IV. STATUS OF COUNTY ORGANIZATION

1. The County Board of Supervisors is the organization giving financial help to Home Demonstration work. It is composed of one representative from each of the four magisterial districts in the county. The appropriation they make runs from July to July. This year shortage of funds prevented their appropriating money for the work for the year beginning in July.

2. County Organization Supporting Work-

a- County Advisory Board-

(1) The Nottoway Advisory Board is composed of chairmen of all Home Demonstration Clubs, and other members at large. The members at large were originally appointed by the Board of Supervisors, but now are elected by the Advisory Board.

During the past seven months the Board has had one regular meeting.

The functions of the Board are-(1) to help secure appropriations, and (2) to help agent plan and execute the work of the county, and to advise her in all policies pertaining to the work.

(2) The Advisory Board worked hard in the interest of the appropriation for the work. When the Board of Supervisors left the appropriation out of the budget, the women were eager to do something more, but visits to the county by Miss Davis convinced her that they had better let the matter drop for a year. They are trying to keep the work going within their Club groups, believing that this is the best way to demonstrate to the Supervisors, its value to the county.

The Advisory Board is sponsoring a poultry improvement contest this year. This contest was started in February and will continue to the following February under the supervision of Miss Davis and Miss Hodsdon.

b- One of the goals for this year was the organization of a 4-H Club Council, but this has not been done, leaving the agent makes it impossible for the 4-H Club work to grow, since it was just getting a good start in the county.

c- The Ella C. Agnew Chapter of the Homemakers is an active organization holding three meetings a year. They held their first meeting this year in February. This was a gardening meeting, at which Mrs. Mc Bryde spoke on landscape gardening, and Mrs. Fallett, of this county, told how her garden brought her money.

The second meeting of the Homemakers was held in June. The Hottoway County Red Cross Chapter sponsored this meeting. Dr. Thos. E. Green, Director of Speakers Bureau, National A.R.C., was the chief speaker. Miss Sally Guy Davis, Mrs. W.R. Turner and Mrs. W.A. Bux spoke in the interest of continuance of the work of the local chapter of Homemakers.

(2) The policy of the county extension organization is one of cooperation.

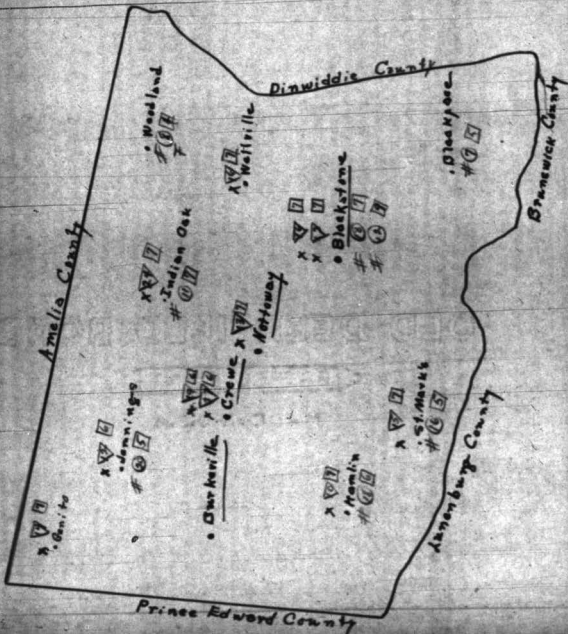

It cooperates with the Hottoway Red Cross Chapter, work in the schools, health work, and the fair association. This year it is cooperating with local relief agencies in every way possible.

2. Women's work-

a- On January 31st the Advisory Board met and made plans for the year's work. The officers of the Homemakers Organization met also, to make plans for the Homemaker's meetings. The Board agreed to sponsor a poultry improvement contest, the prizes to be solicited. The members also voted to sponsor the making of gardens by poor and needy people in the county, and to strive to reach more people through the clubs.

b- The program made for the year's work was as follows-

Work to be Done

- 1- Six demonstrations in thrifty clothing practices.
 - 2- Four demonstrations to be chosen by individual clubs.
 - 3- County-wide poultry improvement contest.
 - 4- Two meetings of County Chapter of Homemakers' Association.
 - 5- Representatives to the State Meeting of Homemakers' Association.
 - 6- Contest among the various Home Demonstration Clubs for reaching more people.
 - 7- Achievement program.
- c- Work in clothing has not been taken here for many years. At this time of financial stress clothing work along the line of making over old things appealed to the women, so they chose this phase of the work.
- d- There are 1800 homemakers in this county, 225 are reached directly by club work, 700 indirectly.

