IV. Status of County Extension Organization.

1. Home Demonstration work in Montgomery County is supported by the Montgomery County Board of Supervisors, which is composed of four representatives from the four districts in the county; namely, Auburn, Alleghany, Blacksburg, and Christiansburg.
2. Adult Extension work in Montgomery County is supported by the Montgomery Advisory Board, which is composed of nine members representing the four magisterial districts in the county, and all officers and leaders of organized adult groups. Four of the nine original members were appointed by the Board of Supervisors, who in turn appointed other influential women interested in Extension Work. At present there are forty-four members of the Advisory Board. The purpose of the Board is to plan the Extension program of work for community development, and to assist in carrying out this program of work. Three meetings of the Advisory Board were held during the year, at which time definite plans were outlined for executing the original program of work. The Advisory Board has accomplished more work, and work of a higher type this year than in previous years.

The third adult camp for home demonstration club members was sponsored again this year, and two members were sent to assist with the 4-H club camp. A home demonstration club chorus organized for the first time with a membership of thirty-two, has done successful work. The Advisory Board sponsored an adult achievement evening program when the attendance was higher than at any other achievement program.

At the planning meeting of the Advisory Board, conditions in Montgomery County were carefully considered with the view of selecting projects that would serve the homemakers in the County to the best advantage. "Modernizing the Home" in Home Management was selected as a major project. Since it was obvious that money was being spent in the county for repair and remodeling work on homes, it was felt that with club homemakers working on this modernizing project, that as a County greater improvements in the appearance of country homes would be noticeable; also, that the home demonstration club project might better prepare and guide the homemaker in the wise use in spending money for repair and remodeling work to secure the best results from a homemaking, as well as a practical standpoint. There are 1,746 farm homes in Montgomery County, and it is felt that 750 of these homes have been reached by the Extension Program, and possibly 150 reached indirectly.

4-H Club work in Montgomery County is planned by the Montgomery 4-H Club Council, which is composed of the officers and leaders of all clubs, and the members of the County All-Star Chapter. The purpose of this council is to plan the annual goals for club work in the County and to assist in carrying out these goals in each club. Two meetings were held during the year, and it is felt that the club council accomplished more this year than in previous years. At the first meeting in the year, ~~4-H Club boys~~ joined in to assist in making the club program, since 4-H Club boys' work was reorganized in Montgomery County this year. Officers were elected and county goals set up to hold a club camp and at least two meetings a year of the club council; each club raise funds for the club camp; present a good picture to raise funds for the camp; conduct interesting programs at club meetings; have one hundred per cent attendance at club Achievement Day; encourage boys in club work; club members must be a member of Club by April 1st in order to be eligible to attend the club camp; hold a one-act play tournament to raise funds for council. These goals have helped to make club members accomplish more work in their own respective clubs, and these goals were carried through one hundred per cent in all clubs when it was possible.

