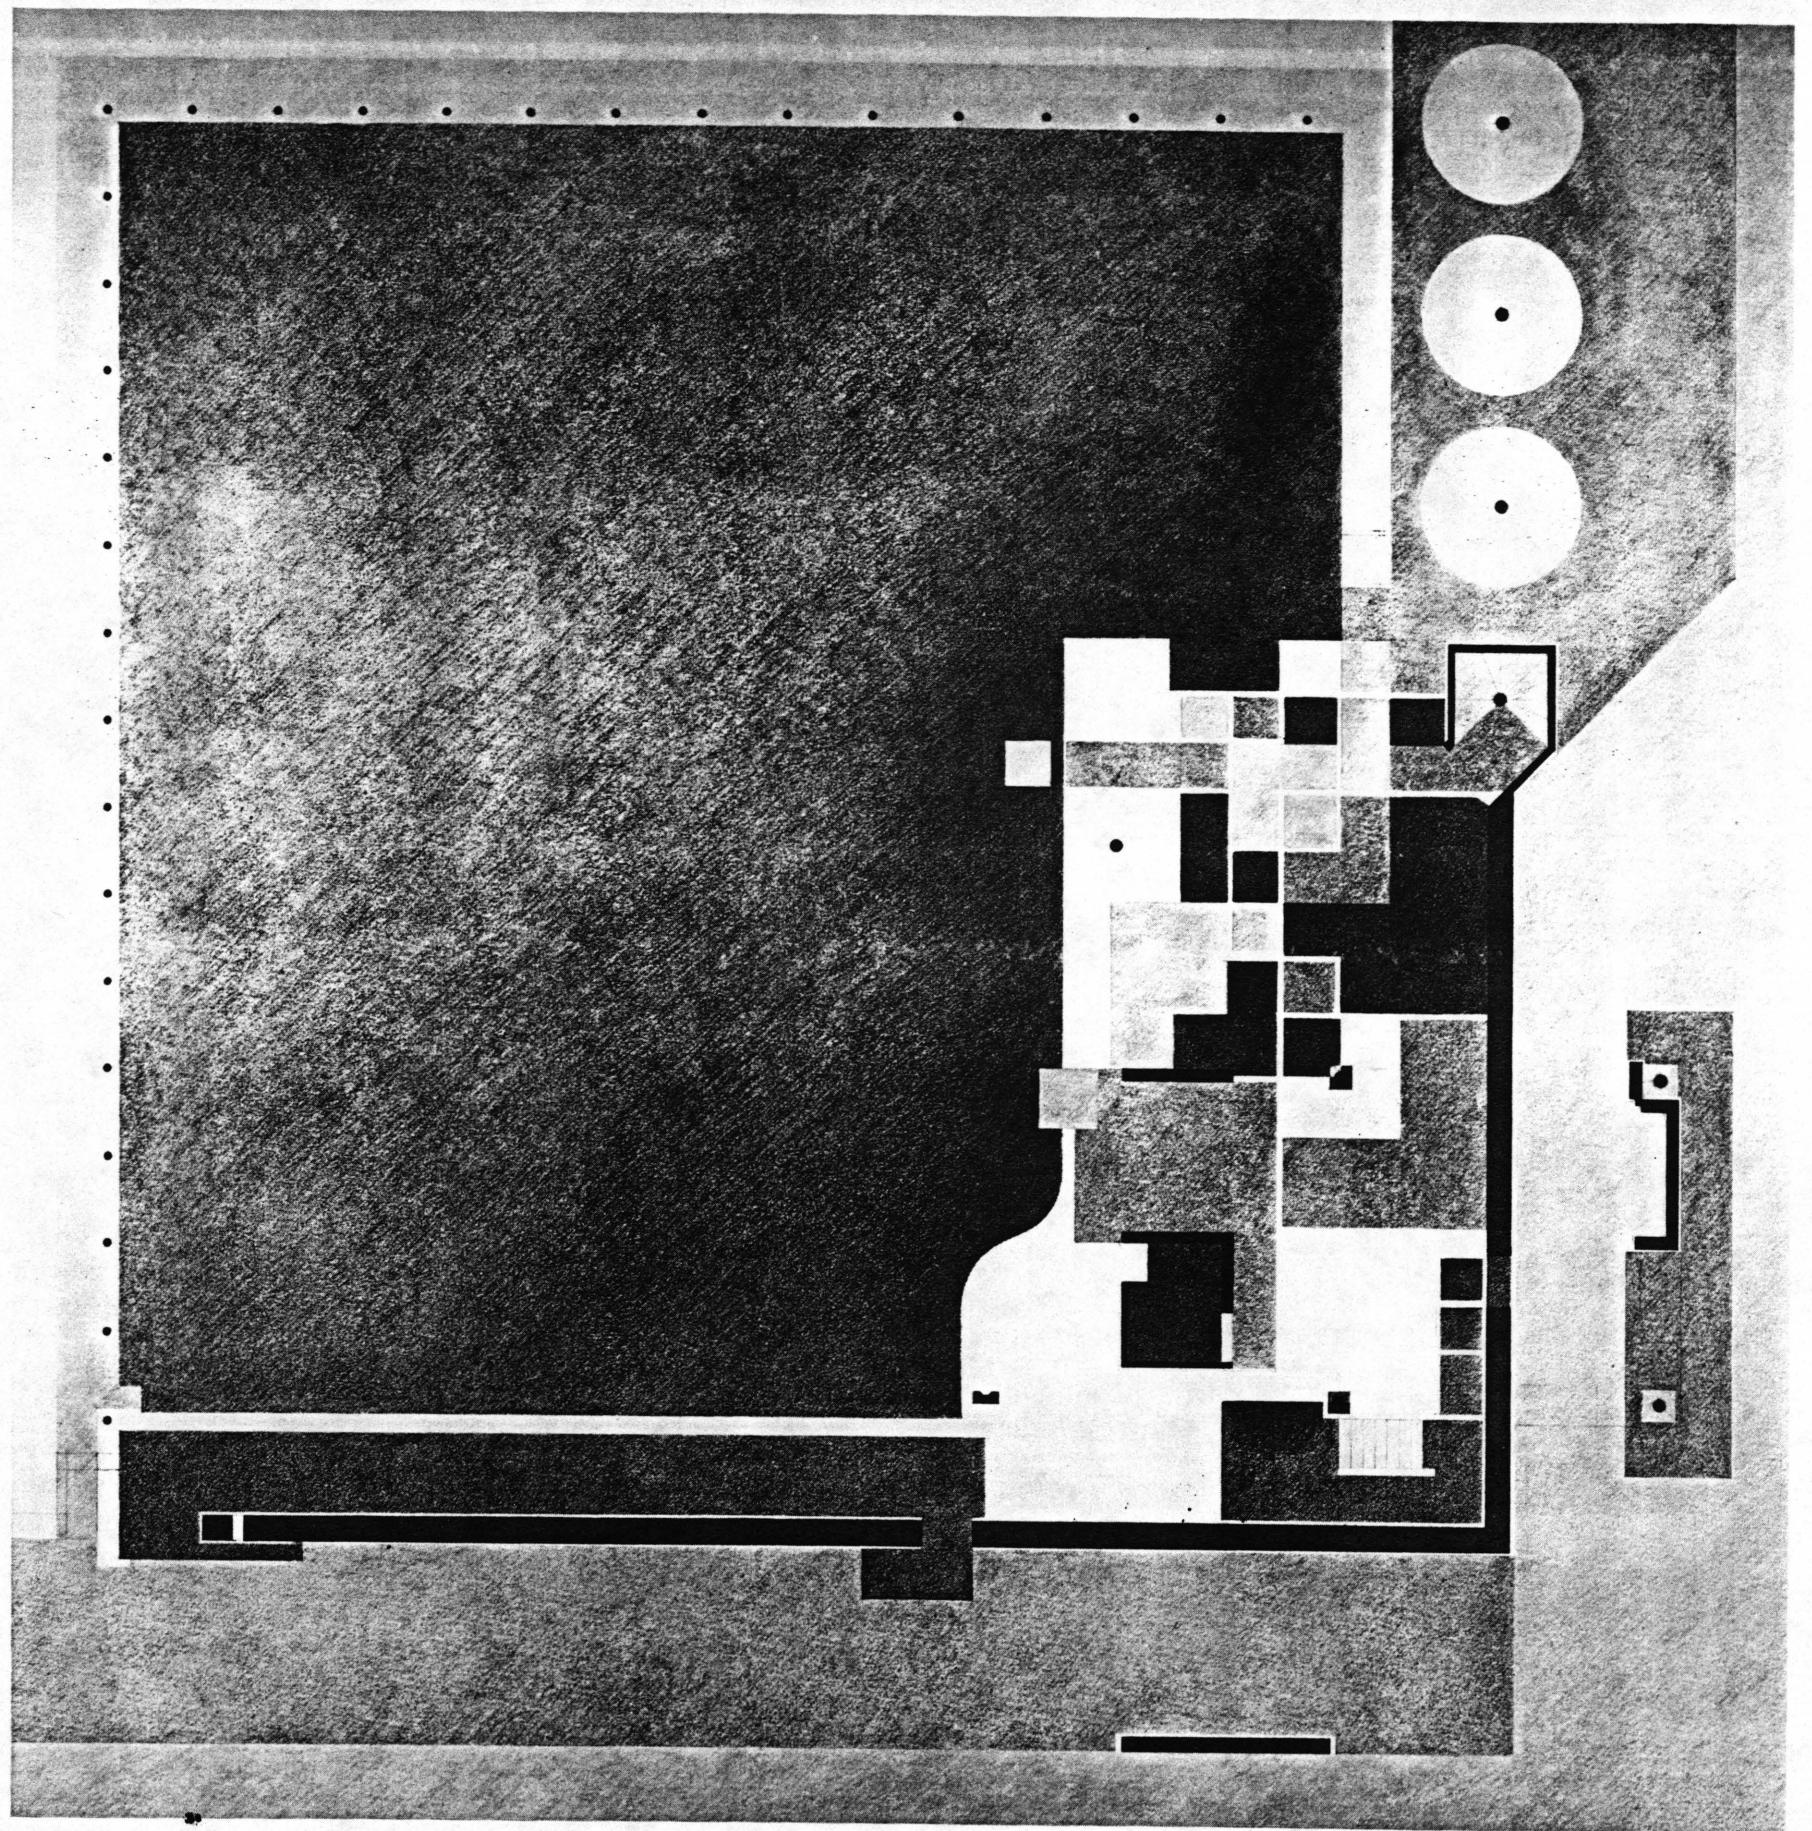