e- The enrollment for the past two years is;

Year:	Members			Clubs
	Total Number	No.	Percent	Total Number	No.	Percent
1932:	180	17	9%	11	2	18%
1933:	180			11

f- Project activities and results-

(a) Foods

a- Preparation, Two of the clubs have had demonstrations on salads. Other food meetings were planned for meetings in the last half of the year.

b- Preservation, Work in this line is merely well begun at this time of the year-3000 quarts, valued at $800. Miss Ruth Walton, Home Economics teacher at Burkeville, agreed to accept the job of key economist, but was anxious to learn something of the work before attempting it. I called a meeting of volunteer canners, gave a food preservation demonstration, and mapped out plans for work in the county. At this meeting Miss Walton met quite a number of the Home Demonstration Club women, and became more familiar with the sections of the county needing help.

c- Nutrition, Two groups have had demonstrations on food requirements. They seemed especially interested in learning more about vitamins, and many were eager for information on reducing. All groups are helping promote gardens this year.

- (b) Clothing is the major project. Although the demonstrations have not been completed, and though the remodeling demonstrations have just been given, much has been accomplished. Club women have made 175 garments, and remodeled 80 as a result of demonstrations, while they have influenced 116 women outside of clubs to use better practices. Many who had lost interest in their old style clothes were well dressed and triumphant after remodeling the garments.
- (c) House Furnishings. I have given two demonstrations in bottoming chairs. Twenty women are saving $22 by rescuing their old chairs in this way. Slip covers and many other useful articles made from flour, feed and grit bags, have been a boon to the homemakers. Ninety of these articles have meant a saving of $31.
- (d) Home Gardens. Have worked with the R. F. C. Committee in selecting and ordering the garden seed, and in giving information to gardeners after they received the seed. Have made as many personal visits as possible, but most of this work has been done by the club members.
- Mr. Beamer gave two talks on year round gardens, early in April. Twenty-eight leaders attended these schools, and were quick to pass on the information gained.

Clipping attached--

Gardening Specialist Visits
Holtown

Mr. L. C. Beamer, Vegetable Gardening Specialist from Blacksburg, spoke to 28 people at two gardening meetings April 26th. From 12:30 to 1:30 Mr. Beamer talked to a group in the agent's office in Blackstone, and from 1:30 to 4 in the Baptist church of Cross. Both meetings were well attended.

Leaders from the M. D. clubs of Wellville, Blackstone, East Blackstone, Indian Oak, Centio, East Cross, West Cross, and Holtown were present. These leaders are fast better prepared, not only to do more efficient gardening themselves, but to give information to their club people, and to others.

Home Demonstrations. Club women have adopted as one of their big goals for the year "working with people making relief gardens." They claim to see that some people have food the year round from their gardens, and stand ready to help in any way they can.

(a) Beautification of Grounds. Mrs. McBride visited eight homes, and suggested improvements to be made. She also made a talk on landscape work to 60 women at the March Homemakers' meeting, and to another group of six women. Several phases of landscape work have been studied at club meetings. A total of 185 women have received information in this way.

(f) Home Poultry. A poultry improvement contest is being conducted this year. Thirteen women are working in the contest, and all have made decided improvements already. Miss Hodson has made two visits, and I have made several to each contestant. These women report an increase of 20% in egg production, and a profit of $398.15 since entering the contest.

Clipping attached--

Poultry Contestants Busy

Monday I re-visited several of the poultry contestants, and was pleased to find that some good work has been done.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Drinkwater have a new brooder house, which is already paying for itself in the healthy brood of chicks it houses. Soon these chicks will be moved to another house, and the brooder made ready for more baby chicks.

Mr. T. E. Hancock has placed heartily in the work of the contest by improving the laying house. When moved, Mrs. Hancock's flock was lying poorly because of an uncomfortable house. This has been improved now with windows in the open awning and good roosts.

Mrs. Carl Simons was anxious to enter the contest, but did not get her name in in time for the first scoring. However, she is working hard on improving her flock and equipment. A visit to her disclosed a poultry house under construction on a new site. She is changing her brood from Rhode Island Reds to Plymouth Rocks, to make a better profit on her broilers.

There is probably doubt in the minds of some contestants that the Poultry Improvement Contest will be carried to completion. Miss Betty Clay Davis, District Home Demonstration Agent, will bring Miss Hodson back to visit each of you once or twice after July 1. She will see that the contest goes to completion, as planned. The final scoring will take place in February, 1934, and prizes awarded to winners at that time.

