

e -TEACH NEWSLETTER

...planting the seeds of education

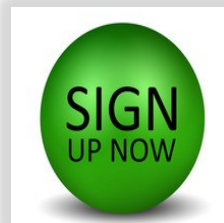

Nominations for TEACH Awards Begin April 1

Education Grand Rounds May 23 @ 7a,12p, 5:30p

FREE Article Highlight New Library Resources for Faculty

Celebrating a TEACH Membership Milestone

Teaching Principles to Improve Medical Education

TEACH Award Nominations

Nominations will open for the new TEACH Awards on April 3rd. Please be thinking of potential nominees for each award category and be ready to nominate!

Scholarship of Teaching and Learning

Feedback

Education Mentorship

Innovative Teaching

Not only do teaching awards provide tangible means of recognizing our exceptional educators, but formal recognition helps to improve faculty vitality and is valuable in the promotions process. Help those educators who have made a profound impact on your learning remain vital and be recognized for their outstanding efforts!

Be on the look-out for the call for nominations that will be sent out at the beginning of April!

TEACH Education Grand Rounds on May 23

TEACH is excited to announce our May 2017 Education Grand Rounds Session. Please join us Tuesday, May 23, for “Active Learning in Large Groups: A Team Sport” presented by Alice Fornari, EdD (Assistant Vice President of Faculty Development, Northwell Health). This session will prepare participants with practical knowledge and experience to confidently and actively educate learners.

You have three opportunities to attend this session on May 23:

7:00 to 8:00 AM held in the CRMH 6th Floor Auditorium

12:00 to 1:00 PM held in the CRMH 6th Floor Auditorium

5:30 to 6:30 PM held in the CRMH 6th Floor Auditorium

Registration Coming Soon!

FREE Article Highlight – New Library Resources for Faculty

February’s Faculty Resources for Educational Excellence (FREE) Newsletter included a great write-up highlighting library resources available to faculty and staff at Virginia Tech Carilion School of Medicine and Carilion Clinic. This piece, written by librarian Rita McCandless, provides a concise and informative overview of new library resources as well as a quick plug for the reference manager Mendeley. Click here to read more (link to FREE article).

Faculty Highlight – Celebrating a TEACH Membership Milestone

TEACH is proud to announce a membership milestone! As of January 2017, TEACH has surpassed 130 active members from throughout Carilion Clinic, Virginia Tech Carilion School of Medicine, Virginia Tech Carilion Research Institute, and Jefferson College of Health Sciences. Thank you all for your continued support of the Academy. We are honored by your growing involvement and dedication. As we continue to grow, TEACH will remain dedicated to promoting learning excellence and fostering a community of educators. Apply today (link to application) to become a part of this growing community.

Successful & Unsuccessful Teaching Principles to Improve Medical Education

To better prepare and assist our faculty in their role as educators, we strive to share any helpful and informative resources that come our way. Dr. Stephen Davis recently shared a one-page handout outlining two successful teaching skills that overcome 7 of the top ten unsuccessful teaching attributes/skills. Try using the information from this handout (link to handout) to self-assess and identify areas you want to work on within your teaching. For more information and resources from Dr. Davis’ group, visit the website for the Centers for Osteopathic Research and Education (CORE) at Ohio University Heritage College of Osteopathic Medicine:

<https://www.ohio.edu/medicine/about/offices/academic-affairs/faculty-development/>

Become a TEACH member!

Application link here

TEACH

medicine.vtc.vt.edu/teach
TEACH@carilionclinic.org

Upcoming TEACH Activities

link here