axonometric
study
second floor

a wall, a door

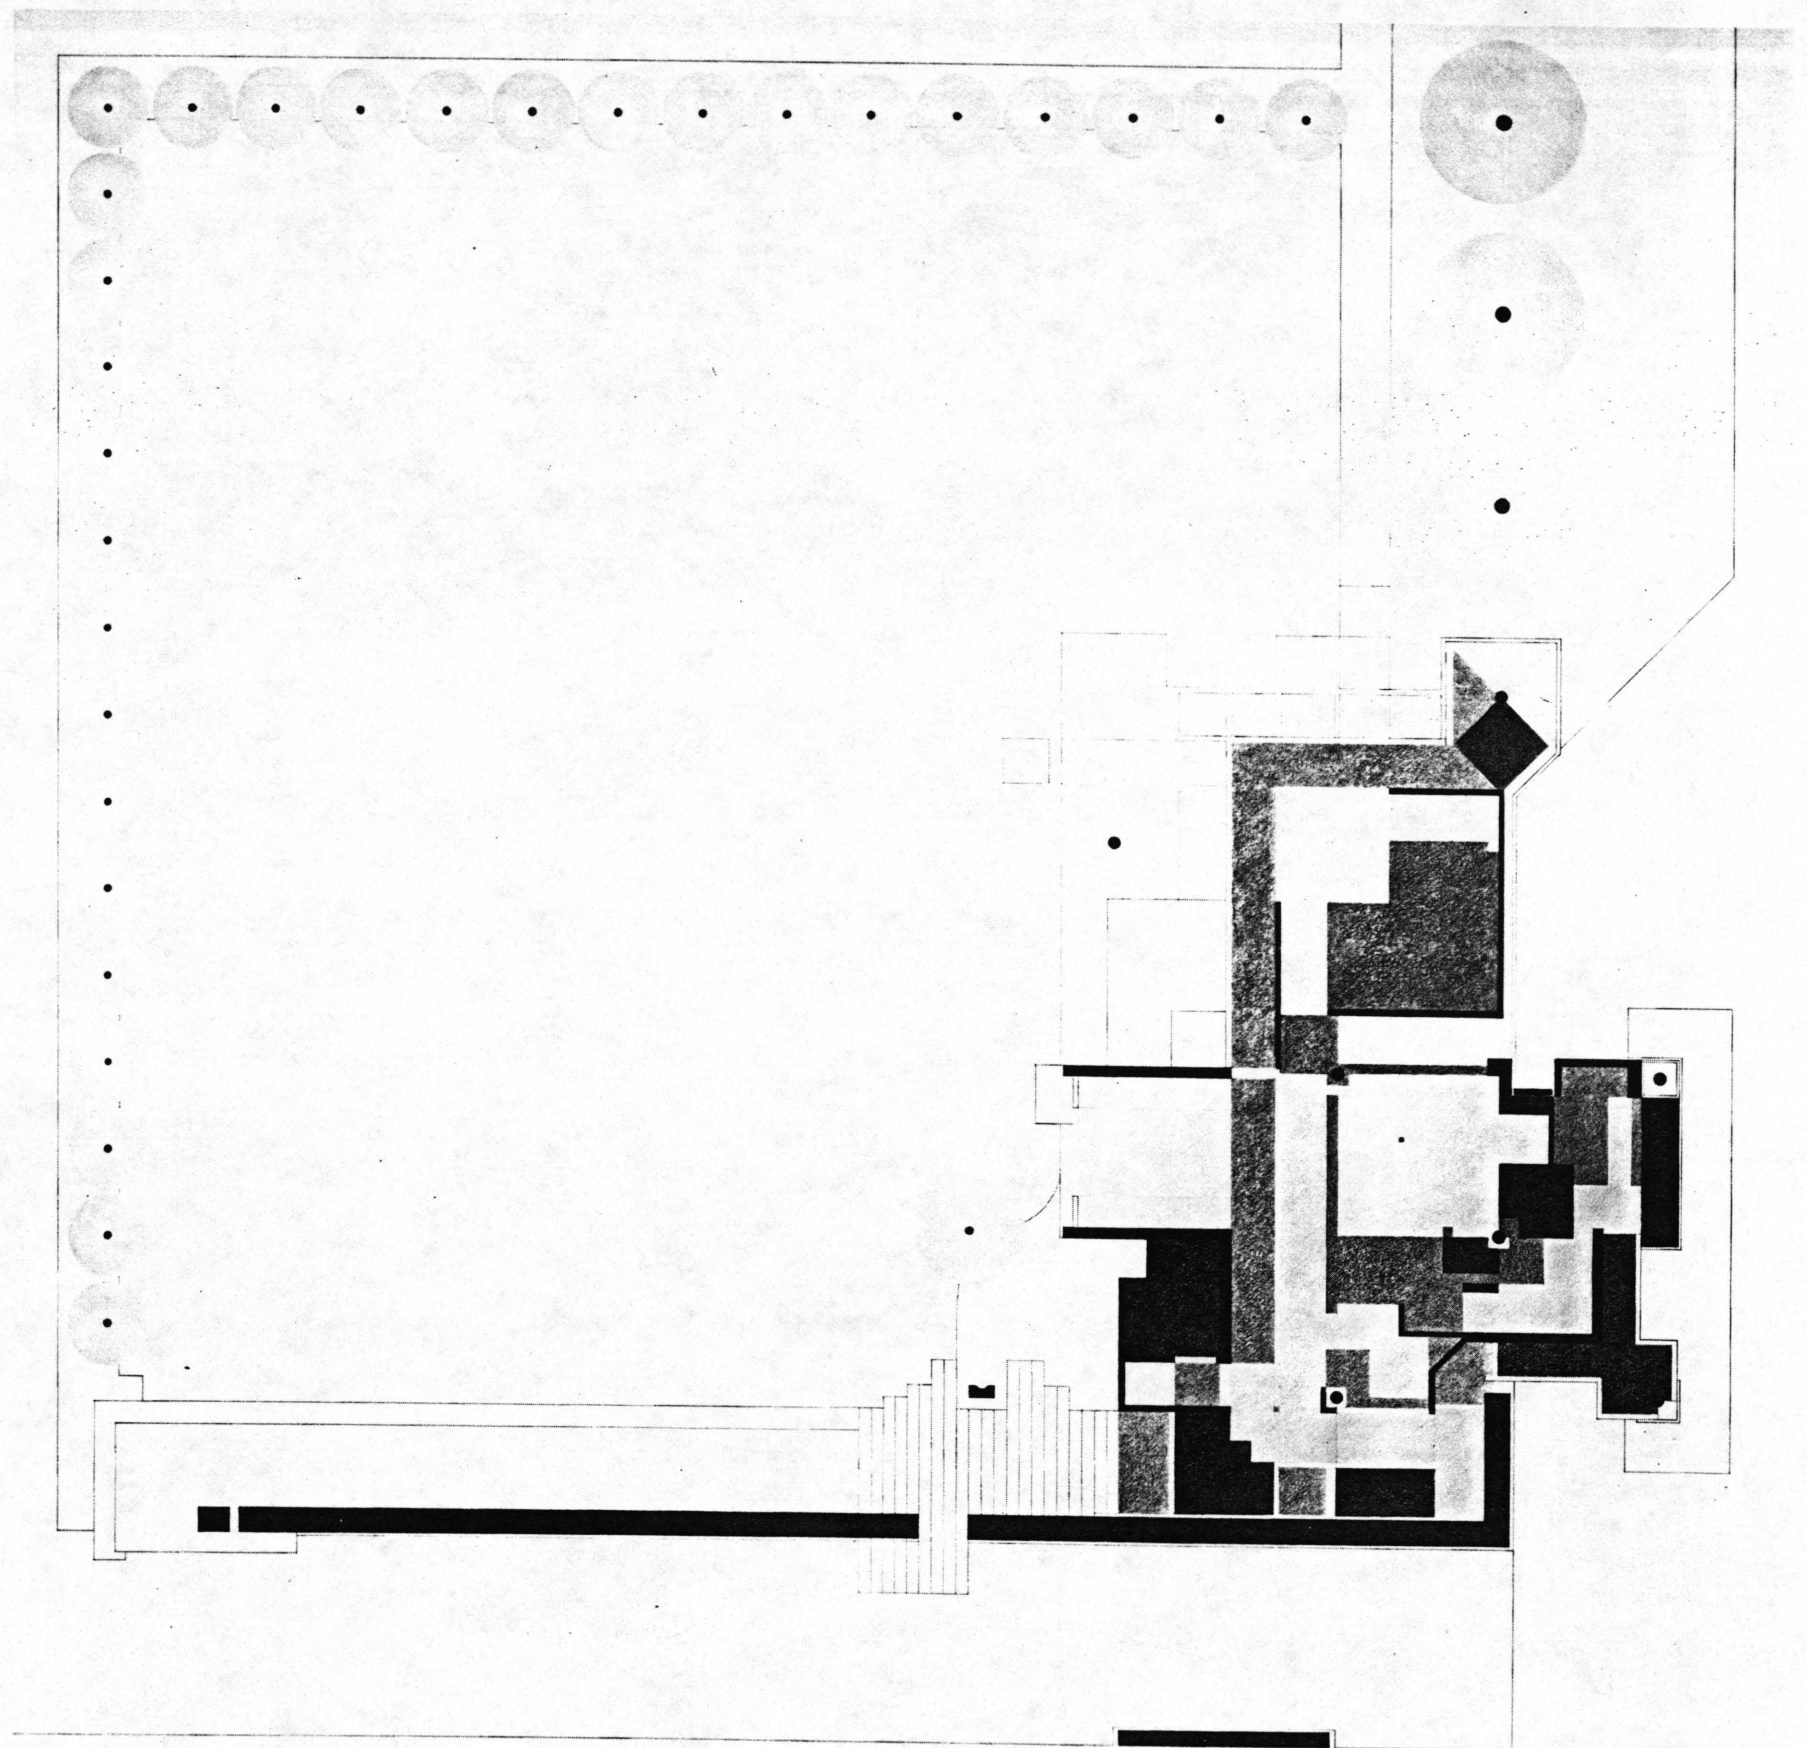