(g) Leader Training. Mrs. R.C.Hallett has done a good job as club leader. She attended the leaders' meetings, carried out the work in an effective way in her club. She did not stop there. A sister in an adjoining county, where there is no H.D. Agent, was much interested in seeing some of the demonstrations. Mrs. Hallett seized this opportunity to spread the influence of club work, and to gain some points for her side in the club contest on giving information. She told her sister that if she would get a group of women together, she would come over and demonstrate to them. She then ordered samples of dye and booklets for the women, and such other free material as she could get. When twelve women gathered at her sister's home on a given date, Mrs. Hallett gave two demonstrations, one on dyeing, and another on cleaning. She made arrangements at this time to give a canning demonstration later.

1933	11	98	6	8	19	6	98

(h) Relief Work. Club women assisted the county Red Cross by cutting and making more than a thousand garments. Club members have given help with the relief gardens, and have also given liberally of their seeds to needy neighbors. They are now organized, under the direction of Miss Ruby Walton, to take care of the relief canning this summer.

(i) The best county wide work done by women so far is the poultry improvement contest. Thirteen women have already made a profit of $598.15 since entering the contest.

(j) The Jennings H.D.Club has done the best work during first half of year.

6-Hold remodeling contest within club	Eight women had dresses scored; and are now remodeling. Second scoring comes in July.
7-Reorganization and final achievement plans
8- Select demonstrations for 1934

The interest in this club has been developed largely through the efforts of the new president who is alert and anxious to have a good club. She realizes that contests and unusual features help to keep things going. Knowing the accomplishments of her members, she arranges for occasional demonstrations in the regular meetings. One member gave a very complete demonstration on smoking, another on bound button holes. These were in addition to the regular demonstrations.

Two members have given demonstrations to groups of five or more people outside the club, also.

These people plan to divide the work among themselves, and so hold their club together until they can have a Home Dem. Agent again.

(k) Recreation. The club recreation programs this year have been based on the program of play given by Miss Ella Gardner at the leaders' meeting, held last October. The poppy programs have added much interest and fun to our meetings.

3-Girls' work-a-There are 475 girls of club age in the county.

b-The enrollment for the last five years is as follows-

(b) The Busy Bee Club has held all of its regular meetings with good attendance. Its members are proud of the undergarments they have made, and are anxious to continue their club so that they can get their dresses made.

This club held a jig saw puzzle party to raise funds for sending a member to Hampden - Sydney. A sufficient amount was raised to send two members.

(c) The president of the Busy Bee Club has kept her club book and record, and has made the garments required of her up to date. She attended the short course last year, and this year was sent by the club.

d- 4-H Club activities

(a) With one exception, 4-H club meetings are held in the homes.

The one held in school meets for 1½ hours once a month during school hours. All the other meetings are held in the homes, and an entire morning or afternoon is given to each.

(b) The Busy Bee Club has done the best work .

Program

19.5	Percent	More girls enrolled
600	18	More people reached

VIII. It is impossible at half year to summarize the year's work. I am glad to be able to say, though, that the women are going to carry their work on, doing the best they can with it.

Miss Lillian Gorton, Public Health Nurse, has planned to help these clubs to carry on. She plans to meet with each club every three months, and give them some work to do along the line of sewing for the needy, helping ware for the sick, or some other phase of Public Health work. In this way they will have a leader to look to until a Home Demonstration Agent can again be secured for the county.

SUGGESTIONS RELATIVE TO THE PREPARATION OF THE COUNTY EXTENSION AGENT'S ANNUAL REPORT

The annual report should be a summary, with analysis and interpretations, for presentation to the people of the county, the State, and the Nation of the extension activities in each county for the year and the results obtained by the county extension agent, assisted by the subject-matter specialists. The making of such a report is of great value to the county extension agent and the people of the county in showing the progress made during the year as a basis for future plans. It is of vital concern also to the State and Nation as a measure of rural progress and a basis for intelligent legislation and financial support of extension work.

Separate statistical and narrative reports are desired from each leader of a line of work, such as county agricultural agent, home demonstration agent, boys' and girls' club agent, and negro agent, regardless of title. Where an assistant agent has been employed a part or all of the year, a report on his or her work should be included with the report of the leader of that line of work. Where an agent in charge of a line of work has quit the service during the year, the information contained in his or her report should be incorporated in the annual report of the agent on duty at the close of the report year, and the latter report so marked. Where two or more agents are employed in a county, each a leader of a line of work, statistics should not be duplicated.

