

“And the clerk is the
literary teller, writing
down stories that suit
the needs of an audience of one, the self.”