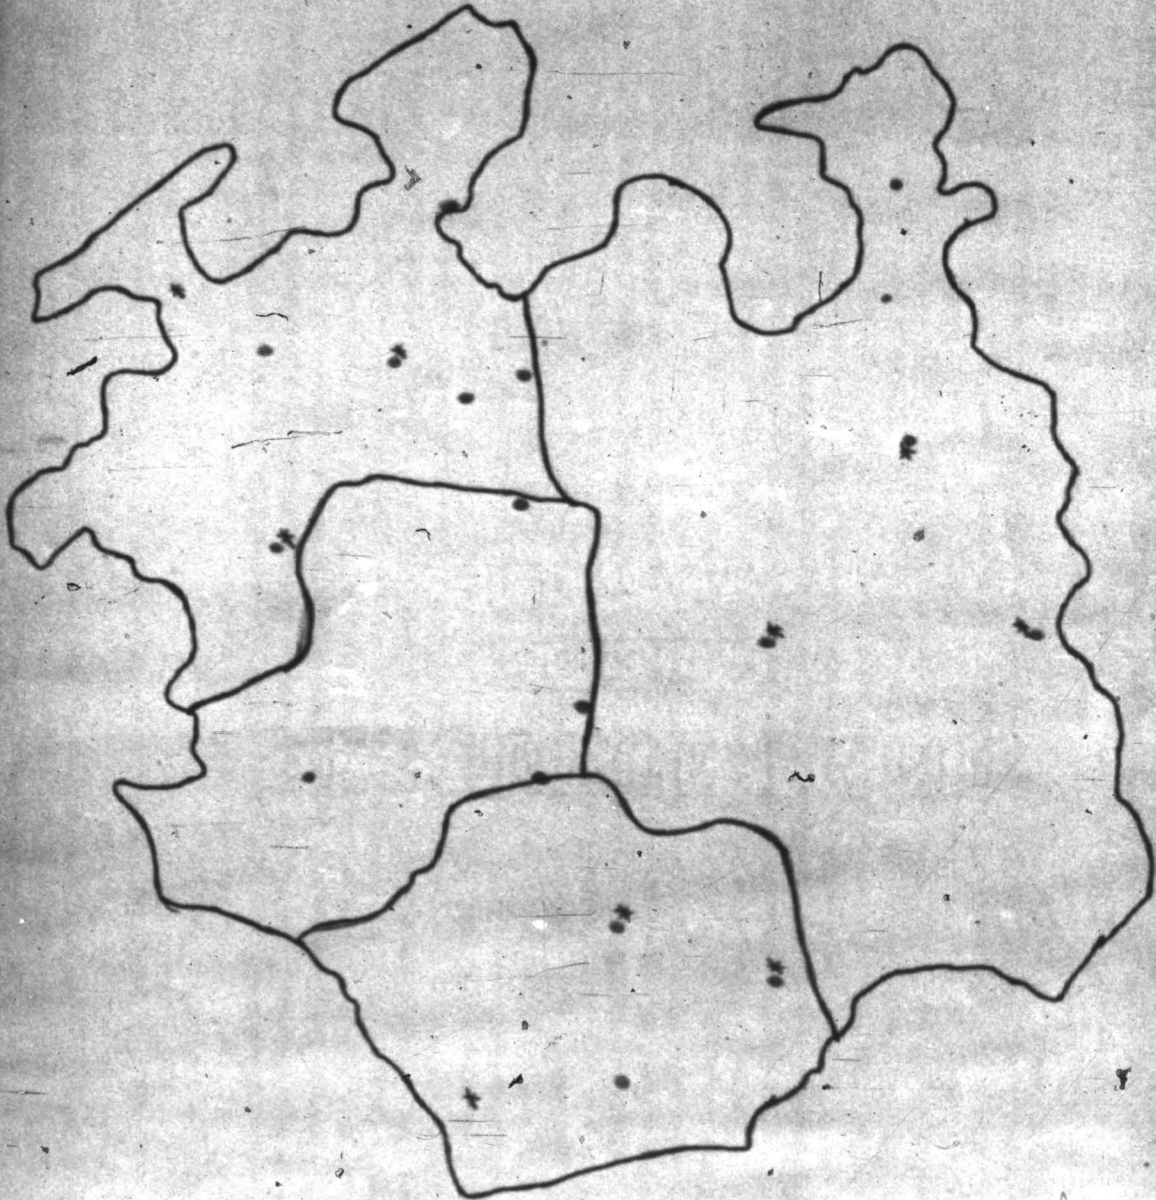

Two hundred and fifty two of the one thousand eight hundred and thirty eight girls in Montgomery County were reached in club work. It is planned to reach more girls this year by more organizations, stronger leadership, and more interesting club programs.

5. It is a policy of the Extension agents of Montgomery County to cooperate with all county organizations and institutions. The various Grange organizations have proved to be of great help in carrying out the program of work planned by the Extension agents, since each Grange has a definite program of work including the Extension plan of work. The Director of Relief Work in Montgomery County was assisted by the Home Agent in naming active workers in different sections of the County who might be of assistance in relief work. The Supervisor of WPA Projects for women in the sewing centers and in organizing school lunch projects has been assisted by the Home Agent, who was able to give information on organizing these projects and on persons working in these projects.

The Supervisor of Out-Of-School Youth has depended to a great extent upon the Home Agent in putting her in touch with girls who are worthy of this program.

