Copyright Release

This document has been requested by the Signature Approval System hosted by the Virginia Tech Graduate School (<https://ess.graduateschool.vt.edu/>) and is submitted along with a PDF copy of my dissertation, “Submodular Optimization in Multi-Robot Teams: Robustness, Resilience, and Decentralization”, in partial fulfillment of the requirements for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy in Computer Engineering.

I, Jun Liu, claim copyright protection for my Ph.D. dissertation, “Submodular Optimization in Multi-Robot Teams: Robustness, Resilience, and Decentralization” (2022). In accordance with Virginia Tech Graduate School requirements, I hereby grant to Virginia Tech and its agents the non-exclusive license to archive and make accessible, immediately, my thesis or dissertation in whole in all forms of media, now or hereafter known. I retain all ownership rights to the copyright of the thesis or dissertation. I also retain the right to use in future works (such as articles or books) all or part of this thesis or dissertation.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Jun', written in a cursive style.
