

The fluid boundary is discretized into straight line segments or panels joined together at nodes. Note: only some nodes are shown for illustration.

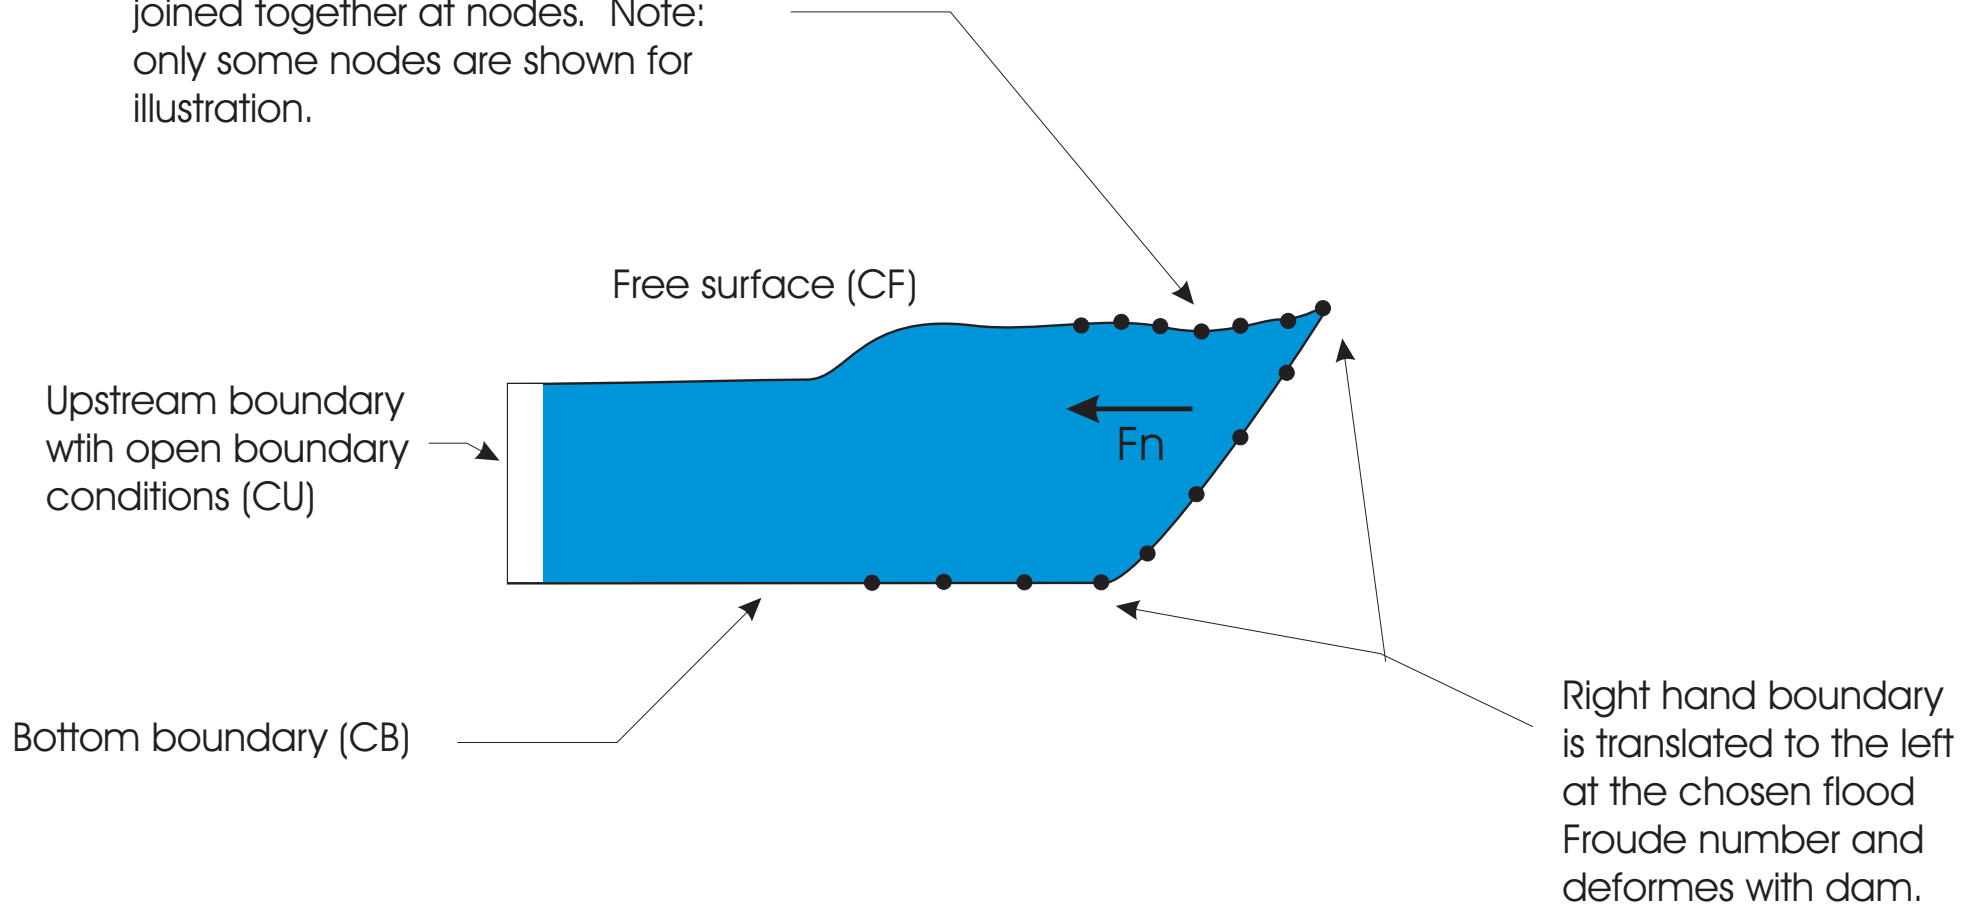

Figure I-2: Numerical towing tank layout.