Dear Mr. McGuire,

Encyclopædia Britannica is happy to grant you permission to use our illustration "child's position during labour" in your non-commercial dissertation only. We will waive the usual fee and just ask that you include the following credit in your paper: "By courtesy of Encyclopædia Britannica, Inc., copyright 2015; used with permission."

Best regards,

Sylvia Wallace

Dear Jeffrey,

I agree with Dr. Squire, I also approve of you using the figure. However, you can bypass us and get permission from Wiley directly.

Wiley permission to reproduce

- Locate the chapter article/figure you wish to reproduce on Wiley Online Library.
- <https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/action/doSearch?target=default&ContentGroupKey=10.1002/9781118710470>
- Identify the chapter
- Click on the 'Tools' link and then follow the 'Request Permissions' link. The tool link is a picture of a wrench!
- Follow the online instructions and select your requirements from the drop-down options
- Click on 'quick price' to get a quote. For educators and students, it is free.

I use this service all the time with my MS and PhD students when they reproduce images and figures for their theses and dissertations from journal articles and books.

Best regards,

Kim

Kim - I think we and the publishers can grant permission; Sean is retired, I believe. I have no problem with Jeff using this.

I hope you are alright in these strange times!

Dear Jeffery,

Thank you for your email.

Permission is granted for you to use the material requested for your thesis/dissertation subject to the usual acknowledgements (author, title of material, title of book/journal, ourselves as publisher) and on the understanding that you will reapply for permission if you wish to distribute or publish your thesis/dissertation commercially.

You should also duplicate the copyright notice that appears in the Wiley publication in your use of the Material. Permission is granted solely for use in conjunction with the thesis, and the material may not be posted online separately.

Any third-party material is expressly excluded from this permission. If any material appears within the article with credit to another source, authorisation from that source must be obtained.

Please note in your Thesis/Dissertation that the figure has been adapted and to reference the original.

Should you require any further information, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Kind regards,

Paisley Chesters

Licence to Publish

Notice: you are the person first named under the heading ‘Authors and Institutions’ at stage 4 of the online process to ‘Submit a Manuscript’ (referred to as “you/your”). we are the Royal Society, a body incorporated by royal charter, with its place of business at 6-9 Carlton House Terrace, London SW1Y 5AG (referred to as “we/us/our”).

You have indicated your intention to upload the article more fully detailed at stage 1 of the online submission process (the “article”) to be considered for publication by us. In order to publish your article we need you to grant us a licence to publish*. This licence also sets out your rights regarding use of Preprints, Accepted Author Manuscripts and the Definitive Published Version of the article (as defined below). Please read the terms of this licence carefully before uploading the article.

Ticking the box next to the question “Confirm you accept the terms and conditions of the relevant Licence to Publish.” at stage 6 of the online submission process will be taken as assurance that you have read, agree to grant and have the right to grant this licence.

Definitions

“Preprints” - the un-refereed version of the article;

“Accepted Author Manuscript” - your personal copy of the revised version of the article as accepted by us;

“Definitive Published Version” - the citable version of the article produced by us after peer review, copy editing and print and electronic production.

1. You grant to us for the full term of copyright in the article and any extensions thereto the exclusive right throughout the world to edit, adapt, translate, publish reproduce, distribute and display the article in printed, electronic or any other medium and format whether now known or yet to be developed; you agree to publish associated supplementary material under a CC-BY licence*; and
2. You represent to us that:
 - a) the article is your original work, has not previously been published and is not currently under consideration for publication by any other entity;
 - b) in the case of a multi-authored article, you have obtained written authorisation from all the co-authors of the article (if any) to grant this licence to us on their behalf as their agent, and you will supply a copy of the same to us if we so request;
 - c) where any copyright material has been included in the article which has been sourced from third parties (e.g. illustrations, photographs, charts or maps), you have obtained all necessary written authorisations for the reproduction and distribution of these materials as part of the article throughout the world, in all languages and in all media and formats whether now known or yet to be developed and you will supply a copy of the same to us if we so request;

d) if copyright in the article is owned by any third party, whether your employer or someone to whom you have assigned your rights, you have obtained written authorisation from such copyright owner to grant this licence to us on their behalf as their agent and will supply a copy of the same to us if we so request; and

e) the article does not contain anything which is obscene, defamatory, libellous, infringes any right of privacy or any intellectual property right (including without limitation rights in patents, copyright or trademarks) or any other rights of any person or entity, or is otherwise unlawful.

3. You assert your moral right to be identified as the Author or co-author of the article (as applicable). If your article is published, we will provide you with a PDF copy of the published article.
4. If you decide to make the Definitive Published Version of the article open access, this will be under this licence.

You shall pay to us any relevant fee and we shall make the article so available from the later of the date of receipt of the relevant fee or the date of first publication of the article.

5. You retain copyright in the article. However, you authorise us to act on your behalf to defend your copyright in the article should anyone infringe it, and to retain half of any damages awarded after deducting our costs.
6. You retain the right to use the article in the following ways, provided that you acknowledge the Definitive Published Version of the article by placing the full bibliographic reference and URL of the relevant journal homepage close to the title of the article:

a) In relation to the Preprint, Accepted Author Manuscript and Definitive Published Version of the article, you are free to: make copies for your own personal use; use the article for the internal teaching purposes of your own institution or company; and make and distribute copies (including through e-mail) of the article to research colleagues, for personal use by such colleagues on a non-commercial, non-systematic basis.

b) In relation to the Preprint version only, you are free to post it on web sites, including electronic preprint servers.

When the Definitive Published Version of the article is published the Author must acknowledge it by placing the full bibliographic reference and URL of the relevant journal homepage close to the title of the article.

c) In relation to the Accepted Author Manuscript only, you are free to: post it on your personal or institutional web site and load it onto your institutional or subject repository once accepted for publication; use it in compilations of your work subsequent to publication of the Definitive Published Version of the article, expand the article into book-length form, and/or otherwise re-use portions of the Accepted Author Manuscript of the article in other works. you are also free to present the article at a meeting or conference and to disseminate copies of such article to the delegates attending such meeting or conference and/or to use the Accepted Author Manuscript in a thesis or dissertation. A licence of CC-BY may be applied to the Accepted Author Manuscript, as required by some funders.

7. We are entitled to assign our rights under this licence to any third party without giving notice to you.
8. No change or modification of this licence will be valid unless confirmed in writing by us.
9. Failure or delay by us to exercise any right or remedy under this Agreement shall not be deemed to be a waiver of that right or remedy, or prevent us from exercising that or any other right or remedy on any occasion.
10. This licence is terminated in case the article is rejected for publication or the author withdraws the article for consideration for publication before publication has occurred.

US Government contracts

*For US government employees, works created within the scope of their employment are considered to be public domain (the article is not copyrightable in the US) and our publishing agreements do not require a transfer or license of rights for such works. For such works “you/your” is replaced with “United States government”

Where the author has notified us that this is the situation, the copyright line will indicate that the article constitutes a “work of the United States government” and a statement will be included in the article “US government may reproduce, without charge, all or portions of the contribution and may authorize others to do so, for official US government purposes only.”
