Dear Sam,

Thank you for your email and for taking the time to seek this permission.

When you assigned the copyright in your article to IOP, we granted back to you certain rights, including the right to include the article within any thesis or dissertation.

Therefore, please go ahead and make what use you wish of the article.

The only restriction is that if, at a later date, your thesis were to be published commercially, further permission would be required.

Please let me know if you have any further questions.

In the meantime, I wish you the best of luck with the completion of your dissertation.

Kind regards,

Laura Sharples

To Whom it May Concern,

I name is Samuel Raben and I am a graduate student at Virginia Tech. During my studies I published a paper in your journal that I would like to now use in my dissertation. The journal title is "Adaptive gappy proper orthogonal decomposition for particle image velocimetry data reconstruction" doi:10.1088/0957-0233/23/2/025303. If I could get permission to re-print this in my dissertation that would be greatly appreciated. Thank you very much for your time and let me know if there is any information that I can provide.

Sam-

Given your role as first author and contributions to the paper, I feel it is appropriate to include the paper "Adaptive gappy proper orthogonal decomposition for particle image velocimetry data reconstruction" in your dissertation. You have my permission to include the paper.

-John

Pavlos,
Please send me an email saying whether or not I have your permission to use the Gappy Data paper in my dissertation.