a column, a stair, a handrail

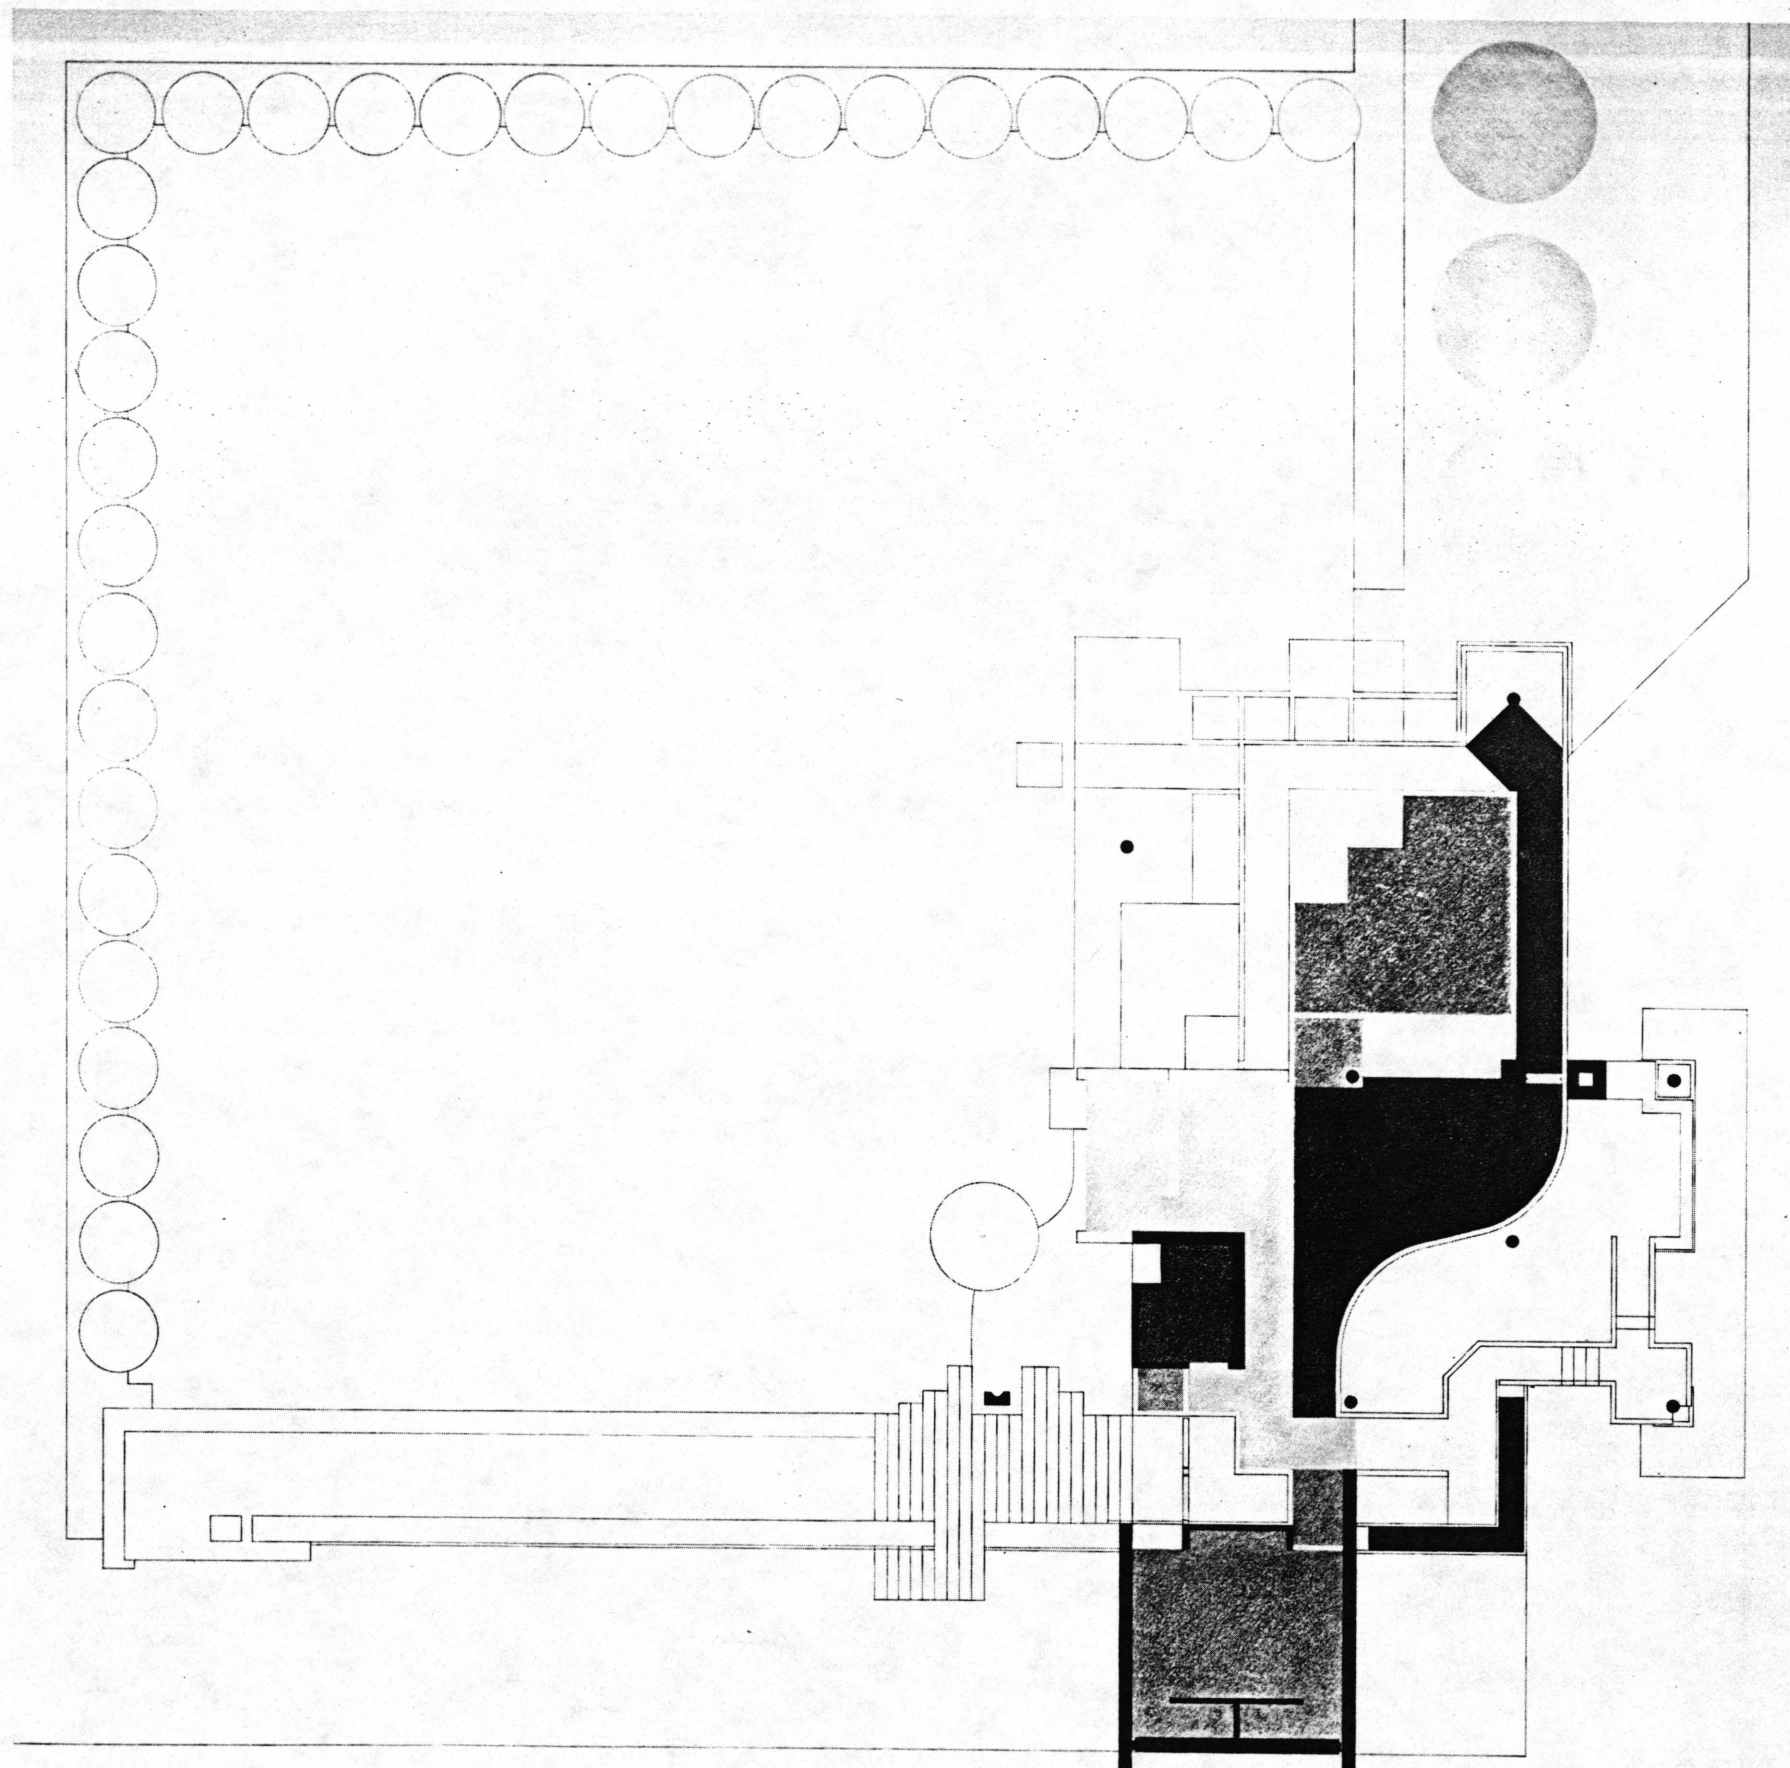

first floor plan

1 m²