Information on the Health Unit and clinics sponsored by the County Health Unit has been presented in all organizations in the County where such information was desired. Cooperation with the Montgomery County School Board has been maintained at all times and the Superintendent of Schools requested the staff of teachers of the County to give loyal support to the Home Demonstration program for 1937.

5. Women's Work.

At the planning meeting of the Montgomery Advisory Board for Home Demonstration Work, conditions and trends in Montgomery County were discussed and the Home Demonstration program of work for the County adopted to meet a timely need on the part of the County women, insofar as it was possible for the Advisory Board to ascertain the County need. "Modernizing the Home" in the Home Management project was selected as a major project with the adult groups. At that time it was very noticeable that repair and remodeling work on homes throughout the County was already being done, and it was felt that by promoting this project in adult groups, that it would be very noticeable that Montgomery County homes were up-to-date, in a good condition, and well painted; also, that by selecting this project Montgomery County homemakers might be guided in this work in order that satisfactory results might be obtained from both a financial as well as a homemaking standpoint. In reorganizing the adult groups, leaders were selected who were especially interested in this type of work.

The Bane Shop, Shawsville, Snowville, Riner, Glade, Irons, and Otey Home Demonstration clubs carried Home Management as a major project, while Price's Forks and Tom's Creek selected demonstrations from the major project which were more suited to their immediate communities. A total of 249 women carried home management projects during the year, improving 157 storage spaces in 49 homes; 26 water systems installed or improved, nine of these being kitchen sinks. A total of 85 rooms were made lighter by the use of lighter wall colors; 16 new windows or glass doors were added and 27 better lamps secured. A total of 175 families reported having increased time for rest and leisure as a result of the Home Management program. Sixty-three houses were repaired or painted; and walls, woodwork, and floors were improved in ninety homes.

A County "Floor Improvement Campaign" which was held in line with the major project, proved to be beneficial to County club members and others. A campaign leader was elected in each club, who secured the enrollment, promoted the campaign and listed help desired by individuals. A demonstration on "How to Recondition Old Floors" was given in each club. It was felt that many women in Montgomery County were wasting time and strength in trying to care for poorly finished floors. As a result of this campaign, a total of 117 old floors were reconditioned at a cost of $119.48, at a savings of $117.55. Eleven new floors were secured at a cost of $87.60. The savings on this amounted to $36.00. Montgomery County club members all proved to have a total of 127 floors in good condition as a result of their year's campaign work. Outstanding floor improvement work was accomplished by Mrs. J. A. Pascoe, a member of the Glade club who secured two new hardwood floors at a cost of $10.00, and a savings of $15.00, and reconditioned four old floors.

Food preservation work was promoted and encouraged in the Riner, Snowville, Bane Shop, Glade, Shawsville, Ironto, Otey, Price's Fork, and Tom's Creek clubs, with the importance of making and using satisfactory canning budgets stressed and encouraged throughout the year. Eighty one club members made satisfactory canning budgets. A total of 30,714 quarts of food were canned during the year, valued at $7,975.40. One hundred seventy one pounds of fruit were dried, valued at $59.85; and 580 pounds of vegetables were dried, valued at $202.90. The total value of fruits and vegetables canned and dried for the year amounted to $8,236.15. Mrs. Frank Gardner, Shawsville club, won first place in both the County and District Ball Canning contest, receiving two dozen jars and $8.00 as prizes. Mrs. Bennett Hall, a member of the Riner club, canned a total of 807 quarts of fruits, vegetables, and meats, valued at $205.50, for her family of five. Five steam pressure cookers were bought during the year. Sixty-one club members in the Otey and Shawsville clubs carried a demonstration on "Sandwiches for Many Occasions" and learned how to make suitable sandwiches for school lunches that would give a child sufficient food value for the noon meal. Fifty-Four club members profited by a demonstration on "How to Set the Table Correctly" and are now enjoying better table manners on the part of the members of their families as a result of correctly set tables.

Twenty-nine club members have learned "How to Know and Use Wild Greens" as a result of a study of wild greens, and now include wild greens in their list of edible greens.

Home health and sanitation work was stressed in all clubs with a total enrollment of 249 members. A total of 147 homes were screened according to recommendations, and 45 of these homes follow methods of controlling household pests. Forty-four sanitary toilets were constructed during the year. Even members of the Shawsville Home Demonstration club screened their homes during the year.

