

Joseph Carmona

---

From: Meridian Electronics [meridian@sentex.net]
Sent: Tuesday, June 27, 2006 7:46 AM
To: jcarmona
Subject: Re: Dr. van Roon- may I have your permission

Quoting jcarmona <jcarmona@vt.edu>:

> Hello Dr. van Roon,
>
> My name is Joseph Carmona and I am a graduate student in the > Behavioral Neuroscience lab in the psychology department at Virginia > Tech. I am a novice
>
> electronics hobbyist and have found your webpage extremely helpful. As > part of my masters thesis I would sure appreciate being able to use > the digital metronome that you illustrated at > <http://www.uoguelph.ca/~antoon/gadgets/555/555.html>. I would like to > use it as a simple timer mechanism for my study.
>
> May I have your permission for this endeavor and may I adapt the > schematic for use in my thesis manuscript? There will be no profit > involved on my part other than the aquirement of my degree as this > will only be used for my thesis. If > you agree, how may I cite you?
>
>
>
> Sincerely
>
> Joseph Carmona
> Psychology Department
> 260 Williams Hall
> Virginia Tech
> Blacksburg, VA 24060
> jcarmona@vt.edu
>

Joseph:

You certainly may. I grant you hereby permission to use the above (and any other diagram) in your thesis, providing you give appropriate credit in your thesis.

Good luck!

Best regards,

Tony van Roon
Chemistry Department
Electronic Shop
University of Guelph,
Guelph, ON Canada