second floor plan

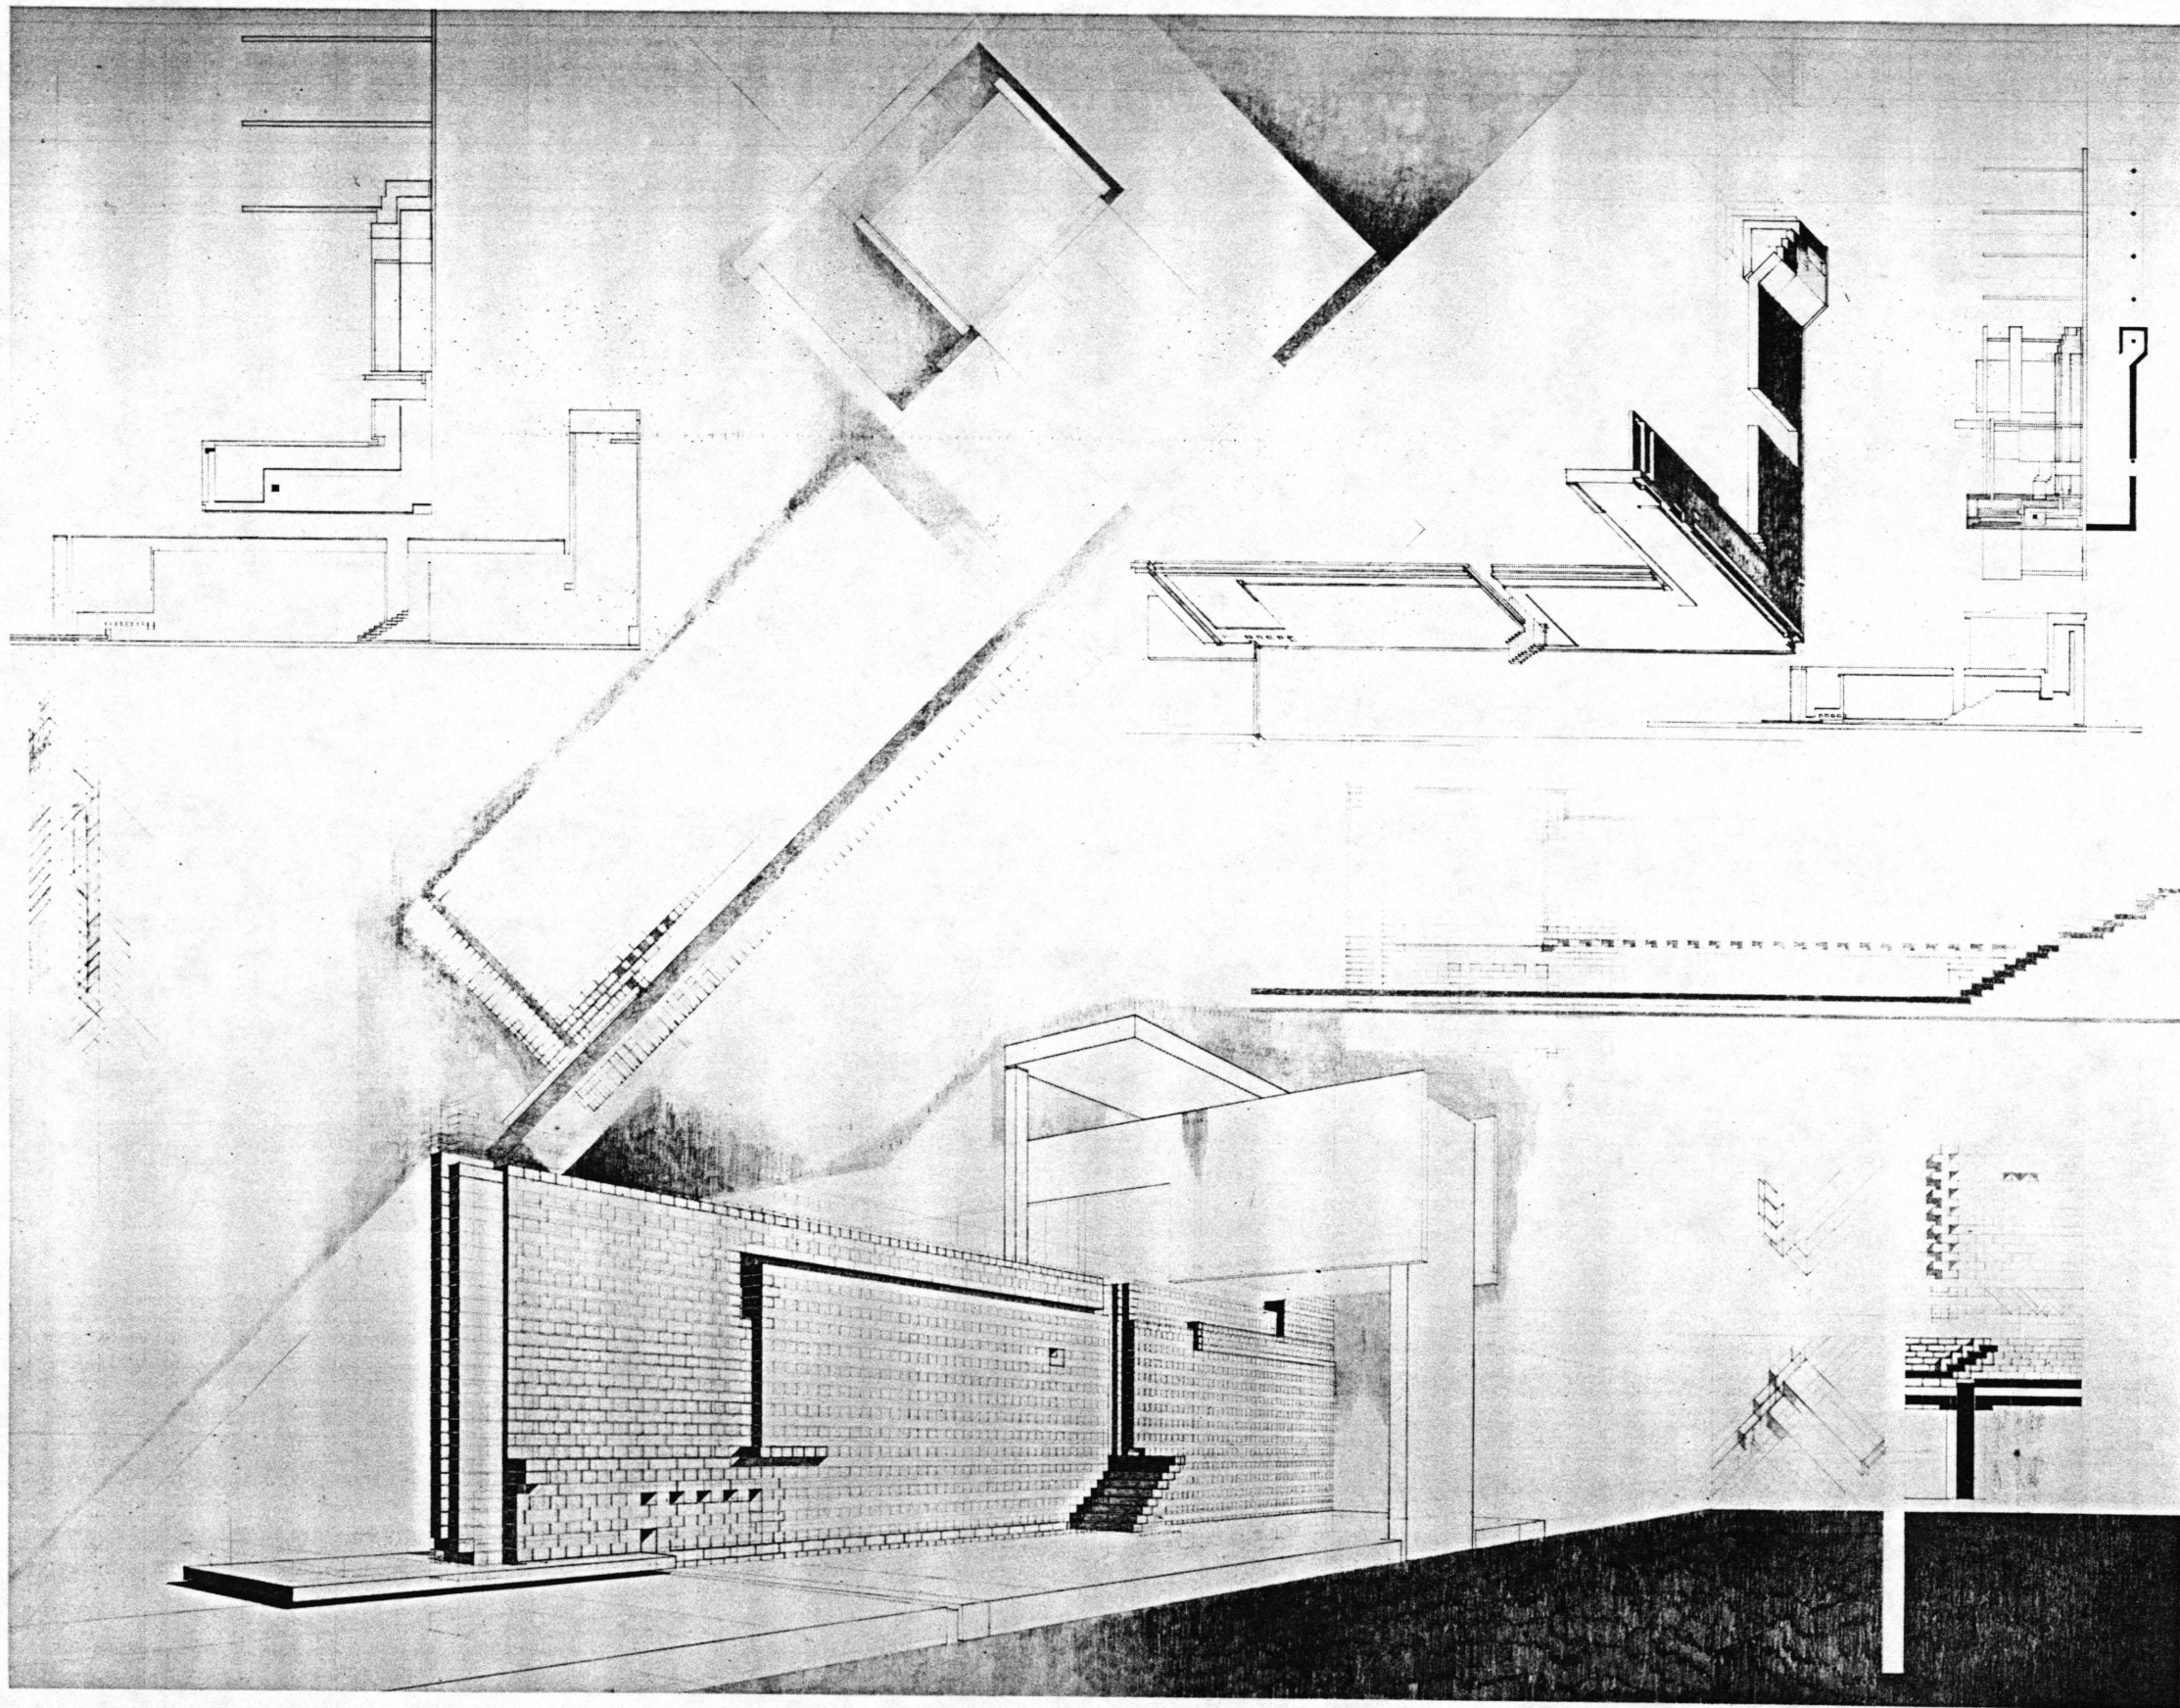

third floor plan

1 m²

The vita has been removed from the scanned document