The Snowville, Bane Shop, Glade and Riner Home Demonstration clubs, with an enrollment of 112, studied timely information on poultry. Thirty-eight of these members improved in chick rearing, twenty-eight in parasite and disease control. Twenty-one improved poultry house equipment, and fifty-four culled their poultry flocks during the year.

A total of 170 club members carried a demonstration on "Making Smocks and Aprons" and made 223 garments valued at $69.09. A total of 347 garments were renovated or remodeled at an estimated savings of $650.00. During the year, thirty-six club members improved in the "Care and Use of Sewing Machines." The members of the Riner Home Demonstration club report a total of sixty-six garments remodeled and 35 aprons and smocks made as a result of the year's clothing program. House Furnishings work was carried with a total of 511 women. "Curtains for the Home" proved to be a helpful demonstration with 92 members improving 174 window treatments. Eighty-one club members learned how to select china for home use, while 110 made a study of "Beds and Bedding" learning how to select and buy mattresses, springs, sheets, pillow cases, and blankets. During the year a total of 868 house furnishings and handicraft articles were made. The Otey Home Demonstration club did an outstanding piece of work in the making of handicraft articles, and report a total of 195 made during the year.

Club members showed more general interest in vegetable gardening than ever before. A garden leader was elected in four different home demonstration clubs and allowed time on every other club program for a short talk, in order to bring timely information to club members. "The Control of Garden Pests" was one of the most helpful talks in this work. Sixty-three club members improved in gardening, in insect and disease control methods.

The beautification of home grounds has been sponsored in the Otey and Snowville clubs with an enrollment of fifty-one. Members of the Otey club were particularly interested in landscaping their homes in natural shrubs in keeping with the beautiful surroundings of their little community, which is located in a small valley on a river between two mountains. "Improving the Backdoor Yard" and "Landscape Essentials for the Farm Home" proved to be helpful demonstrations. During the year forty-nine back yards were made more attractive and seventeen outhouses screened from view. Walks, drives and fences were either built or improved. In fifty-one homes, forty-nine lawns were improved and either shrubbery or trees were planted at forty-two homes.

As a result of the discussions in the Riner, Bane Shop, Glade and Snowville clubs last year on "Music Appreciation", and the special musical programs conducted at the adult camp at Crockett Springs under the direction of Miss Kathleen Luster, Blacksburg, Virginia, a Montgomery County Home Demonstration Club Chorus with thirty-two members has been organized. The club chorus is organized with a president, vice president, and secretary and treasurer, and meets twice a month for practice under the direction of Miss Luster. Already the chorus has presented four public programs, the first of which was presented at the State Federation Meeting of Home Demonstration Clubs in Blacksburg. Montgomery club members are proud of the fact that the club chorus was the first in the State to present a program to the State organization. The greatest benefit derived from this chorus is the pleasure and satisfaction that each member receives from being a part of this chorus.

The Otey Home Demonstration Club accomplished two good community projects during the year. Mrs. Jack Jewell in presenting the report of the Otey club said, "Our community project was to improve a cemetery which had not been cleaned for twelve years. The ladies furnished the lunch and the men did the work. When our club was organized, our health club was combined with the Home Demonstration Club. A program was given and enough money raised to do 60% of the dental work in the Otey school." The Shawsville Home Demonstration Club held an all day group study meeting on the book, "The Woman Speaker" by Mrs. Endora Richardson. Each club member took a part on the program. One other meeting was devoted to parliamentary procedure. In the Glade Club an interesting meeting was held on "Poetry", with each member presenting her favorite poem. Demonstrations on Christmas suggestions and decorations, and Christmas programs which are social affairs, do much to keep the spirit of club work at its highest peak. Two bazars were held to raise funds for club activities, and other means of raising money were engaged in with other clubs.

The six Subordinate Granges and the County Pomona Grange have functioned this year in a satisfactory manner in promoting the Extension Program of work in Montgomery County. The Grange organizations are located in Lafayette, Riner, Childress, Bane Shop, Price's Fork, and Glade communities. The club program of work is presented to the Grange committees, which include the outlined club program. Two 4-H club members were sent to the 4-H Club camp by the Childress and Pomona Grange.

