

Copyright permission for oral history interviews

Participant's Name: Clyde Edgerton

I voluntarily agree to be interviewed for the historical study of the partial banning of Floatplane Notebooks in Carroll County schools in 1992. I understand the following items will be created from my interview:

- 1) A digital audio recording
- 2) An edited transcript of the recording

I understand that my interview and the items above will be distributed to the public through the VTechworks website for research, educational, and public access.

I further agree to share my interview, and the items above, under the terms of a Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial-ShareAlike 4.0 International Public License. This means that I retain the copyright, but that the public may freely copy, modify, and share these items for non-commercial purposes under the same terms, if they include the original source information.

I have read the attached license and agree to its terms. I understand that this means individuals other than the researcher will be able to access my interview under the terms of the license. I have had any questions about the license answered by the researcher.
