

1958 PLAN OF WORK

Georgia W. Wilkerson
Home Demonstration Agent

Ann Gracey
Assistant Home Demon. Agent

Cumberland
County

I. COUNTY SITUATION

Cumberland is strictly a rural county, located in the central Piedmont Plateau of Virginia, with an area of 268 sq. miles. According to the 1954 census, there are 977 farms in the county. 486 are white operators, 491 are non-white operators. 640 of these farmers own their lands, the remainder are tenants. The latest population census shows there are 7,252 people in the county. 3,211 are white and 4,041 are colored.

Agriculture is the leading industry. Commercial chicken broiler production has grown amazingly since 1950. Poultry is the chief source of cash from income and now supplies more than 36% of the value of all farm sales. Tobacco ranks second and provides about 28% of farm income. 18% of farm income comes from milk. Forest products are large sources of income on many farms and account for about 5% of the farm income.

The median income of the farm family is $965.00.

Electricity is available to each section of the county and the telephone system is excellent.

Cumberland County is a poor county as far as taxable wealth is concerned, there being only the land to tax, but individually the standard of living, general speaking, is fairly high. The people are proud of their homes and their community and are interested in improving their county. The people are interested in, and are cooperating with, the efforts of the Rural Development Program, feeling that this is one way of improving the county.

The interest of the young people, and the support these youngsters receive from the adults, is outstanding, and shows the splendid spirit of cooperation that exists among the county people.

People in the county want increased income, more comfortable homes, and improved standards of living.

II. COUNTY EXTENSION PROGRAM - ADULT

A. Organization

72

1. County Agricultural Extension Service Board

The County Agricultural Extension Service Board is in the process of being formed. Cumberland County is one of the pilot counties in Program Development. The overall Board will be formed in 1958, after the Agricultural, Youth, and Home Economics Councils have been formed. This Board will formulate the county Extension program of the county and coordinate the activities of the other boards. The Agricultural Extension Service Board will be organized in 1958.

2. Home Economics Council

The chairman of the County Home Demonstration Committee and the chairmen of the various home economics committees will make up this Council. The Council will be used to coordinate the work of the committees. The Council will be formed in 1958. The Council will make plans and coordinate plans for carrying out the work of the home economics phase of the county Extension program. The Home Economics Council will be formed in 1958.

3. General Interest Committees

In addition to the Health Committee already formed, the following committees will be formed: Housing, 4-H Youth and Home Beautification. It will be the objective of these committees to survey the county situation, recognize the needs and make plans for meeting the needs. Methods used will be illustrative material, circular letters, radio, newspaper articles and personal contact.

4-H, home demonstration members and non-club members especially interested in the particular phase of the work will serve on the committee. Each committee will have 5 members, with chairman and secretary. Membership will be set up on a rotating basis.

4. County Home Economics Committee

The Clothing Committee of 5 members will continue to function. The Committee will meet and make long time plans after reviewing progress made to date. Other committees to be formed are Foods and Nutrition and other committees as needed.

5. County Home Demonstration Club Committee

This Committee is composed of the officers (president, vice president, secretary, treasurer, program of work chairman, and program development chairman) of the 11 clubs in the county. The County Committee has a chairman, vice chairman, secretary, treasurer, program of work chairman, and such committees as the chairman appoints to carry out the work of the county committee. The vice chairman serves as county publicity chairman.

The Committee meets twice each year - in the early summer to plan the following year's program and transact business - in the fall to review county work and take care of county club business. The Executive Committee meets as needed.

All officers, with the exception of the treasurer, are elected for a 2 year term. The treasurer may serve for an indefinite period.

The chairman and program of work chairman attend planning meetings as called by the district chairman.

The County Committee plans the home demonstration program, sets up county objectives and plans the program of work with the assistance of the agent, district agent, and after discussions in the clubs of county needs and problems. The program planned by the Committee is approved or disapproved by the individual clubs.

It is the objective of the County Home Demonstration Committee to plan programs that will meet the needs and interest the people and conduct county home demonstration committee business. In this manner home demonstration work will grow in membership and interest.

Rural Development Program

A considerable amount of the year will be spent on the Rural Development Program.

VII. OTHER AGENCIES

1. County Health Department

Cooperate with nurse in helping with special programs - carrying information to club members, radio, etc. Inform club members of services by health department, also in starting "Pleasingly Plump Club."

2. Welfare Department

Assist when needed with welfare programs. Keep members informed of welfare programs. Invite welfare worker to attend one club meeting each year and tell of her work. Collect toys and clothing for the needy.

3. Vocational Departments

Cooperate by furnishing teacher with mimeographed materials and bulletins as requested. Invite teacher to leader training meetings. Work with teacher in solving home economics problems in the county.

4. Forestry Service

Encourage conservation of forest area and planting of trees where needed.

5. F.H.A.

Invite F.H.A. borrowers to club meetings. Visit families when needed.

6. All agricultural agencies through the Rural Development Program and the Technical Workers Council.

VIII. PUBLIC RELATIONS

A. Co-workers

Hold a weekly staff conference. Cooperate on various programs.

B. General Public

Keep general public informed of Extension program through home visits, radio talks and news articles.

C. Elected Representatives

Know elected representatives personally. Give report to county Board of Supervisors at least three times during year. Cooperate with county officials in various programs.

D. Commercial Interests

Various commercial representatives will be asked to visit the county when visits from these people can best further the interest of Extension work in Cumberland County.

E. Other Professional Workers

Agent will cooperate with other professional workers in the county by publicizing programs and having satisfactory working relationship with each agency concerned.

IX. RECORDING PROGRESS

1. Record progress in monthly and annual reports.
2. Progress will be measured by increased attendance and interest in club meetings and increased enrollment in 4-H and home demonstration clubs.
3. Progress will be evaluated by greater participation of leaders, demonstrations at 4-H and home demonstration club meetings.
4. Progress will be recorded and evaluated by higher percentage of 4-H project completions.
5. Progress will be recorded through newspaper and radio work.

X. PROFESSIONAL IMPROVEMENT

The agents will attend schools or short courses as available. The agents will subscribe to, and read, the various home economics magazines and will also read 2 books as recommended by Home Agents' Association.

The agent will be an active member of the Virginia Home Agents Association and the American Home Economics Association and attend these state and district meetings.

The agent will attend the meetings of other organizations when the program of the county permits.

The agent will attend training meetings as available in this area.

- XI. Cumberland County has always had a unified county Extension program. The Rural Development Program and the formation of the Extension Service Board will, however, make the Extension program in the county even more unified than it is at present.

XII. PROBLEMS

The problems remain the same. For some of these problems, I see no immediate solution, others are working themselves out.

1. Lack of transportation to the club meetings

This problem is being partially met by pooling rides and holding club meetings at centrally located homes so that some of the women can walk, when necessary, to some of the meetings. Lack of transportation, on the other hand, may be only an excuse because the demonstration scheduled for a particular meeting is not especially interesting to that particular housewife.

2. Inadequate facilities for holding leader training meetings

Adequate facilities are not available in Cumberland Court House for holding leader training meetings in "Foods", which means that our foods leader training meetings must be held in the Cartersville Community House. The Courtroom is available and can be used for other types of training meetings.

3. The need for more club members

This problem is being met by the club members through the planning of more interesting programs, more timely demonstrations, etc.