Two leaders from the Bane Shop, Riner, Snowville, Glade, and Shawsville Home Demonstration clubs were selected to represent their respective clubs at the Leader Training meetings in Home Management work, in order that these leaders might bring back to the club and community help in the major project being conducted, and to conduct the demonstrations in the major project in order that the Agent might organize work in other communities. Eleven leaders were elected and trained in home management work. Leadership work was by far more satisfactory this year than ever before. These leaders gave all of the six major demonstrations in the clubs which they represent. Adult leadership work is on a competitive basis in Montgomery County, and club members consider it a privilege to enjoy the social as well as the project activities of a leader. Each year one new leader is added to each club, and one old leader retained. In this way a leader serves two years, the senior leader being able to assist the junior leader in getting into the work so that the entire club leadership program moves smoothly in the County and every one knows how to carry on the program. At the last leader training meeting of the year, the leaders who had served two years expressed deep regret at having to give up leadership work. Outstanding work was done by Mrs. A. B. Correll, leader in the Shawsville Club, who, in addition to giving excellent demonstrations in her local club and securing individual reports, gave two demonstrations in her home community club at Otey, and one demonstration in the Ironto Club, both newly organized clubs, during the absence of the Agent from the County. The Home Management Specialist said upon one occasion when visiting the County for leader training meetings, "I don't go to another county in the State where the leaders seem to have such a good time and enjoy their work so much together."

The third adult camp for Home Demonstration club members was sponsored by the Montgomery Advisory Board, the camp being held at Crockett Springs, Virginia, with an attendance of thirty-five regular campers, and one hundred others taking advantage of the camp program. Interesting camp programs were planned, including nature study and the arrangement of flowers for the home, correctly appointed tables, a book review, recreation and special music, and chorus work, which was under the direction of Miss Kathleen Luster, Blacksburg. This part of the program proved to be the most interesting and helpful work on the program, and this added more to the camp than any other program ever conducted. Recreation in the evening in the recreation hall with the Virginia Reel done by all the campers proved to be a good source of entertainment. On Sunday members of the campers' families visited at the camp. This camp proved to be the most valuable and restful camp yet held, and the attendance was much greater than that of last year. The Montgomery County Club Chorus was developed as a direct outgrowth of this camp.

Twenty-four women from Montgomery County attended the meeting of the District Federation of Home Demonstration Clubs, which was held at Tazewell, while approximately seventy-five women attended the State Federation meeting held in Blacksburg. Both programs were considered good by Montgomery County club members, but those attending the meeting in Tazewell felt that they received more to bring back to their clubs for direct club need, than those attending the State meeting. Three Montgomery club members took a part on the district program, in addition to others serving on committees. The Montgomery County Club Chorus presented a musical program at the State Federation meeting held in Blacksburg.

Four Montgomery County women attended the meeting of the Associated Country Women of the World which was held in Washington. Club members of Montgomery County are very proud to have the first president of the National Association of Farm Women to be a club member from Montgomery County.

The County Club Achievement Day for Home Demonstration work in Montgomery County proved to be very successful, according to the women of the County. A program and social meeting was held in the new high school auditorium, to which 225 people came, and after enjoying an interesting program, reviewing the work of the year, punch and cookies were served by the All-Star members. An interesting program was arranged, with the State Home Demonstration Agent speaking on "The Family Approach in Homemaking." Reports throughout the County from farm men and women verify the fact that this was the most successful and far reaching Adult Achievement Day ever held in the County.

The Price's Forks Grange sponsored a community fair for the fourth time and were able to credit themselves with even more success and progress this year than before. The Farm and Home Agents assisted with making the premium list and had the fair catalogues mimeographed in the office. The outstanding exhibit at this fair was the vegetable garden display and the canning exhibit. Over a period of four years, the exhibits at this community fair show more improvement in quality and standards than in any community fair ever worked with by the Home Agent. The success of a local bingo stand and lunch served by the women defrayed the expense of the fair. The Price's Forks fair this year was a great improvement over previous fairs.

