The mission of the Women's Center is to promote a Virginia Tech community that is safe, equitable, and supportive for women and that celebrates their experiences, achievements, and diversity.

During this time, the Women's Center at Virginia Tech remains dedicated to meeting the needs of all Virginia Tech enrolled students, faculty and staff who have been impacted by gender-based violence and are in need of support. In an effort to protect the health and safety of the Virginia Tech community, the Women's Center will provide advocacy and support services remotely through Zoom and by telephone. You may call the Women's Center at 540-231-7806 Monday through Friday between 8:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. to request an appointment or you can email Christine Dennis Smith.

We will also be sharing resources and programming each week to support you during this pandemic. If you have questions about programming and/or general Women's Center administration and operations, please call the Women's Center at 540-231-7806 or email Anna.LoMascolo .

How can we help?

In order to provide you with the resources and programming that is relevant to what you need, please take a moment to share with us the current needs and challenges you are experiencing during this pandemic.

Staying Safe When 'Staying Home' Isn't Safe

While moving classes online and working remotely may help to reduce the spread of COVID-19, it is not always the safest option for survivors of emotional, physical, and/or sexual abuse.

You can get help developing a safety plan from the Women's Center at Virginia Tech or the Women's Resource Center of the New River Valley .
