Hello Dr. Jindra,

I am a Ph.D. student at Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University. I have published a paper in Insect Biochemistry and Molecular Biology entitled: Biochemical identification of residues that discriminate between 3,4-dihydroxyphenylalanine decarboxylase and 3,4-dihydroxyphenylacetaldehyde synthase-mediated reactions.

I want to put this paper in my dissertation as one chapter, and I need your permission. Could you please email me the permission for adding this paper as a chapter in my dissertation. Thank you so much!

Sincerely,
Jing

Dear Jing,

Yes it is OK to use your IBMB paper as part of your dissertation. If this assurance is not sufficient, please contact the publisher Dale Seaton <D.Seaton@Elsevier.com> for official permission.

Best regards,

Marek Jindra

Hi Jing,

Yes that is absolutely fine, and you may use this email message as permission.

Thank you for checking.

Best regards

Dale