The Shawsville Home Demonstration Club with a membership of nineteen carried through the best program of work for the year. A night social meeting was held during the Christmas season, a bazar was held to raise funds for the club, over $14.00 being realized. A supper was served to the Masonic Lodge from which $10.00 was made. A double wool blanket was sent to a deserving person in the community who is in the sanitorium at Catawba. Linc was furnished to several needy families for white washing around the home. Four club members attended the District meeting held in Tazewell, and three attended the club camp. Four are members of the County Chorus, two have appeared on the V. P. I. radio program, ten attended the State Federation Meeting held in Blacksburg. In addition to this, project reports from the Shawsville club were outstandingly good. Leadership work of one of the Shawsville leaders was cited as being outstanding. First place in the County and district Kerr Canning Contest was won by a Shawsville Club member this year, and in a recent Advisory Board meeting the chairman of the Advisory Board selected was a member of the Shawsville Club.

Home recreation has increased during the past year in Montgomery County. Songs have been carried into the home as a result of the County Club Chorus work. Approximately ten sets of games have been made in homes as a result of homemade games used at camps.

4. Girls' Work.

Foods work was carried as a major project in fifteen clubs; namely, Blacksburg, Den Hill, McCoy, Ellett, Ironto, Pilot, Price's Forks, Riner, Shawsville, Tom's Creek, Elliston, Bane Shop, Rock Road, and Childress. A total of 245 members were enrolled in this project, "Healthful Foods for Club Girls" was selected as a major project with demonstrations in "Table Service", Simple Refreshments for Club Parties", "Making Canning Plan", "Canning Fruits and Vegetables", and in the preparation of home grown fruits, vegetables, milk and egg dishes. Correct posture and health habits were also studied. A total of 29,654 quarts of fruits and vegetables, valued at $5,690.95, were canned by club members, or they assisted with canning this number. Three hundred two pounds of vegetables, valued at $102.20, were dried. A total of 141 club members entered foods judging contests, while 184 made canning budgets. One hundred twenty reported improvement in posture. A total of 452 dishes demonstrated at club meetings were prepared by club members.

Outstanding work was done by the Bane Shop 4-H Club, with an enrollment of eleven members, under the leadership of Mrs. Davis Harmon. The majority of these club members come from poor homes, and some of them were unable to have necessary equipment for club work. Club books were kept by all club members. Each girl in her interest to set the table correctly and place fresh flowers on the table, made a centerpiece of feed bags furnished by the leader. An excellent exhibit of biscuits made by club members was held and all learned how to judge good bread. In September the canning exhibit was held, at which time the club members entertained their mothers with a social meeting and program. Kathleen Smith, age eleven, the winner in the Bane canning contest, also won first place in the County Ball Canning contest.

In all clubs this year special work has been done to teach the girls how to make good bread, and how to set the table correctly.

Thirty-two club members did garden work as a major project, with 245 club members enrolled in foods work assisting in garden work. Outstanding garden work was accomplished by James Nolly, Vicker, who is 1936 winner in the garden contest. A total of seventeen different vegetables were raised by James Nolly with a profit of $29.00. Elmore Long also did excellent work, placing second in the County garden contest again this year, and raising all vegetables for a family of ten for family use.

Growth work was carried as a regular part of the club program, with 245 club members entering the contest. Contests were held in each club with the first winner over and under fourteen years of age selected to enter the County contest which was held at the club camp. Contestants were judged by the doctor and nurse from the local Health Unit. Alease Dickerson, Blacksburg Club, won first place in the group over fourteen years of age, and Eva Mabry, Blacksburg Club, won first place in the group for girls under fourteen years of age. Altese Dickerson entered the State contest held in Blacksburg. During the year, 120 club members improved their posture.

The best program of work for the year was put across by the Blacksburg 4-H club which has an enrollment of fifteen members. Parliamentary rules are enforced more rigidly in this club than in any club in the County. The Blacksburg 4-H club won first place in the County one-act play tournament, and presented their play, the first to be presented, in the new V. P. I. auditorium to the State Short Course. Two club parties, a picnic, and a canning exhibit added to the activities of the club. Five Blacksburg Club members won recognition in the County Club Contest held at camp, in addition to the Big Chief of camp being a member of the club.

