

enric ruiz-geli / cloud 9 (5 articles)

enric ruiz-geli is a visual artist and architect who seeks to break down the barriers between construction, space and experimentation. his professional career began in set and exhibition design, but since the foundation of his cloud 9 studio, ruiz-geli has turned his mind to the development of sustainable architecture projects and has become an international benchmark for innovation and architectural research, with multiple awards in his name.