

Impacts of Land and Ownership Characteristics
on the Stumpage Prices for Virginia's Nonindustrial Forests

By
Curtis H. Hensyl

Thesis submitted to the Faculty of Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University in partial fulfillment of the requirements for the degree of Master of Science
In Forestry

APPROVED:

Jay Sullivan, Chair
Associate Professor, Forest Economics

Greg Amacher
Associate Professor, Forest Economics

Robert Shaffer
Professor, Industrial Forestry Operations

3/17/2005

Blacksburg, Virginia

Keywords: Forest Fragmentation, Procurement, Timber Markets