Nine leaders assisted with the 4-H foods program, one of whom, Mrs. Davis Harmon, Bane Shop Club, did excellent leadership work. Attendance at Leader Training meetings was not large enough to justify holding meetings, so information on work expected of leaders was carried to leaders by the Agent. The 4-H Club Council entertained the leaders at the 4-H Club Camp for supper and over night, and the leader training meeting was held in a cabin of one of the leaders on the following day. In six clubs, leaders conducted one foods demonstration a month, and the Agent conducted one a month. Thus in this way, the foods program was handled more efficiently than it would have been without the help of the leaders. Mrs. Harmon encouraged club members in their work and adapted the club program to their need. Club meetings were held in her home, and other helpful things were taught club members that were not outlined in the club program. A set of home games were made at Mrs. Harmon's home for the use of the Bane Shop Club members.

The fourth 4-H Club Camp to be held in Montgomery County for 4-H Club members was held at Crockett Springs, Virginia, with fifty members and nine instructors assisting with the camp program. The camp was financed entirely through the efforts of the 4-H Club Council, who sponsored a club one-act play tournament in order to secure necessary funds. Three other clubs also donated money to the Council. The money was used for camp expense, which included instructors and materials. A special rate of $5.00, covering all other expenses, was made to club campers, since the manager of Crockett Springs Hotel is an active member of the Advisory Board. Four club girls were sent to camp, two by the Grange and two by persons interested in the club program. The club program was well planned to interest both boys and girls. Interesting hand work in making pewter trays, nature hikes, contests and recreation proved to make the camp the best and most inspirational camp yet conducted. The Advisory Board sent two helpers, one a very active 4-H Club leader for the past eight years, and the other a trained nurse to care for the health of the campers. The camp followed the original camp set-up and was divided into two Indian tribes.

One hundred twenty-five 4-H Club members and leaders attended the 4-H Club Achievement Day in spite of inclement weather, which ran the achievement day attendance higher than the record of previous years. An interesting club program was held, with reports of club activities and special music. Mrs. Davis Harmon, Chairman of the County Advisory Board, presented prizes and made awards. Following this program, club members journeyed to Draper's Mountain where they enjoyed a picnic lunch and viewed the lovely autumn leaves from the good view afforded by Draper's Mountain. An inspirational talk by Mr. Sheppard, pastor of the Baptist Church in Blacksburg, closed the Achievement program.

4-H Club members have learned how to make homemade games, and approximately ten club members have made sets to use in their homes. A one-act play tournament was sponsored this year for the first time with each club working up a short one-act play. A tournament was held, with each club presenting their play, and the winner declared. Blacksburg 4-H Club won first place. This added much pleasure in the way of recreation in the local clubs, and as a result some of the clubs have worked up a second play for their own satisfaction. The Shawsville 4-H Club presented a play which was written by one of the Shawsville Club members.

VI. Adult Club enrollment for the year has increased, and one new club has been organized, with some work done in another group which will organize within the month. Leadership work in home management work has been put over in a most efficient and beneficial manner on the part of leaders. It is felt that some good work was accomplished in the major project, especially in the improvement of old floors. Excellent work was reported in House Furnishings, also. The Montgomery Home Demonstration Club Chorus and the One-Act Play Tournament have added much to the club programs and interest.

Both the 4-H and Home Demonstration Club Camps were very satisfactory. Adult Leadership work proved to be one of the best phases of work accomplished during the year. 4-H Club leadership work, while a great deal better this year than last, is far from satisfactory, as well as the enrollment of 4-H Club members within the County. It is felt that more work has been completed in Montgomery County during the year, but that some club members as yet fail to feel the responsibility in representing their individual work to the club.

VII. For the year 1957 it is planned to reach more communities in adult and 4-H club work, in order that the club enrollment in Montgomery County may reach a higher total. Foods work will be carried as a major project with the 4-H clubs, in the hope that more underprivileged children will be reached, and they in turn will form better foods and health habits. "The Well Dressed House" will be carried as a major project in the home demonstration clubs. Outside club programs and activities will also strengthen the club program. The adult and 4-H club camps will become a permanent feature of the County Extension Program.