At least four copies of the annual report should be made: One copy for the county officials, one copy for the agent's files, one copy for the State extension office, and one copy for the Extension Service, United States Department of Agriculture. The report to the Washington office should be sent through the State extension office.

NARRATIVE SUMMARY

The narrative report should summarize and interpret the outstanding results accomplished and the extension methods used, under appropriate subheadings, for each project. Every statement should be clear-cut, concise, forceful, and, where possible, reinforced with necessary data from the statistical summary. Use an interesting style of writing, giving major accomplishments first under each project. Give extension methods fully relating to outstanding results only, and where practicable illustrate with photographs, maps, diagrams, blue prints, or copies of charts and other forms used. Full credit should be given to all cooperating agencies. The lines should be single-spaced, with double space between the paragraphs, and reasonably good margins. The pages should be numbered in consecutive order.

The following outline is suggestive of how the narrative report may be clearly and systematically presented. Each agent should adapt the outline to the situation and the work to be reported.

STATISTICAL SUMMARY

To supplement the narrative part of the report, and in order that comparable State and National summaries may be made, it is necessary to include a statistical summary of the work in each county. The following form has been prepared to insure uniformity of reporting:

DEFINITIONS OF TERMS USED IN THIS REPORT

1. A program of work is a statement of the specific lines of extension work to be undertaken by the extension agent during a year or a period of years.

2. A plan of work is a definite outline of procedure for carrying out the different phases of the program of work. Such a plan specifies for the means to be used and the methods of using them. It also shows what, how much, when, and where the work is to be done.

3. A community is a more or less well-defined group of rural people with common interests and problems. Such a group may include those within a township, trade area, or similar limits. For the purpose of this report a community is one of the several units into which a county is divided for conducting organized extension work.

4. A project leader, local leader, or committeeman is a person who, because of special interest and status, is selected to serve as a leader in advancing some phase of the local extension program. A project leader may be either an organization or a subject-matter leader.

5. Demonstrations as contemplated in this report are of two kinds—method demonstrations and result demonstrations.

A method demonstration is a demonstration given by an extension worker or other trained leader for the purpose of showing how to carry out a practice. Examples: Demonstrations of how to can fruits and vegetables, mix spray materials, and cull poultry.

A result demonstration is a demonstration conducted by a farmer, home maker, boy, or girl under the direct supervision of the extension worker, to show locally the value of a recommended practice. Such a demonstration involves a substantial period of time and records of results and comparisons, and is designed to teach others in addition to the person conducting the demonstration. Examples: Demonstrating that the application of fertilizer to cotton will result in more profitable yields, that underweight of certain children can be corrected through proper diet, or that the use of certified seed in growing potatoes is a good investment.

The adoption of a farm or home practice resulting from a demonstration or other teaching activity employed by the extension worker as a means of teaching is not in itself a demonstration.

6. A result demonstrator is an adult, boy, or girl who conducts a result demonstration as defined above.

7. A cooperator is a farmer or home maker who agrees to adopt certain recommended practices upon the solicitation of an extension worker. The work is not directly supervised by the extension agent and records are not required, but reports on the success of the practices may be obtained.

8. A 4-H Club is an organized group of boys and/or girls with the objectives of demonstrating improved practices in agriculture or home economics, and of providing desirable training for the members.

9. 4-H Club members enrolled are those boys and girls who actually start the work outlined for the year.

10. 4-H Club members completing are those boys and girls who satisfactorily finish the work outlined for the year.

11. A demonstration meeting is a meeting held to give a method demonstration or to start, inspect, or further a result demonstration.

12. A training meeting is a meeting at which project leaders, local leaders, or committeemen are trained to carry on extension activities in their respective communities.

13. An office call is a call in person by an individual or group seeking agricultural or home-economics information, as a result of which some definite assistance or information is given. A telephone call differs from an office call in that the assistance or information is given or received by means of the telephone. Telephone calls may be either incoming or outgoing.

14. A farm or home visit is a call by the agent at a farm or home at which some definite information relating to extension work is given or obtained.

15. Days in office should include time spent by the county extension agent in his office, extension conferences, and any other work directly related to office administration.

16. Days in field should include all days spent on official duty other than those spent in office.

17. Letters written should include all original letters on official business. (Duplicated letters should not be included.)

18. An extension school is a school usually of two to six days' duration, arranged by the extension service, where practical instruction is given to persons not resident at the college. An extension short course differs from an extension school in that it is usually held at the college or other educational institution and usually for a longer period of time.

19. Records consist of definite information on file in the county office that will enable the agent to verify the data on extension work included in this report.
